RESCUED FROM DEATH.

The following statement of William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we are inclined to take it as a fact. In the fall of 1871 was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak that one day I could not get out of bed.

THE SCOTTS DERBY.

Won by the Winner of the Epsom Derby. LONDON, June 7.—At the Ascot race to-day the Derby was won by the Duke of Westminster's chestnut filly, "Shotover," the winner of the Derby stakes at Epsom; Lord Bradford's bay colt, "Battlefield," was second, and Mr. J. H. Houldsworth's chestnut colt, "Spring Kick," third. There were five starters.

Wilson's Argument for the Defense.

WASHINGTON, June 7.—In the criminal court this morning Mr. Wilson continued his opening argument for the defense in the Star Route cases. Among other things he said the large number of contracts, amounting to five each hour, every working day, for the past year, precluded the possibility of a close personal examination by Brady. It could not be expected that each route should pay. He mentioned a route which cost $600,000 a year to maintain it, and it yielded only $2,000 in return, yet no complaint had been made for this for several years.

THE OREGON ELECTION.

Certainly Carried by the Republicans. PORTLAND, Oregon, June 7.—There seems to be no doubt in regard to the election of George to Congress by a majority of not less than 2,000. The Republicans carried the election by a large margin. The Democrats concede it to the Republicans by small majorities. The lines to eastern Oregon have been down for two days and no prospect of a respite. The legislature is expected to meet on the 15th inst. and will have to deal with the question of a large emigration in the past two years and is believed to be mostly Republican. The position cannot be known for two or three days.

Shocking Suicide in Chester County.

WEST CHESTER, Pa., June 7.—There was a horrible suicide near Unionville yesterday. Stephen H. Jackson, a well-to-do farmer, aged 60, who has been sick for several weeks with dyspepsia, took to his barn and killed himself with a pocket knife. When discovered by his wife he was dead. Jackson was at one time a prominent school teacher and took a great interest in educational matters. The coroner's jury rendered a verdict of suicide while suffering under a temporary abstraction of mind.

An Historic Building to Come Down.

PHILADELPHIA, June 7.—The Pennsylvania national bank has purchased for $80,000 the old brick building at the southwest corner of 7th and Market streets, in which it has long been held that Jefferson wrote the Declaration of Independence. The old building will be torn down and a bank structure erected on its site.

Wisconsin Prohibitionists.

MADISON, Wis., June 7.—The Wisconsin state prohibition organization has been incorporated. The objects are to secure the submission of a referendum amendment to the people, and to compel its enforcement. At its meeting last evening officers were elected and steps taken to organize the various counties and towns to raise money and to carry out the purposes of the association.

Past Practice by New Orleans Editors.

NEW ORLEANS, June 7.—A duel was fought this morning at the Staughter House between Major E. A. Burke, editor of the Times Democrat, and C. H. Parker, editor of the Picayune. Parker was used, and Burke was shot through both thighs, though no bones were broken, and the wound is not considered dangerous.

The Case Against Fireworks Ignored.

CHESTER, Pa., June 7.—The grand jury in the case of Professor Samuel Jackson, proprietor and Charles Vanhorn, who exploded with such disastrous results some months ago, have ignored the bill of involuntary manslaughter and put the case on the county.

Distressing Fire in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, June 7.—Twenty frame dwellings occupied by families on Bowen and Ravine streets, were burned this morning. One child was burned to death. Twenty-five families are homeless and all their effects are in ashes. Loss not less than $25,000.

The Striking Chicago Brickmakers.

CHICAGO, June 7.—The south and west side striking brickmakers have unexpectedly refused to accept the compromise and return to work. The north side yards are however in full operation, and it is hoped the others will resume to-day.

Nail Manufacturers to Secret Session.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., June 7.—The only thing new in the iron situation to-day was a secret meeting of nail manufacturers of the West. The meeting lasted several hours, when it adjourned. The manufacturers one and all preserved profound silence as to the proceedings.

CONGRESS.

Scranton's New Public Building. WASHINGTON, June 7.—In the House to-day on motion of Mr. Scranton (Pa.) the bill was passed appropriating $75,000 for the erection of the public building at Scranton.

