CAUGHT IN THE ACT.

THREE FIRES AND AN INCENDIARY TRAPPED.

The Detective Who Captured Him Arrested as an Accomplice.

Since the last issue of the INTELLIGENCER we have had quite an excitement relative to incendiaries and incendiarism. Between Saturday night and Sunday morning no less than three buildings were fired, but only one of them was burned.

The first attempt is one that may be followed by very important results, as the incendiary was captured and lodged in jail. The story is quite an interesting one and we repeat it to our readers substantially as it is stated by the detective who made the arrest and by the incendiary himself. It has been an open secret in police circles for several weeks past, though the fact has heretofore kept from the public as much as possible, that there has been a force of local detectives employed by the city to ferret out and bring to justice the band of incendiaries, who for some months past have brought so much discredit on the character of the city. These men have been heretofore associated with suspected persons and in some measure wormed themselves into their confidence for the purpose of detecting and bringing to punishment the guilty. One of the detectives is Michael Schaller, who was appointed by the mayor for this special purpose. In the course of his service, his suspicion fell on several persons, of whom Alexander Lemon was one. Meeting Lemon on Saturday night the two had several drinks together and became quite confidential. Lemon proposed that they should have a little fun and the detective readily entered into his views. The result was that it was agreed to set fire to Hirsch & Bros.' frame tobacco house, built upon a lot between Rockland and Ann streets, directly opposite the Rockland street public school house. They visited the tobacco shed together and Lemon, in the presence of the detective, set fire to the building, whereupon the detective knocked him down, secured him, gave an alarm of fire, which was promptly responded to by Bernard Kuhlman, who struck alarm box 64. The fire was extinguished without loss of property and the incendiary was lodged in jail.

When the matter was brought to the attention of District Attorney Davis, he called upon Lemon in his iron clad cell in the station house and after saying that he was "sorry to see him there" listened to Lemon's statement of the affair. He candidly acknowledged that he had a hand in setting fire to the building, but said that he had been deceived by the incendiary upon whom he had nearly the whole business. The district attorney asked him the nature of the difficulty he had with Officer Schaller. Lemon at once in great excitement and alarm asked the officer what he had done. "I told you," said Schaller, "that you were an accomplice, 'who had gone back on him.'"

Mr. Davis replied that he did not know whether he was an officer or not and asked Lemon to explain the nature of the "mean trick" which had been played upon him. Lemon answered: "He got me full and then did the business himself; he persuaded me into it; he helped cut the chips and started the fire with coal oil which he had in his pocket; he lit the match, and after the fire started he struck me on the head and hallooed 'fire.' We had our first conversation at Brecht's; I was drunk; I served four years imprisonment once when I was innocent, and if I go back again I'll be dead; if Schaller don't go with me, after lighting the match and handing it to me, I think he's deeper in it than I am; he got me full; got me to go out Rockland street. While it was raining I stood under the school house door; Schaller hallooed to me to come on; I was so drunk I couldn't get over the fence, and he threw me over."

On the strength of Lemon's statement District Attorney Davis insisted that Chief of Police Deichler should make complaint against Schaller for incendiaryism and Deichler did so, and Alderman Alex. Donnelly issued a warrant for his arrest! He promptly offered bail to answer the charge, but the alderman had been advised by the district attorney that he could not accept it, and thus the incendiary and the detective who captured him were held as criminals! Detective Schaller then appeared before Mayor MacGonigle and entered bail for a hearing in the sum of $500.

Detective Schaller's statement. Detective Schaller appeared before Mayor MacGonigle yesterday afternoon, and made the following statement: "My name is Michael Schaller; I live at No. 509 Maner street; last night about 11 o'clock I went down Middle street; I saw Alexander Lemon and had suspicion against the man; he went into Brecht's saloon, and I followed him and asked him what he would take a beer. He said, 'yes'; and after having drunk the beer he and I started out and went to Rockland street; when we got as far as the school house he said: 'Mike, we'll have some fun to-night.' I asked him what he meant; he said, 'we'll go over to this tobacco shed and put fire to it; no body can see us.' He went over to the shed, and I went along, and into the shed. After fooling around he said: 'We ought to have some beer.' I told him I would go and get it; that he should stay there and I would meet him; I went up to Kuhlman's and asked him if he had a bottle that would hold a quart. He told me no; I then went to Grotzinger's, corner of Low and Rockland; I asked him if he had a bottle that would hold a quart; he said no, but that he would give me a stone jug; he filled it for me and I paid him; I did not tell him what I wanted it for; when I turned around to go out to meet Lemon, he was there without a cap. He said, 'Hello, Mike, are you here?' I said, 'yes, I'm here, and said you are getting dry, you couldn't wait till I came down. He said, 'No; I thought you were not coming back.' Then we started away from the saloon and went to Kuhlman's. I gave Lemon two glasses of beer there; when we got outside he said, 'Mike, I lost my cap.' I said where did you lose it? He said, 'I must have lost it down in the shed; we'll go down there, anyhow, and I'll find it; I think I lost it there.' We went out Rockland street; he jumped over the fence and I got over; we started for the shed; after we got inside the shed Lemon commenced cutting chips with his knife; he lost his knife and asked me if I had a knife. I said, 'I've got a knife. He said, 'Give it to me.' I gave it to him; he struck for the back part of the shed; I heard him cutting, but could not see him; it was very dark; I stood at the hole through which we got in; I heard him chiseling; he was cutting chips for about ten minutes, and then came back and returned my knife; he had a whole handful of chips, probably half a peck, and said, 'Mike, we are all right; we can send her off; no one can see us; there is a gust and it is raining; look out that no one catches us.' I said all right, and got outside the hole, leaving him in the shed. He said to me 'have you got any matches?' I said, 'yes. He said 'I haven't got one; give me a couple.' I gave them to him. He slipped the latch in a corner of the tobacco shed and put the chips in under them, and set fire to them, while I was looking at him from the outside. He said to me 'I don't believe it will burn; wait a few minutes, Mike.' I said all right. He stirred up the fire, put more chips on, and the fire then struck up about 4 feet, probably 5; he said, 'Mike, she'll go now, let us get out.' I said all right. He had to stoop to get out of the hole. After he got out I knocked him down, collared him and hallooed 'fire.' Two men came running down; I had Lemon on the ground lying in the field about 6 feet from the fence; I held him until the men came up; I told them to go in and 'outen' the fire. I let him up then and fetched him in.

