BLOODY PRESCOTT.

KILLING HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW.

Angered Because His Breakfast was Cold, He Struck Her With a Shovel, and the Victim being Mrs. Mary Russell, aged seventy-nine, who was killed by her son-in-law, Edwin H. Prescott, aged sixty-six. Mrs. Russell's daughter, who is Prescott's second wife, was in Boston in the forenoon and on her return was met at the door of her house by her husband, who told her he had just killed her mother. The horrified woman ran to the police station and brought officers to the scene, who searching the premises, found lying in a back shed the body of Mrs. Russell with her skull fractured, her face staved in and her throat cut from ear to ear. The murderer was secured and taken to jail. It seems that Prescott came down stairs in the morning and found his breakfast cold. He made a remark about it to Mrs. Russell, to which she replied tauntingly. He then went after her as she was going to the shed off the kitchen with a household utensil in her hand. He caught her as she was descending the two or three connecting steps and she fell down. In the struggle she got him under and aimed several blows at him with the article in her hand. This angered him, and turning her under him he reached and got a brick which was lying upon the latter's recent remembrance, but it is generally conceded as a Cameron appointment. Mr. Francis said that he would not take the position of charge d'affaires to Denmark, but would accept the place were it raised to the grade of minister. This desired step has been taken. Francis is editor of the Troy, N. Y., Times. Badaeu was nominated out of personal deference to General Grant, who also backed Taft's application for a place under the present administration.

STALWARTS ABROAD.

FILLING THE FOREIGN MISSIONS.

Mr. Arthur Sends in Another Batch of Nominations, Including That of Dr. Wickersham.

Washington dispatch to the Times.—The interesting matter of the day was the nomination by the president of a number of stalwarts to positions in the diplomatic service. Alphonso Taft, of Ohio, was named to be minister to Austria; William L. Dayton, of New Jersey, minister to the Netherlands; Nicholas Fish, of New York, minister to Belgium; John M. Francis, of New York, charge d'affaires to Portugal; J. P. Wickersham, of Pennsylvania, charge d'affaires to Denmark; Adam Badeau, of New York, consul general to Havana; and Harry L. Slaight, of New York, consul at Prescott. The nominations cause a good deal of comment as being a batch of stalwart appointments in pursuance of the policy of the administration. That Taft was to go in for Austria has heretofore been announced with confidence, but the fact that he would be so handsomely provided for was quite a surprise. Messrs. Fish and Francis have been talked of, and Mr. Wickersham was mentioned among the possibilities. The latter is claimed as the only Independent in the list, but Senator Cameron is one of his backers his orthodoxy is unquestioned. The friends of Mr. Mitchell are inclined to felicitate themselves on Mr. Wickersham's nomination as the first accorded that senator and as consequent upon the latter's recent remembrance, but it is generally conceded as a Cameron appointment. Mr. Francis said that he would not take the position of charge d'affaires to Denmark, but would accept the place were it raised to the grade of minister. This desired step has been taken. Francis is editor of the Troy, N. Y., Times. Badaeu was nominated out of personal deference to General Grant, who also backed Taft's application for a place under the present administration.

A SHERIFF IN TROUBLE.

Proceedings to Oust a York County Official.

Argument was had before the deputy attorney general yesterday on an application for writ of quo warranto, having for its object the ousting of Sheriff Altman, of York county. An affidavit was filed by a former deputy of the sheriff, named Heindel, setting forth that in consideration of his support for Altman for nomination and election he should receive the position of deputy sheriff. Heindel, who was recently discharged from the sheriff's employ, also presented an agreement, purporting to be signed by Altman and Heindel, embodying the said declaration made in the latter's affidavit. Senator Ross' name appears on the paper, indicating that he was a witness to the transaction, but he denied that he affixed his signature. A man named Smith also stated that Altman had promised him a position as deputy sheriff if he supported him. Sheriff Altman stated that the allegations made against him were false and at the request of his lawyers the hearing was continued to allow counter affidavits to be filed in the attorney general's office.

CHARLES ROBERT DARWIN.

Death of the Famous Author of "The Origin of Species" and "The Descent of Man."

