

Lancaster Intelligencer.

SATURDAY EVENING, APRIL 1, 1882.

SPRING HAS COME.

The primrose in the valley blooms, The snow-drop swains its silent bells; The willow droops its tangled plumes;

Long sweeps of tender grass ascend The hillside towards the melting snows, And where the alighting patches end, Full-flowered the low arbutus blows.

A duller sense than mine should feel The stir in nature's warming soul; It makes the shouting bluebirds reel, And bursts the violet's twisted scroll.

O sudden darkness of the heart! O fruitless torpor of the brain! When will your clouds and frosts depart, When shall I come to life again?

-Geo. H. Baker.

Odds and Ends.

An Irish lady complimented the Empress of Austria on the beauty of her eyes, and the Empress replied: "The poor eyes! It is a wonder there is any lustre left in them. If you only knew what floods of scalding tears have poured from them!"

The Duchess of Madrid (Don Carlos' wife) sent to Rome a magnificent cope, embroidered by her own hands, as a present to the Pope. When the cope arrived at the Vatican it was found to be filled with rags, the precious cope having been stolen in transit on the railway.

Mrs. Tyler was the only lady ever married in the White House to a president. Jackson was a widower during his one presidential term; Fillmore married his second wife after his retirement; Buchanan was the only bachelor president, and Arthur is yet a widower.

The May Century is to have a brilliant list of contributors. Thomas Carlyle, James Russell Lowell, Edmund Clarence Steadman, W. D. Howells, Mrs. Frances Hodgson Burnett, Archibald Forbes, Constance Fenimore Woolson, John G. Saxe, Frank R. Stockton, Edward Everett Hale, Andrew Lang, Richard Grant White, "Uncle Remus" and H. C. Barker, are names known in many fields of literature. Elihu Vedder furnishes the second of his cover designs for special numbers, and his frontispiece portrait of James Russell Lowell is said to be an excellent likeness.

A prominent manufacturer in Massachusetts has recently subscribed for more than three hundred copies of St. Nicholas, to be sent to the children of his employees. They were paid for from a fund which had been set aside for educational purposes. The Magazine of the magazine will have special features in the way of illustrations which will surpass anything that St. Nicholas has done heretofore.

A Boston correspondent of the Chicago Advance writes: "The old lady is the only one of the New England states that does not observe a day of fast. The suggestion is made every year that the annual fast come upon Good Friday. The old Puritans have hitherto objected to this on the ground that their day was a high day, and they could not conscientiously come under the banner of the 'Church' calendar. It is well known that our state has come to be a 'high-day,' in a very bad sense. And now the pious churchmen turn upon the suggestion to bend the two days into one, and make it with the keener sarcasm, by saying their God Friday is a sacred day to the church and they do not wish to see it desecrated and destroyed by the unbridled license and revelries of the state annual fast."

Dr. Bliss on Dr. Bliss. St. Louis Globe Democrat. Dr. Bliss' retention in the case was caused by a misunderstanding between the president and Mrs. Garfield on the one side, and Dr. Baxter and myself on the other; and I can say also that the misunderstanding was brought about purposely and solely by Dr. Bliss himself. It was what he had said to Dr. Baxter and myself that induced us to believe that it was the wish of the president and Mrs. Garfield that he should continue in charge of the case.

There were full markets to-day at the Central and Farmers' Northern, and not many changes in prices. Butter went off at 40c per pound, eggs 28c per dozen, and poultry scarce and high; dressed chickens selling readily at 50c each, and live ones scarce at any price. Spinach, salad and other early greens were more abundant than usual. Fish, shad were larger and lower in price; other fish unchanged. The butchers made an unusually fine display of meats of all kinds at the usual prices. We quote as follows:

Table of market prices for various goods including Butter, Eggs, Poultry, and Meats.

Table of market prices for various goods including Flour, Corn, and Beans.
