

Lancaster Intelligencer.

TUESDAY EVENING, MARCH 4, 1882.

MARRIED AND BURIED.

For the INTELLIGENCER. The orange blossoms faded lie, Beneath the yew tree, And that fair one, whose brow they grace, Alas! oh, where is she?

Oh! where the spell of her sweet smile, That gladdened us to find? And where the clasp of her soft hand, So gentle and so kind?

Oh! where has fled, where bideth now Her noble, soft life? A friend to me, and more to them, A sister, daughter, wife!

The grave can't hide the life she lived, Nor Death, with its endeavor, E'er touch the sacred memories shrouded In all our hearts forever!

Oh, Death, where is thy boasted sting? And, Grave, thy victory? But ah! perhaps, thy shafts were aimed At her loved ones and me?

Then felt thy sting, thy victory true, 'Tis we who know the pain; 'Tis we who bend beneath the loss, While her's is lost in gain.

Oh! cruel Death and pitiless; How couldst thou stand aside? The marriage feast and know each smile Was pregnant with a tear?

Thy darkened shadow fell almost There at the altar side, When, never thinking then of this, I saw her made a bride!

And now, oh Death, this hand that sought With joy thy way to pave, Has helped to bear the bride away, Has helped to make her grave!

Oh, Death! to leave my friend thus wed Unto a memory! And thus to turn my marriage song Into a threnody! W. F. M.

Good Sense From a Conservative Source. Philadelphia Ledger. Mason's apologists, attempting to make shelter for him behind the skirts of a woman and a baby, are begging the whole question. The one redeeming feature of the Giteau trial was the patience which the American public, well assured of the crime and burning with righteous indignation, bore towards the miserable wretch, the safety which they assured to him in the name of the law, precisely as an innocent man is sheltered until charges against him are disproved. The strength which enables the public to guarantee even this foul mouthed wretch the fullest freedom of trial and safe conduct until justice is declared, was a high test of American character. The petitions for Mason's release have been throwing all this way. Mason had no more provocation, no more indignation, no more wrong to avenge than any spectator in the crowded court room. Yet no spectator fired at Giteau, and yet no spectator was bound as Mason was, by his military loyalty and his orders on guard to keep the prisoner secure. Unless every policeman on his best, and every prison keeper and soldier guard duty is to be warranted, now and hereafter, in law-breaking violence upon prisoners in charge. Sergeant Mason, like any other man who takes the law into his own hands, should suffer the penalty of his defiance of orders and treachery to his trust. Other offenders have wives and babies, too, but these are not arguments—though they may both have help and pity of a high-minded people.

Concerning Fish. The opening of the trout season was formally celebrated on Saturday in New York by a trout exhibition at Fulton Market. There were trout of all varieties from Rhode Island, Massachusetts, New Hampshire, Vermont, Wisconsin, New York, Canada, England and Scotland at other places. The exhibition was largely attended during the day.

The Marietta Times, commenting on a suggestion of the Record that farmers should pay more attention to fish culture, says "there are hundreds of farmers in this state engaged in that business now. In most cases they have a pond or a stream of any size running through their farms have made application to the state fishery commission, and in some cases obtained a number of trout, carp or bass, and stocked their streams or ponds. In most cases they have been successful, especially with carp, and in a few years they will depend upon fish for a subsistence as much as upon any other farm produce."

Early Prover. It is easily proven that malaria, fever, consumption, torpidity of the liver and kidneys, nervousness, and neuralgic ailments yield readily to this great disease breaker. It repairs the ravages of disease by converting the food into rich blood, and it gives new life and vigor to the aged and infirm. Price 25¢ per bottle. Sold by all druggists.

Sowing and Reaping. When a young lady hems handkerchiefs for a rich bachelor she sows that she may reap. When seeds of virtue are planted through indulgence, you can prevent the undertaker from reaping the benefit by using Spring Blossoms. Price 25¢ per bottle. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 127 North Queen street, Lancaster.

Universal Application. By the community at large has been given to Burdock Blood Bitters. Where dissatisfaction has been manifested by their use, or where might be better followed by their administration. Price 25¢. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 127 North Queen street, Lancaster.

Honorable Mention. Of all the remedies on earth that will claim attention, Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil commands especial mention. For wondrous power to cure disease, its fame is known. Its merits are not in the puff, but are inside the bottle. Rheumatism, neuralgia, sore throat, asthma, diphtheria, etc., are all cured by Thomas' Electric Oil. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 127 North Queen street, Lancaster.

MONDAY, APRIL 3d. MEDICAL. REIGART'S OLD WINE STORE. Brandy as a Medicine.

Indigestion and Dyspepsia. BRANDY AS A MEDICINE. This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potency in the cure of some of the destructive diseases which sweep away their annual thousands of victims. With a purely philanthropic motive we present to the favorable notice of invalids—especially those afflicted with that miserable disease, Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than Brandy.

REIGART'S OLD BRANDY. Sold by our enterprising young friend, H. E. SLAYMAKER. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandy. No matter with how many law-breaking French titles they are branded. One-fourth of the money is returned to you on every bottle. Impotent dyspepsia specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case of it. In proof of the specific's power over Regart's Old Brandy, we can summon numbers of witnesses—one case in particular we cite.
