MITCHELL AT HOME.

MEETING OF TIOGA REPUBLICANS.

Indorsing the Senator's Opposition to the Machine--Some of the number present. The meeting of the Republican Party is in Revolt.

Times Dispatch from Wellsboro. While it was estimated that two thousand people had signed to the call for the Independent Republican meeting here, only about a third of this number attended.

Letters were received from various portions of the state tendering congratulations and encouragement by several gentlemen prominently engaged in the movement here. Among the number was one from Mr. Charles S. Wolfe, who gave his hope and benediction to the work, and from ex-Senator Strang, whose broken health prevented his attendance.

The leading party workers, those who have organized the victories, and won the majority in the county, are in the same class, and it includes ten ex-chairmen of Republican county committees and fifty veteran soldiers, who served in the war under the immediate command of Gen. Beaver. The sheriff, district attorney and other county officers gave it substantial support.

At half past two o'clock C. W. Mather called the meeting to order and nominated Henry Holland, of Wellsboro, for president. This was confirmed by the unanimous vote of the convention. The chair was then taken by the Hon. George Greely, ex-clerk, who read a list of names of gentlemen who were present.

Major Merrick read a telegram from Theodore Ladd, member of the Independent Republican state committee of McKean county, announcing the nomination by that county of John H. Mitchell for judicial delegate and moved the concurrence of Tioga in the nomination. The motion was unanimously agreed to, whereupon the senator was called for. In response he came forward and was received with enthusiastic warmth.

Senator Mitchell disclaimed personal opposition to the machine candidates, but said the time has come when men, as well as principles, should receive attention. What the party needs, he contended, warming up by the thought, is men who will not go to Harrisburg to ask the consent of Senator Cameron when they want to become candidates for the suffrage of the Republican people.

Referring to the dispute on the revenue collectors in Allegheny and Lancaster, the senator said that in one case it was appointed for political ends, as I have been so told. A voice in the audience asked: "Have you any objections to naming your authority, senator?" To which the reply was "that his authority was the best. In this connection it may be said that Senator Cameron himself told Senator Mitchell that he could by the removal of Sullivan and the appointment of Jackson in the Allegheny county revenue district secure the election of two senators friendly to him.

In the executive session of the Senate a few days ago, pending the discussion of this subject, Senator Mitchell stated that he requested Senator Cameron to name a friend for the place and that it was a gratifying surprise to him.

Referring to the state ticket recently nominated, the senator said that Senator Cameron told him that he had selected his ticket and that he had decided to give the Independents two places.

The next speaker was Major Merrick. He is a pleasant gentleman, whom the Independents here would like to have nominated for governor.

After the reading and before putting the motion for adoption of the platform the speaker eloquently. He said "the present movement meant the destruction of machines, the breaking of rings and the restoration of bosses.

Charles V. Elliott, ex-member of the assembly, followed, and then in turn District Attorney Henry M. Foote and Dr. W. W. Webb spoke, each referring to the common sentiment of war against the machine.
