In concluding his letter accepting the gift he gave some snuff reminiscences crop is not very brisk. There has been of the past, as follows : considerable doing in '81 during the last When Martin Van Buren was vice presiweek. The buyers are nearly all here and get out over the county very generally. They insist that the early purchases were too high, and that those holding the goods dent he was possessed of a gold snuff-box. They insist that the early purchases were too high, and that those holding the goods will be bitten, though it is certain that the cream of the crop was lifted by those who were earliest in the field. As the first of April approaches, some of the smallend of every week thereafter he handed me fifty cents to pay for the snuff. When his term expired I gave him the snuff-box. He left the city soon after, and forer growers become more anxious to sell, and it is claimed that some tobacco has got to give me the fifty cents that he had been taken the last week for from 15 to 18 as good as crops which brought from 22 to These claims are not, however, exceptional in any year's crop. As a rule the prices run lower than they did in the fall, but purchasers know bet-ter now what they are getting, and not so much is sold by the length of leaf as earlier in the season. The money market promises to be very easy this "First," and not many people will be buildcard call to him a page to bring him a pinch of snuff, and if he could not see any one of the pages he would leave his seat and walk up to the vice president's table, take up the gold snuff box, take a pinch, and return to his seat and resume his speech. and not many people will be bulldozed into selling their crops below a fair price. Richard M. Johnson and John Tyler were neither of them snuffers, and there-The approach of general settling day has facilitated deliveries, and a good deal of fore I had to furnish my own snuff-box, but when George M. Dallas was vice president he brought with him a very handsome gold snuff-box and gave it to tobacco will be brought in this and next weeks. It is estimated that two-thirds of last year's crop has been sold, and by April 1, not more than a fourth of it will me in charge, and after his time expired I be left unsold.
