RESCUED FROM DEATH. The following statement of William J. Coughlin, of Somerset, Pa., is remarkable. We beg to ask for it the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs followed by a severe cough, loss of appetite and loss of flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital, White Horse street, and there I had my life saved by my long suffering wife, a half-courier. I expended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicine. I was so far gone at one time I repented that I was around. One day my wife had a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification I commenced to feel better. My hope, one day, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have for three years. m28-2d

COLUMBIA NEWS.

OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE. Affairs Along the Susquehanna—Gleanings in and Around the Borough Picked up by the Intelligence's Reporter.

Tow Hill was in an uproar of excitement yesterday afternoon, about 3 o'clock, by the report that a little colored girl had been murdered. Investigation revealed the following facts: A worthless negro, named "Sun" Holsinger, has for a long time been in the habit of popping and firing in a most disgraceful manner. He has been sent to jail several times for doing so, but it does not make him any better. A few weeks since he returned to Columbia, having served a sixty-day sentence in jail for popping and firing.

He was yesterday afternoon, after having a fuss with another colored man, he went home and began cursing his wife. This finally turned to blows. The wife, who is a most respectable woman, was so much injured that she had to be taken to the hospital. Her screams attracted the attention of the neighbors, but no attempt was made to interfere except by George Crispy, who went to the house, entered the complaint, and in company with Officer Stuck, returned to the house to arrest the drunken brute. But he was not there, probably having been warned. A pursuit was organized, among those of whom was his little daughter Annie, who was seen running in front of her father, crying that she could not catch him, and that she was afraid of him.

He was yesterday afternoon, after having a fuss with another colored man, he went home and began cursing his wife. This finally turned to blows. The wife, who is a most respectable woman, was so much injured that she had to be taken to the hospital. Her screams attracted the attention of the neighbors, but no attempt was made to interfere except by George Crispy, who went to the house, entered the complaint, and in company with Officer Stuck, returned to the house to arrest the drunken brute. But he was not there, probably having been warned. A pursuit was organized, among those of whom was his little daughter Annie, who was seen running in front of her father, crying that she could not catch him, and that she was afraid of him.
