heel to toe; the latter only on the heel. Mr. Hiemenz has a large number of men and women employed and is turning out a great deal of work, a considerable proportion of which is for the retail trade in this city. In the near future he expects to largely increase his working force. There is no doubt of Mr. Hiemenz's complete success. He has long been engaged in the shoe business, thoroughly understands it, is industrious and energetic, has sufficient capital to push the business and will throw upon the market nothing but solid work. That he may devote his whole time to the factory, it is his intention at an an early day to abaudon the re tail trade, and, as will be seen by his advertisement elsewhere, he is closing out his present stock of goods at greatly reduced rates.

A CURIOUS VIOLIN.

The Handlwork of a Tennessee Idlot. The Daily Fredonian of New Brunswick, New Jersey, has the following: "J. W. Newhouse, business manager of George II. Adam's Humpty Dumpty company, has an interesting curiosity in the shape of a violin, made by an idiot at Grand Junction, Tenn. The only tools used in the manufacture of the instrument were an axe and a jack-knife. A maple tree was cut down and the idiot, taking his axe, cut out several slabs, which he whittled down into thin strips with his curves in were made by placing the strips out in the desired shape across a hollow in the ground and ing weights upon them. The wood being green took the proper curve readily. Then the pieces were glued roughly to- ing and Ulcerated Piles has been discovered gether, the keys and bridge whittled out by Dr. William (an Indian remedy), called Dr. and the strings put on. The bow is a branch | William's Indian Ointment, A single box has of willow, curved at the ends, with black cured the worst chronic cases of 25 or 30 years horse hair stretched on it. The instrument and bow are the roughest specimens of architecture imaginable, but, properly handled, are capable of producing the sweetest strains. Mr. Newhouse said (particularly at night after getting warm in that the half-witted moke came into the bed), acts as a pountice, gives instant and painhotel at Grand Junction and offered the less relief, and is prepared only for Piles, itchviolin for sale for $1.50. The money was ing of the private parts, and for nothing else promptly paid, and within half an hour he came back as drunk as a lord and offered to make another for a dollar.' DRAWING THE LONG BOW.

DUBLIN, May 19 .- The Freeman's Journel publishes an eight column story anony. mously sent and bearing a London postmark professing to be a confession of one of the assassins. It intimates that the crime was conceived as an answer to the appointment of Lord Frederick Cavendish by the Irish association society having branches throughout the kingdom. Over twenty persons are said to be implicated in the crime, all of whom have now escaped to England in various disguises. The writer says they attended the funerals of their victims. The story has created a sensation, but it is considered a hoax. It

TO THE WORLD GUITEAU'S GABRLE.

Still Protesting His Divine Inspiration.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 19-Guiteau has addressed the following letter to the Star for publication: "I tell the American people and its officials from the ex-ecutive down to the court in bane who are reviewing my case that I tell the truth and lie not when I say I am God's man in the matter of President Garfield's removal, and if a hair on my head is harmed. the Almighty will make the officials that do it pay well for it. If I was outside I would lecture under the auspices of some bureau on religious subjects. One of my subjects would be, "Paul the Apostle and kindred topics" If my time has come to leave this world I am willing, but I want the officials that murder me on the gallows to understand the issue. they murder me they will incur the wrath of Almighty God, and it will be a long time before He lets up on them and this nation. The devils that crucified the despised Galieelean thought they were doing God's service, but that did not release them from liability. They and their nation incurred the wrath of the Almighty by that act, and he got even with them at the destruction of Jerusalem and he will get even with this nation and with the officials if I am murdered on the gallows. I want an unconditional pardon or nothing, and I want the executive to so understand it. I have set forth my views fully on this in my book, "the Truth and the Removal." If the honorable jurists representing the Washington court in bane decide this case according to the law, there is only one decision they can make, and that is that they have no jurisdiction. If they decide contrary to the law the matter will rest with President Arthur, and they will have incurred

LEIGHTON THE MURDERER HANGED.

The Woman Killer Goes Firmly to His Fate-Dying from Strangulation in Fitteen Minutes. New York, May 19 - Augustus D. Leighton, the murderer of his mistress.

Mary Dean, was hanged this morning at Leighton's counsel, Mr. C. D. Spencer, and his spiritual advisers, Rev. Dr. Morgan, were early in attendance at his cell. He partook sparingly of his breakfast. When the repast ended Leighton took a seat and listened to words of consolation

Shortly after 8 o'clock the deputy sher iffs with their badges and staves of office draped in crape, entered the prison yard. They formed lines close to the prison walls. The death warrant was - read to Leighton in his cell, and then the procession to the gallows was formed, Rev. Dr. Morgan preceding and reading-"I am the resurection and the life."
