A Young Brakeman's shocking Death.

The following are fuller particulars of the accident which occurred yesterday on the Frederick division of the P.R.R., and which is briefly noticed elsewhere in this paper. As the freight train due here at 10:30 a. m. was passing an overhead bridge at Hellam station, Lewis R. Aull baugh, a brakeman, who was standing on top of a box car, was struck by it and thrown under the wheels. The train was stopped as soon as possible, and it was found that the gearing of a brake was pinning him to the The victim was conscious and directed how the brake could be removed from him. Grand Opening of Doesch's New Hotel. The new three-story brick building erected by Mr. J. J. Doesch, at No. 113 North Queen street, on the site of the old Schoenberger saloon, has been so nearly public to day. The main building has a one front of 34 feet and a depth of 50 feet, and attached to this is a back building 50 feet in len th and 16 feet wide. The entire first and stairway, is occupied as a drinking saloon, which is titted up in a style of elegance unsurpassed by any in the city. The floor is of the best seasoned yellow pine, and the walls are wainscotted in alternate strips of yellow pine and walnut. The bar, which is of handsome pattern, is also pancled in yellow pine and walnut; the large refrigerator and the elevator for carrying supplies to the second story are made of the same kinds of wood. The large French plate mirrors are framed to match the other apartments, as are also the tables, chairs and other bar furniture. The room is lighted by night by several fine chandeliers of new design.

six rooms, all fitted up for the use of the public. There is gas in each room, and stationary wash-stands and bath rooms with hot and cold water on each floor. The first floor of the brick building contains a sitting room, adjoining the bar room, a dining room and kitchen, the latter being sapplied with all modern conveniences, including range, hot and cold water, sinks, closels, &c. The secondstory is divided into a number of rooms for the use of Mr. Doesch's family.

The building is one of the most substantial and handsome edifices on North Queen street. Jacob Neudorf, the well-known architect, of this city, made the plans of the building, and Jacob Binkala, carpenter and builder, had the contract for putting it up, and so well pleased is Mr. Doesch with the excellent workmanship, that he work. The excavation and blasting of rock from the cellar was done by John R. Smith. The masonry by Lichty & Humphreyville. The brick work by Deisley & Price. The plastering by Hoff

L. Arnold. The marble and cut stone work by Wm. McClure. The bar furniture by Henry Wolf. The plate glass mirrors by Fred. Vollmer. All of the above workmen deserve commendation for the skill with which the work in their several branches has been executed.

Jo. Groff Captured. Last night about 11 o'clock Officers Barns and Pyle saw a rather suspicious looking character on the Pennsylvania railroad, a short distance above the pas- adv. senger depot. They took him into custody as he was in the act of boarding a freight train. He proved to be Joseph Groff, one of the escaped convicts, who was stupid enough to come to this public point in hopes of being able to steal a ride to Philadelphia. He was taken to the station house where he was soon recognized, and he was then taken to the prison where he was given the skin clear, healthy and beautiful. Also urer, Mr. S. Neisley, of Oarstown. Miles Frankford Picked Un. After midnight Officers Pyle and Lains At yesterday's session it was decided to picked up Miles Frankford, a brother hold the next Sunday school convention in of John Frankford, the escaped convict. Miles was arrested on the cars at the east end of the passenger depot. He was looked up for the night and taken before Alderman McConomy this morning. He stated that he is employed at Best's boiler works and merely rode up from the works to the depot in hopes that he might see or hear something from his brother. Hs claimed also to be an emyloyee of the Pennsylvania railroad, laid off duty for the present, but expects to go to work again for the company soon; and that he holds a pass from the company that was issued to him since he was laid off. In view of all the tacts Alderman McCoaomy discharged him on his own recognizance for a farther hearing on Saturday evening.

Three horses with bridles were stolen last night from the stables of an Amishdoctor, amputated both legs; one at and the man named Keene, residing on the Phila delphia turnpike between Soudersburg and were also cut and bruised and the breast Greenland, about two miles from the former place. This morning two of the horses were found near Joel Lightner's in Paradise twp. They had evidently been years of age. This was his first trip as subjected to severe riding, as they were muddy and wet with sweat. The other horse is still missing. It is a bright sorrel and a good traveler, It is supposed all these horses were stolen by the convicts, some of whom perhaps returned to this city, met their friends and received from them citizens clothes and then rode off abandoning the horses at the point named and finding other means to continue their

There is on exhibition in the windows of Astrich Bros. a beautiful testimonial which is to be presented by the Union fire company, of this city, to the Union company of Trenton, in appreciation of the kind treatment received by the Lancaster boys at the hands of their Trenton friends upon the occasion of their visit last summer. It is a frame containing the pictures of all the members of the Union who participated in the excursion.
