Among the legacies in the will of Bernard McCane, a wealthy citizen of Philadelphia, is one to Michael Haberbush, assignee of Rev. Sagerer, of St. Joseph's Catholic hospital in this city, of $2,222, being a portion of the residue of the estate bequeathed to various religious and charitable institutions. This in addition to a former gift of $5,000 to the same cause by decedent during his lifetime. The schedule of the distribution also shows a gift of $3,812 to Bishop Shanahan, in trust, but for what purpose is not stated in the newspaper report,

News for the Ladies.

It is conceded by every lady in Lancaster that the handsomest bonnets and richest willlinery goods in this city can only be found at Gottschalk & Lederman's Great New York Bazaar, 25 and 28 North Queen street. It will be a great delight to everybody to visit this grand and magnificent establishment, and we can promise our readers that they will be fully rewarded by giving a thorough inspection in every department.

Amusements.

Minstrels To-night.-The amusement season in this city will be reopened at Fulton opera house to-night by a minstrel performance. " A Child of the State." - Next Tuesday evening this fine play will be presented at Fulton opera house by the same admirable company that made such a pronounced hit with it here a year ago. Messrs. Hoey and Hardle are both excellent actors, and they have surrounded themselves with first class talent, including Signora Majeroni, the destinguished emotional and tragte actress.

Carneross .- The ever welcome Carneros minstrels will contribute an evening of unadulterated fun at Fulton opera house next Wednesday. Nightly their popular Eleventh Street opera house in Philadelphia has been crowded and in York the other evening they had a large and demonstrative audience. The Daily says they "gave an admirable performance. The conundrums were mostly new and were unusually funny. The selections from the different operas were most excellently rendered and well merited the thunders o applause received." The musical portion of the programme, which is always made a leading feature of the entertainments of Mr. Carneross, will include a number of favorite airs from "Patience" and other popular operas, and the " Arrival of Patti " is said to be an uproariously tunny piece.

RESCUED FROM DEATH The following statement of William J Coughlin, of Somerville, dass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs tollowed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital, While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half coltar. I expended over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicine. I was so far gone at one time a repo t went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Ww. HALL'S BALSAN FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking that my case was meurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to feel better My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-

THE PERUVIAN INQUIRY.

SENATOR BLAIR'S RELATION TO IT. Acting in a Purely Professional Capacity all the Time With the Approval of Secretary Blaine.

Washington, May 5 .- The examination of Senator Blair was resumed this morning. Representative Blount conducted the examination. Witness refused to say what amount of stock had been tendered him by Shipherd as an inducement to act as counsel. It was understood he was to act as counsel for him, but no amount was fixed. "Blaine understood that I appeared at the state department as counsel. He knew that I was desirous of aiding Mr. Shipherd. I asked the secretrry if from his knowledge of the affair there could be any impropriety of my acting as counsel, and he said he could see none. This was before this interview with Shipherd. No one intimated to me that there was any impropriety of my being connected with the company until this investigation began. I never concealed my connection. I should do the same thing over with the same light. I have no apology to offer

Witness said he never regarded it as of any value unless the agreement with Peru had been carried out; that is to say, if the company had been organized and the or higher temperature and lower pres money raised it would have been a wealthy and powerful company.

Witness was questioned in reference to the opinion of General Grant upon the claims and replied that he knew nothing of Grant's opinions in this relation that he (Blair) did not consider highly honorable to him.

Some discussion ensued as to witness being made to answer direct from what source he derived his knowledge of Grant's opinion, and Mr. Blount said: "If the name of General Grant and the influence of the government has been brought to bear to induce the payment by Chili of twelve hundred millions of dollars, I think it pertinent that the names of all parties interested should be known."

Witness then stated that he had personal communication from Shipherd and documentary evidence relative to General Grant's views. In reference to witness' privilege as counsel in declining to answer questions, Mr. Blount thought the com mittee had a right to a view of their own, and did not believe that a scheme, such as Shipherd's, which might have involved this country in a war with Soath America, should be covered up by any such protection as the privileges of counsel.

Witness then said his knowledge of General Grant's views was derived from Shipherd's statement to him exclusively with the one exception of General Grant's gentlemen's furnishing goods, endorsement upon a draft of instructions to be sent to Minister Hurlbut. Being questioned upon the words "Good offices," witness said he did not care to be questioned upon specific words. Witness did not know who prepared the papers Shipherd sent him (Blair), a copy of which he (Blair) showed to Mr. Blaine In further reply to Representative Blount witness said he did not care to say that Mr. Shipherd had wilfully misrepre-June... 1.434 sented him. Mr. Blount then quoted from Shipherd's testimony that the subject of bribing Hurlbut had been mentioned in Mr. Blaine's presence and the remark of Mr. Blaine's, "I don't think that will fetch an outrage, for he was not here to abuse a man who had once been his client. Witness in reply to another question said he would have considered it his highest duty as a senator if he had seen that the state department was being grossly misrepresented to step in and in-tervene, but he could not see how, inasmuch as this letter passed through the hands of the American minister, who was on the spot and armed with his instructions and harm could come of it or any misrepresentation of the state department could be

Judge Butler Renders an Opinon Against the Reading Coal Company. PHILADELPHIA, May. 5 .- An opinion PHILADELPHIA, May. 5.—An opinion was rendered by Judge Butler this morning in the United States district court in an admiralty suit brought by the owners of the schooner Joseph and Franklin, against the Philadelphia & Reading coal and iron company's steam Colliery Pottsville. A collision occurred between these vessels early on the morning of June 9, 1881, in the Delaware river, the schooner being sunk. The libellants set forth that the steamer was running at a high rate of speed and that she had on the lookout a sixteen-year-old boy of only five weeks' experience. The respondents contended that there was a heavy fog at the time and the schooner gave no signal. The judge's opinion was in favor of the libel-ward with coats. MURDER OF A PEDDLER.

What Some Farm Hands Found White Going to Work This Morning. PLAINFIELD, N. J., May 5 .- At about 7 o'clock this morning some farm hands going to their work saw lying in a piece of woodland within a rod of the road, the dead body of a man with the head half severed from the body. A basket of tin-ware stood about a rod away from the body with the contents undisturbed.
The body was still warm. The man was identified as one of a couple of tin peddlers who had been seen in the neighborhood the night before. His companion was missing, but a tramp who had been seen in the neighborhood an hour before the discovery, was followed to the Netherwood depot, a mile from the scene of the murder and arrested. He was searched and small status like blood were found upon some clothing in his pack, and upon a razor. He admitted having been in the neighborhood during the morning, but denied all knowledge of the murder. He was locked up and will be held until an inquest takes place. The dead man was of medium height, light build, black curly hair and aged about 20. There were no marks of a struggle around where he lay, and he is supposed to have been murdered as he slept. The man arrested is a German tramp and gives his name as August Schlachley.
