WEDNESDAY EVENING, MAY 17, 1882.

A Practical Young Woman.

Chicago Tribune. "See the sunrise, Gwendolen?" Miriam Mahaffy spoke these words in an ecstasy of girlish enthusiasm to her elder sister, as the latter sat languidiy on the bedroom floor one soft, sensuous morning in June, and pulled with stately grace a long striped stocking over a shapely

Thrusting her tiny feet into a pair of dainty slippers, Gwendolen stepped to the window and looked out upon the morn-

"Is it not beautiful?" impulsively putting on her corset as she spoke. "The golden pencilings of light dart up from the horizon, touching the fleecy whiteness of the ever changing clouds with a roseate glory beyond compare. See how, in yonder speck of blue that peeps forth so coyly between the great masses of clouds that surround it on every side, there comes a mezzo-tint of orange here, making a beautiful background to the turquoise bloom of the picture. Is it not very beautiful,

"Yes," replies Gwendolin reaching for the hair brush, "it reminds me of a lemon pie in a blue plate.

"See sister," continued Miriam as she did up her back hair and took her bang from her dressing case, "the breath of the morning, balmy and sweet, is kissing every flower and plant into new life. Can anything be more lovely?"

"Nothing in all the wide, wide world, replied Gwendolen-"except breakfast."

THE HOUSEHOLD TAX.

The Domestic Aspects of the Tariff Question S. S. Cox's speech in the House.

The little girl cannot play with her doll, nor the boy with his top, nor the mother wash her offspring with soap, except at an expense of from one-third to one-half of their cost for the domestic privilege. [Laughter.] It the mother gives her child castor oil, she pours down 148 per cent, ad valorem [laughter]; if the child does not enjoy the dose, there is a 25 per cent, bowl as the recipient of the contents of its tender stomach. And though she wash it with nitre and take to it much soap, yet the iniquity is marked before me," saith the Lord, for the soap is taxed 40 per centum! God help the child! Mr. Townshend, of Illinois-How about

Mr. Cox, of New York-I am coming to that in a moment, my honey. [Great laughter.]

If she wraps the little dear in a plain bleached cotton night-shirt, it has a nightmare of 51 cents per square yard specific [laughter]; when the child awakes in the morning fretful she combs its little head at 35 cents ad valorem [laughter]; if she would amuse it, she rolls it over a Brussels carpet at 90 cents per square yard, or give it confectionery made of refined sugar at 4 cents a pound tax and 25 per cent ad valorem; if it tears its little panties, the gentleman from Pennsylvania (Mr. Kelly) sews them up with spool thread taxed at three-quarters of its value [Laughter.] Why, if she used a shingle to bring the little "toddling wee thing" to its senses, as the honorable gentleman can recall, the cost would be enhanced at the rate of 17 per cent. taxation. [Laughter.] If the youngster has a patriotic inclina tion on our Fourth of July, his fire-crack ers are taxed as a patriotic luxury at $1 extra a box, and the bunting which furnished the flag, though but 23 cents a pound, costs 121 per cent. extra, while the band plays on instruments taxed at 30 cents. She takes him to the menagerie to study natural history. There is the zebra, symbolic of a mixed ad valorem and specific [laughter], and the stately giraffe, high protection [laughter], the royal tiger, and unicorn of Holy Whit at 20 per cent., and the procession of elephants, every one 20 per cent. True, Jumbo, for purposes not to be mentioned, is excluded by the affidavit of a consistent protectionist! But the log chain that holds his huge legs binds the monster in protective chains! | Laughter. |

Intense Love Within Limits. Chicago Tribune.

" Pull up your pants, papa."

Aristides McGuire heard these words as they came from the ruby red lips of Gwendolen Mahaffy and floated to his ears on the softly signing and sensuous breezes of a June evening. He looked, and saw the pretty feet and shapely ankles of Gwendolen as she picked her way carefully along the muddy crosswalk. He noted the tenderly solicitous tone in which she addressed her father, and that tone thrilled his very blood.

Weiss beer would also have done it, but Aristides was not so fly as he might have Scarcely knowing why he did so the young man followed the girl and her father, until finally they turned up Ogden avenue, and, as Gwendolen headed southwest and stood for an instant with her polanaise fluttering in the wind, she turned to her companion and said: "Ours is next to the last house on the street, isn't

"Yes, my darling," replied the old "How long is this street ?" asked Aristides of a policeman.

" Five miles." The young man entered a neighboring saloon and sat down with a dull thud. "I love her madly," he said, "but, Heaven help me, I am not Charles Rowell."

A REAL SKIN CURE.

THERE IS ONLY ONE

AND THAT WITH SIMPLE NAME.

Beware of imposters, pirates, or any old ar-ticles which now suddenly claim to be best. They have been tried and found wanting, while this has been proved a remarkable suc-

NO POMPOUS NAME.

This curative needs no pompous or incomprehensible title of Greek or Latin to sustain it, but its simple English name appeals to the ommon sense of the people. And the people are signally manifesting their appreciation of this frankness by selecting and using Dr. Benson's SKIN CURE in preference to all other professed remedles.

other professed remedies.

Dr. C. W. Benson has long been well known as a successful physician and surgeon and his life's study has been the disease of the nervous system and of the skin; since he has been persuaded to put his New Remedy and Favorite Prescription as a "Skin Cute" on the market, various things have sprung up into existence, or have woke up from the sleepy state in which they were before and now claim to be The Great Skin Cure.

3. Beware of imitations, or the various articles which have been advertised for years or struggled along, having no real hold or merit on the public, that now endeavor to keep head above water by advertising themselves as "The Great Skin Cure." None is genuine and relible, except Dr.C. W. Benson's Skin Cure. Each package and bottle bears his likeness. Internal and external remedy, two bottles in one package.
