PROMPT PURSUIT AND CAPTURE

An Exciting Chase by the People of Witmer. There were a good many people gath ered at the little station of Witmer, between this city and Bird-in-Hand, early this morning, intending to take the train for Laucaster to see the circus. Among them were the family of Mr. Joshua Rutt, a farmer, who lives next to Christian Musseiman His servant girl went to the station to see them off. Meantime three young men, strapgers to the place, were observed by Dr. Henry Musser to be loaf-ing about. They had bought tickets for Lancaster, but as the Rutt family came up they moved off. They were seen to go toward Rutt's house and stop at the pump to take a drink. The train being behind time the hired girl went back to the house and found it had been entered and robbed. She quickly carried the news to Mr. Rutt, who was plowing in a field near by, and upon hasty examination be found the drawers, chests, etc., had te n ransacked and gold silver and notes to the amount of $600. and possibly papers of value, were taken. They had not been a half hour ahead of their pursuers They were headed off and meantime Froelich had driven to Whiteside's and borrowed a gun. The thieves were overtaken and they got inside of the fence at the water trough. Dr. Musser got out of the wagon and reached for one of them, but they made off across the fields toward the nouncement of which has for some time dam of B. F. MEDICAL.

REIGART'S OLD WINE STORE. Brandy as a Medicine.

The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. E. Siaymaker, Agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practising physician of this county, who has extensively used the Frandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the attention of those affilicted with Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

BRANDY AS A MEDICINE.

This now much abused Alcoholic Stimulant was never intended as a beverage, but to be used as a medicine of great potenty in the cure of some of the destructive disease which sweep away their annual thousands of victime.

With a purely philanthropic motive we present to the favorable notice of invalide—especially those afflicted with that miserable disease Dyspepsia, a specific remedy, which is nothing more or less than

Brandy. The aged, with feeble appetite and more of less debility, will find this simple medicine when used properly, A Sovereign Remedy or all their fils and aches. Be it, however strictly understood that we prescribe and us out one article, and that is REIGART'S OLD BRANDY. Sold by our enterprising young friend, H E SLAYMAKER. This Brandy has stood the test for years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the prelevence over all other Brandies no matter with how many jaw-breaking French titles they are branded. One fourth of the money that is yearly thrown away on various impotent dyspepsia specifics would suffice to buy all the Brandy to cure any such case of a sec. In proof of the curative powers of

in cases of Dyspepsia, we can summon numbers of witnesses—one case in particular we cite:A hard-working farmer had been afticted A hard-working farmer had been afficted with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had sour eructations constantly—uo appetite—in fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used McGrann's Root Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now preached at times, and in his discourses often declaimed earnestly against all kinds of strong drink. When advised to try Reigart's Old Brandy. In his case, he looked up with astonianment but after hearing of its wonderful effects in the cases of some of his near acquaintances, he at last consented to follow our advice. He used the Brandy faithfully and steadily; the first bottle giving him an appetite, and before the second was taken he was a sound man, with a stomach capable of digesting anything which he chose to eat. He still keeps it and uses a little occasionally; and since he has this medicine he has been of very little pecuniary benefit to the doctor.—A Practising Prysician.

These have just come and now is the best time to see them. There's no scarcity; but there will be a scarcity of good patterns long before the buying time is over. Nobody wants to have any left at the end of the season. Everybody plans to have a searcity before the buying time ends.

Surah, gros-grain and satin merveilleux of every color required to match them; and that is a piece of rare good news,

Camel's-hair grenadines of ten pretty patterns of silk plaid and check at 75 and 85 cents. We have been offered the very same grenadines at $1, which means that they are worth $1.25 at retail. We happen to have got one and two pieces of each of these ten patterns at 75 and 85 cents a yard.

Black albatross of four qualities, 371/2 to 60 cents : 40 to 45

Now forget that we've been selling the 60-cent quality at 371/2 cents. If we get any more of it, so that we can sell it at that price, we shall be very glad. Meantime we are giving a full money's-worth on all; and a quarter more than the money'sworth on one—the 37½ cent 40 inch.

Next-outer circle, Chestnut-street entrance. Flannel with silk embroidered dots is new; 75 cents:

navy-blue with white dots, navy-blue with cardinal dots, light-blue with pink dots, light-blue with lighter-blue dots, mazazine with white dots, black with white dots, Matalasse flannel at 50 cents, is new; it is not new at 60; but the 50 cent quality is not so fine and soft.

Such a collection of flannels is hardly to be seen anywhere; about 150 different stripes and plaids; all the plain colors you can think of; and white of more sorts, qualities and textures than in variety of patterns, but in richness of effects and even of textures. The weather so far has kept back the sale of them; and the assortment is best now.

Next outer-circle, Chestnut street entrance. Axminster, moquette, brus sels, tapestry and ingrain carpets are at their best now; and we are able to do more carpet work than we are doing; besides, more room is getting ready. Mattings are at their best,

French handkerchiefs, both sizes, 200 samples, no two alike, sent over as newest things by our resident buyer; probably not a dozen of them are in the market yet.