Mayor MacGonigle asked, 'Where did you first make Lemon's acquaintance?' A.—I have known him for 20 years, but he did not know me; had not seen me for some time. For four or five weeks I suspected him of being an incendiary, but could not run across him.

Q.—What was your position last night? A.—I was out on duty as a special watchman for incendiaries by appointment of the mayor; when I saw Lemon last night at 10:30, I thought it was my duty to find out whether my suspicions were well founded. He did not know that I was an officer. When I was bringing him in he said he did not think that Pittsburgh boys would go back on him. Constable George Shay met us on Rockland street and we brought Lemon in. We had no talk of firing any place until after we left Brecht's. It was my first proposal firing the places; I cut no chips, carried none of the laths, and did nothing except to lather him my knife, and gave him matches; I had no coal oil and he had none that I know of.

Fire No. 2. A little after two o'clock yesterday morning an incendiary attempt was made to burn the frame barn of Mrs. Patrick Kelly, situated on Shippen street near Orange. Fortunately a belated citizen, who was engaged in the fraternal act of picking a somewhat befuddled companion by the name of Deichler, and extinguished it without raising a general alarm. The incendiary had pulled away some loose stones from the foundation of the building, making a hole under the floor into which he had thrust the lining of an old coat, saturated with coal oil. No damage of consequence was done to the building, but there "might have been" a big blaze had not the incendiary attempt been discovered.

Fire No. 3. At ten minutes past two o'clock yesterday morning, a small frame stable owned by Emanuel P. Koller, and occupied by Wm. Role, oysterman, and situated on North alley east of Freiberg and in rear of Locust street, was set on fire and totally consumed. The incendiary had considerably removed Mr. Role's horseboxes "Robber" and "Beck" from the stable before firing it, but all other contents were utterly destroyed, including 700 pounds of hay, eight sets of harness, buckster tables, tools and other materials. The stable was a small one and of little value. There was no insurance on it or its contents.

BASEBALL. The College Nite Amateurs Victorious. The P. and M. college baseball club played the return game of baseball with the Normal club at Millersville on Saturday, and won by a score of 19 to 15. The game was entirely one-sided until the eighth inning, when, owing to a change in the position of some of the players and a number of inexcusable mistakes on the part of the college boys, the Normal nine increased their score by nine runs. The number made, however, was not sufficient to tie or beat the score of the College club, and accordingly they did not take their last turn at the bat. The most brilliant play of the day was made by Swann, of the college, catching a fly after a hard run and throwing it quickly to base, and Scheibley, in turn, swiftly delivering it to Stahl, first baseman; thus putting out the batter and two base runners.

There were two base hits made by Messrs Green, Brumbaugh, Brodhead, Starn and Swiderski and a large base hit by Reiter. Reiter gave three men bases on balls and Heister 2.

Scheibley and Spronl received encouraging cheers for some of their excellent plays.

In the ninth inning Reiter was batted all over the field.

The Millersville boys say that they are satisfied that they cannot beat the college club and announce their determination of playing no more games this spring.

The coach of some of the students of the Normal school (not the members of the base ball club) was very censurable on this occasion. They looted and jeered the P. & M. boys and acted like untaught backwoodsman instead of gentlemen. With this exception the game was a very pleasant one to all concerned.

The score is as follows:

MEDICAL.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

New Life

is given by using Brown's Iron Bitters. In the Winter it strengthens and warms the system; in the Spring it enriches the blood and conquers disease; in the Summer it gives tone to the nerves and digestive organs; in the Fall it enables the system to stand the shock of sudden changes.

In no way can disease be so surely prevented as by keeping the system in perfect condition. Brown's Iron Bitters ensures perfect health through the changing seasons, it dispels the danger from impure water and miasmatic air, and it prevents Consumption, Kidney and Liver Disease, &c.

H. S. Berlin, esq., of the well-known firm of H. S. Berlin & Co. Attorneys, Lo Drott Building, Washington, D. C., writes, Dec 5th, 1881:

Gentlemen: I take pleasure in stating that I have used Brown's Iron Bitters for malaria and nervous trouble, caused by overwork, with excellent results.

Beware of imitations. Ask for Brown's Iron Bitters, and insist on having it. Don't be imposed on with something recommended as "just as good." The genuine is made only by the Brown Chemical Co., Baltimore, Md.