Charles Robert Darwin, one of the most famous scientific writers of the present day, died yesterday at his home, Down House, near Orington, England. He was the son of the late Dr. Robert Darwin, the author of the "Botanic Garden," "Zoonomia" and other works, which contained the germs of the theories afterwards formulated by his grandson, Charles Darwin. Darwin was born at Shrewsbury, February 12, 1809, and was graduated at Cambridge in 1831. The same year he sailed in H. M. ship Beagle as volunteer naturalist in the scientific exploring expedition around the world, and on his return published a most interesting "Journal of Researches into Geology and Natural History." In 1839 he married his cousin, Emma Wedgwood, granddaughter of Josiah Wedgwood, the potter, and shortly after published the "Zoology of the voyage of the Beagle," a treatise on "Coral Reefs," and one on "Volcanic Islands," and a volume of "Geological Observations." These were followed by a somewhat famous map and graph on the Cirripedes and in 1859 appeared the "Origin of Species by Means of Natural Selection," a book which attracted great attention all over the world and established the author's fame as a leader of modern scientific thought. A work in which large knowledge and close observation were joined with a power of clear and brilliant generalization that captivated the reader, and although but a part of the doctrine therein set forth was Darwin's own, he has nevertheless given it his name, and "Darwinism" has become an accepted term in popular speech.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

What Has Been Worrying the world in General.

A widow, named Angers, was found murdered in her bed at St. Sauveur, Cam, yesterday morning. A man named Mitchell, has been arrested, charged with the crime.

John S. Zebley, a thirteen year old boy, employed in the Diamond state mills, Wilmington, was caught between the rollers and drawn through them. He was horribly mangled and died shortly afterwards.

Anna Hines, 18, was found drowned in the canal at Cohoes. Her hat and shawl were found on the bank. It is supposed that she committed suicide, but there are rumors of foul play.

Ellis Cross, who was shot on Tuesday by her lover, John Shriver, in Philadelphia, is believed to be out of imminent danger and her ultimate recovery is possible. Young Shriver during the day was admitted to bail in the sum of $10,000, and removed to his home.

In Syracuse, N. Y., Patrick Horrigan, 30 years of age, while delirious, escaped from the custody of his friends at midnight and was found dead in the garden of a neighbor next morning. His death was probably caused by the rupture of a blood vessel of the brain.

Thomas J. Walter, fireman on a freight train of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, was killed by jumping from his train. The train collided with two empty freight cars, which had been blown by the wind from a switch to the main track. Joseph Coussens, the engineer, was thrown from the engine and severely injured.

An execution has been issued against the managers of the Zoological garden, Philadelphia, to recover damages for injuries received by a man named Cole, who claims to have been hurt by one of the society's keepers while he was looking into a cage in the year 1876. He was awarded $1,500 damages in his suit, and the counsel for the society was preparing to appeal the case to the supreme court when the execution was served.

The residents of Westchester are very much excited over the mysterious disappearance of Policemen John Haydock and Michael Toumey, the jail keeper of the TOWNSHIP, NEITHER OF WHOM HAS BEEN SEEN OR HEARD OF FOR SEVERAL DAYS PAST.

It is alleged they had some connection with a gang of New York repeaters, who came over and voted at the recent election. Five of the latter were arrested at the time and are now in jail awaiting trial.

The Democratic congressional committee has appointed a board of control, consisting of Representatives Flower, of New York; Rosecrans, of California; Cobb, of Indiana; and Randall, of Pennsylvania; Senator Davis, of West Virginia; and Gorman, of Maryland, and J. R. McLean, of Ohio; C. C. Baldwin, of New York, and J. P. Stockton, of New Jersey. Several new members were added to the general committee and a sub-committee was appointed on finance.

The large bonded warehouse at the Broadford distillery, in Fayette county, gave way about 2 o'clock yesterday morning under the great pressure exerted by the 4,300 barrels of whisky stored away in it. Hundreds of the barrels collapsed and the liquor ran down into the Young river. Men and boys ran with buckets and jugs to get a part of the flowing juice. Others got down on their knees and sipped the fluid to their heart's content. The loss of the whisky cannot be estimated exactly as yet, but will probably amount to several hundred barrels.

The people of Camden are excited over the trichinosis poisoning of the two small Ryan children. The little urchins are expected to die from the effects of eating the small quantities of ham supposed to have been affected with the terrible trichinosis spirals parasite. Both children—John, three years and seven months old, and James, one year and seven months—were in a condition of mingled convulsions and coma all day yesterday, with their extremities fast swelling and all the evidences of the mysterious and fatal malady becoming more pronounced.

Paralytic strokes, heart disease, and kidney ailments prevented by the use of Iron Bitters.

Satisfactory. Mrs. Wallace, Buffalo, N. Y., writes: "I have used Burdock Blood Bitters for nervous and bilious headaches, and have recommended them to my friends; I believe them superior to any other medicine I have used, and can recommend them to anyone requiring a cure for biliousness." Price $1. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 137 North Queen Street, Lancaster.

We have the lower grades from $6 a suit downward, and higher grades from $10 a suit upward; but to-day ask attention to ten styles of good, solid, honest and tasteful things of moderate cost.
