this city at 2:20 this afternoon, bringing with him a full description of the gold watch and an order from Mr. Frederick Blessing for its delivery to him. He said that there were never but four of these watches made with Crinkshank's name upon them, and he had the numbers of four of them. He said further that the watch belonged to Mr. Crickshank, a Harrisburg jeweler, who loaned it to Mr. Blessing during the time his own watch was being repaired; and that it was stolen from Mr. Blessing's house last Monday, by burglars, who at the same time stole about $7 in money. As conclusive evidence that the watch was as he stated, Chief Cilly told Chief Deichler that if he would open the seal attached to it he would find therein a five cent piece. Chief Deichler by advice of counsel declined to give up the watch, though per-fectly satisfied of its identity. Chief Cilly and Mr. Wilson then paid a visit to the county prison to take a look at an old time Maying party. the prisoner.

The Ruth Robbery.

The three young men, Wm. Clark, Geo. Watkins and Edward E. Beck, who were arrested on last Monday week for robbing the house of Joshua Ruth of about $600 in money, (the particulars of which appeared in the INTELLIGENCER at the time), had a hearing before Alderman the hall of the K. of M. C., on Locust spurrier yesterday afternoon. They were street in the Herald building on Friday fully identified by Mr. Ruth, Dr. Musser and others, and Mr. Ruth identified the their flight, as belonging to him and as being stolen from his house. In default of his twenty-third year at his home in Col bail the accused were committed to jail to umbia. auswer at court.

Persons who are desirous of securing any of the chance articles should be sure to have their names down before 9 o'clock this evening, as that will be their last opportunity. In the voting the chief interest lies in the chair, the harness, the furniture, sewing machine and a number of others. The polls will be open unti to-morrow night at 9 o'clock, and after all the awards have been made to the winners in the voting and the chancing all the articles that remain will be sold at auction. So that to night and to-morrow night will likely witness the liveliest scenes yet enacted at the fair.

Last night the following articles were chanced off: A door mut on Miss Kate geant White, of Bedford county, and Mr. Kelly's table to Miss Maggie Peoples; George W. Tribute to Emerson.

Rev. J. Max Hark, in his sermon on 'Spring,' on Sunday morning, paid a termaster of the regiment, followed in a feeling tribute to the memory of Ralph Waldo Emerson. "Never," said he, "were the comforting promises of spring more needed by us than now, than to-day, the exigencies of the occasion may have when they are laying into his grave one of rendered the provisions he furnished somethe patriarchs of American literature, what scant, he on the present occasion had the greatest of American thinkers. The mighty giant is not dead; but only entered upon his winter's rest. He will arise again in the spring of eternity, his youth renewed like the eagle's, his mistaken ideas and opinions left behind, but his strong, pure, manly self, his noble character, rooted in fundamental truths sprouting and blossoming in the sunlight of God's own presence. He will arise again, reproduced in a hundred different forms, upon earth; wherever the panies and the president, and both projects truths he uttered, the example he lived, found lodgment in strong enough souls, they will grow and multiply, the sturdy spiritual progeny of a nobic sire, elevating the race, improving the earth." Hark's sermons on subjects taken from nature are very popular, and the announcement that next sunday morning he would preach on "Buds and Blossoms" was received with much satisfaction by the large audience.

DOWN THE RIVER. The News From Martic Township.

The tobacco buyers have for the present nearly abandoned Martic township; and it is very seldom that our vision is so indulged as to get a glimpse of their once familiar forms. The reason of their absence, no doubt, is their belief that very little of the weed remains in the township, and that what does remain is of such an inferior quality that it does not deserve their attention. Although the best of the tobacco has been purchased and delivered. yet several lots of fairly good tobacco remain. Although many of our tobacco raisers were docked to a large amount during the last year, no diminution is noticeable in the area to be planted. Pursuant to appointment, Rev. R. C. Wood delivered a discourse, the subject of which was "Go Forward" to the young men, in the Mt. Nebo M. E. church, on the evening of April 30. He endeavored to enforce to his hearers the ideas that industry, sobriety and a good Christian character were necessary to a young man to make his life a success. His lecture was replete with sound advice, which if practised by the young men of Mt. Nebo, would have a visible effect on the morals and general character of the place.

Tryin; to Identify Shaw.

Mr. Joseph R. Shaw, of No. 1401 North Second street, Philadelphia, a son of James Shaw, the Colerain wife-murderer, who died at the City hospital April 13, went on to Baltimore yesterday to examine his father's remains, with a view to establishing their identity. He was shown the book taken from the pantaloons of the deceased and recognized it as one owned by his father. He identified the writing in the book as that of his parent. He went to the Eastern cemetery Ann and Fanny Musselman are parent. He went to the Eastern cemetery to have the body disintered for identification. SOLDIERS' REUNION.

Fighing O'er the Battles of By-gone Days. A reunion of the surviving members of Company K., 122d regiment P. V., was held at the Golden Horse hotel of Eugene Bauer, in East King street, last evening. Captain George F. Sprenger was called to the chair on motion of Commissary Sercounties, and before proceeding with the business that assembled them, the visitors entertained each other with amusing and pleasant reminiscenses of their campaign experience and associations during the exciting days of war.

The secretary read a history of the comsome floral horseshoe from Schroyer the pany compiled by Captain Geo. F. Sprenger. from his diary, and the narrative of bygone events was listened to with the liveliest interest.

Some incidents of the campaign related by David Hall Nauman and Colonel Emlen Franklin were received with laughter and applause, not unmingled with occasional phases of sadness as some mournful memory of their soldiering was reviewed. Singing was next in order, and My Country 'Tis of Thee' and "John Brown's Body" were rendered with all the earnestness of by gone days.

It was resolved to publish the company's history in pamphlet form, and subscriptions were at once taken toward defraying the expenses. Captain Sprenger was elected treasurer of the fund, return ing thanks for this renewed evidence of confidence on the part of the company.

Thanks were voted to Captain Sprenger for the active interest which he has taken and the labor he had gone to in getting up this reunion, and after thanks to the secretary and to Mine Host Bauer, the company adjourned.

The Proceedings in Common Pleas. Abraham G. Brubaker vs. Abraham S Brubaker. Verdict for defendant.

William Keller, administrator of Mary Rhodes, deceased, late of Rapho township, vs. George Hambright. An action to recover $134 with interest from August 24, 1880, alleged to be due to the estate of Mary Rhodes. For plaintiff it was alleged that Adam Hambright, who died August 24, 1868, conveyed to his son George, 84 acres of land, with improvements, conditioned that after testator's death, defendant should pay to Mary, Henry, Ann and Fanny Musselman, children of Susan Hambright, his only daughter, $1,600, in equal shares, at certain times specified in the deed, creating a reversion, however, of the share of those who died without issue in favor of the survivors.
