Taylor's full orchestra furnished the music and the grand promenade (a new and novel one), led by the last of the above named gentlemen, was participated in by some thirty-five couples. All present voted the affair an entire success, the brilliancy of the occasion being much heightened by the elegant dress of the ladies.

Flower Thieves About. Complaint is made by residents of North Duke street of the depredations of petty thieves, who about twilight or later enter the front yards and strip the gardens of their flowers and plants. The Deaner garden, always a place of beauty in the spring and summer, has suffered severely from this sort of thievery, and there have been other instances of the same in the neighborhood of Duke and Lemon streets. A little extra vigilance on the part of the police and the arrest and prompt punish ment of the culprits might serve to put an end to what is more than a simple annoyance and should be treated as nothing less than larceny.

Baby coaches we are in earnest about. All we sell we warrant for a year. Mr. H. J. Shill, jr., well enough known to the babies of Philadelphia, looks after them for us.

If we should speak after the manner of many, we should say that we made our own. We buy the gears from the various gear makers, the bodies from the various body makers, and the tops from the various top makers. So you can have any gear, any body, any top, put together as you like, upholstered as you like, price as you like.

There's as big a difference in baby carriages as in bigger coaches. By spending a halfhour with Mr. Shill here, you shall learn the whole anatomy of them.
