After Many Days. Several years ago a colored Yankee by the name of John Heiller, from near Lock Haven, while descending the Susquehanna on a raft, being barefooted, trod upon a broken bottle, cutting his right foot severely in several places. He was taken ashore at Harrisburg, where one of the doctors extracted several pieces of glass, at the same time telling Heiller that they were all out. He suffered several months from the wounds, and at one time it was feared he would take the lockiaw. But he recovered, and since then has every spring been "running" the river. One day last week he came down on a raft which tied up at Columbia. He felt a tingling sensation in his right shin near the knee. Thinking it was only a slight indication of rheumatism, he procured a bottle of linament and rubbed the painful limb. He made his trip down the river, but the pain increased, so much so in fact, that he was unable to do his work. At a point below Columbia, and near Peach Bottom, the raft tied up again and a doctor was sent for. He came and examined the leg, and near the knee, where the pain was most intense, found a lump about the size of a walnut. The colored man told the do tor of his accident, who with a small kuife made an incision and extracted a piece of glass nearly a half inch in length by a quarter of an inch in width. The doctor said the reason the a friend-Peace to his ashes-and as we shed a was because it had cut into the bone, and in extricating it had broken it off From that point it had worked its way to its present locality. Heiller was forced to stay down near Peach Bottom until this morning, whom he came to Columbia in the Port Deposit train, and started for his home on the 10 o'clock train. Pretty Grounds.

One of the handsomest grounds in Columbia, is that which surround the home Tar. Pike's Toothache Drops cure in one of 'Squire and C. J. Young. Rose bushes, flower stands, fruit trees, of nearly every description, are situated in convenient and attractive places. Part of the grounds have been reserved for croquet, and every evening in summer lovers of that healthful game congregate. Swings are also provided, as are benches. At present it looks beautiful, as the buds and leaves are just popping forth. Taken as a whole, a more home-like or finer piece of grounds Brown's Iron Bitters. cannot be found in Columbia. A Case for the Charitable.

On Saturday morning last a young child of Mrs. Lizzie Moffie, living on Front street near the round house, died and was not buried until last evening. The neighbors knowing the lady's circumstances reported the matter to the proper authorities who investigated it. The lady informed them that she was too poorto bury the child, or she would have done so before. The body was then taken in charge of and interred last evening.

Meeting of the Homeopathic Medical So ciety.

A regular meeting of the homeopathic medical society of Lancaster county was held yesterday at Columbia, and was well attended by members from Mt. Joy, Marietta, Lancaster and the county.

An election of officers for the ensuing year was first in order, and the following were elected : President, Dr. O. T. Huebner; Recording Secretary, Dr. W. D. Bollinger; Corresponding Secretary, Dr. Taylor; Treasurer, Dr. Harry.

A discussion followed upon the best methods of treating scrofulous disorders. Several specifics for the early phases of the disorder were reported as successfuly used. After comparing notes with reference to the existing acute disorders, the following resolution was unanimously passed:

Resolved. That it is the sense of this meeting that since homeopathic physiciaus have, against great opposition on the part of the old school of medicine, established for themselves an honored position in the estimation of the community, there is now no advantage or honor to be derived by F. Drake, esq., Cleveland, O., suffered beyond them in consulting with allopaths; and hence the recent action of the allopathic medical society of the state of New York was entirely gratuitous.

The meeting adjourned to convene at Lancaster on the second Tuesday of June.

Forepaugh's Advertisers.

Last evening advertising car No. 2, of Adam Forepaugh's circus arrived in this city from Philadelphia, This is a very handsome car, which is in charge of J. J. Showls, who has ten assistants. They filled all the prominent windows in the city with lithographs and did work in the country to-day. The railroad excursion brigade, consisting of George H. Murray and several others, arrived to day also.

> OBITUARY. Charles G. Bhoads.

" Death loves a shining mark." How apt the expression when applied to the subject of this sketch; while yet in the bloom of manhood, looking forward to a future full of usefulness, surrounded by happy thoughts, full of the eagerness of life, and leaving behind only a glad recollection of a life well spent we are called upon to mourn his loss. I have no hesitation in saying, that the death of Charles G. Rhoads leaves a void that can scarce be filled. While not largely identified with public affairs, his career was such as to leave a bright example to the young of the present age. Industrious, sober, mature might say beyond his years, he leaves a re cord that may well be taken advantage of by hose who are growing up to manhood.

"While yet in love with life and raptured with the world, he pa-sed to slience and pathetic dust." The ways of Providence are truly inscrutible and beyo d understanding; yet, when death enters a happy household and takes therefrom the loved one, to whom all look up for advice when needed, encouragement when wanted, reproof when necessary, we often wonder, whether "He who doeth all things well," may not in the near future show us the reason why.

What an admonition the decease of our friend demonstrates-the trailty of human life -well may we pause and reflect as to whom next may be called to pass the portals of that yonder land, from whose bourne no traveler

In his family relations he was generous to a tault, and his large circle of mourning trien.is remain to honor his memory, and bear testimony to his worth as a citizen, as a tather, as Harrisburg doctor did not know it was in parting tear over his remains, let us hope that our loss was his gain. 1..

RESCUED FROM DEATH The following statement of William J Cough lin, of Somerville, alass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs tollowed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital, While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half coltar. 1 expended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicine. Father Walsh, of Connecticut, treasa gros-grain, warp of one color and woof of another; which would give remittances since the last convention, giving receipts by states, Massachusetts heading the list with $41,317; the receipts from Pennsylvania were $7,298, New York $10,134, Maryland $2,027, New Jersey $991. The total receipts since the formation of the League were $180,589. Up to the present time there had been remitted to Ireland $169,262.

The report was frequently interrupted with applause, three cheers being given chusetts was announced. The delegates from New York and California inquired if the report included all the receipts from those states-they knew the amounts were greater than announced by the report. The chairman explained that the treasurer reported only what he received himself, and not what was sent direct to Ireland, nd that the secretary's report would show full receipts.