Sparks Apologizes to Cox.

Sparks (Ills.), rising to question of privilege, asked the pardon of Mr. Cox for remarks made by him during the debate on the tariff bill. Mr. Cox accepted the apology in the same kindly spirit as it was tendered. The House then went into committee of the whole to consider the general deficiency of the appropriation bill.

Washington, June 7.—The President sent the following nominations to the Senate to-day to be members of the tariff commission: Wm. A. Wheeler, of New York (Chairman); John L. Hayes, of Pennsylvania; Austin A. Graham, of Illinois; Jacob Ames, of Ohio; John S. Phelps, of Missouri; Robert P. Porter, of the District of Columbia; John W. H. Underwood, of Georgia; Duncan F. Kenner, of Louisiana.

That Alleged Herks County Libel.

Reading, Pa., June 7.—The criminal and civil suits for libel brought by Dr. William B. Dewees, of Fleetwood, against Jesse G. Hawley, the proprietor of the Reading Eagle, were amicably settled to-day, and a criminal and civil suit for libel was brought to-day by Dr. Dewees against J. E. Dumina, the attorney-at-law, who the doctor alleges started the rumor recently circulated that his (the doctor's) father died an unnatural death.

He Wants All Ireland Purchased.

LONDON, June 7.—Mr. Davitt in his speech at Liverpool, last night, said his aim was in favor of the land becoming national property. He considered that the soil of Ireland could be purchased for tenants for £140,000,000 in government bonds repayable in fifty years. He denounced the Dublin Castle rule as a monstrous failure.

A Woman Successor Postmaster Merick.

Two Murders by a Boy.

The Crime Committed by John Tibbitts, a Youth of Sixteen Years. A special from Madena, Minn., gives the details of an extraordinary murder case. A boy of 16 years old, who had been poisoned by trawls novels. One of the murdered men was Edward Washington, a land surveyor who had been in the county only about two weeks. It is said he came from Bay City. The other victim was his employer, but it is supposed that he was in the employ of some pine land operators. The other victim was a young man, 23 years of age, Leo Feherbach, a German, in the employ of Washington, recently arrived in Perham three or four months. His only relative in this country is a sister living in New York city. They left Perham Thursday, May 25, stating that they were going to look after lands. They were supplied with a ten dollar note, Tibbitts started off in the lumber, leaving them at Dornbush's. They stayed there to dinner, leaving there at 1 o'clock, and stating that they were going to section 12, a pine timber land, carrying with them an axe, a Smith & Wesson's revolver, and a pocket watch. They did not return. Search was made for them, and their bodies were found, one on Friday and one on Saturday morning, June 2 and 3, about 30 rods apart. Washington was found with a gunshot wound in the back of his head, with his pockets rifled, his boots and hat gone, his maps and plates lying on the ground beside him, together with a pocket compass. The body of Feherbach was found about 20 rods north of the body of Washington. It was horribly indicated that the man had made a hard fight with his assailant. His throat was cut and his skull broken by a savage blow from the axe. The bodies were brought to Perham Saturday, and County Attorney Phillips and coroner Bedford were immediately summoned by telegraph from Fergus Falls. They arrived at Perham early this morning and have been holding an inquest over the bodies of the murdered men to-day. Young Tibbitts made his appearance in Perham on Monday, the next day following the discovery of the bodies. It was unusual for him. He purchased a new suit of clothes, had his picture taken, and exhibited a watch, chain and revolver. He offered the watch to several persons, stating that he was going west to Montana, and that he would like to sell them. He finally sold the watch and chain and took the train west, as it is supposed. The testimony before the coroner's jury disclosed the fact that the watch, chain and revolver that were in his possession were the property of Washington. He had in his possession about $5. Tibbitts Sunday were found near the bodies of the murdered men. Other strong circumstantial evidence points unmistakably to the guilt of this youthful man. A post-mortem examination was made by Dr. Newcomb, of Perham. Four bullet wounds were found in the brain, and an extensive fracture of the skull of Washington. The body of Feherbach was literally hacked to pieces, more than twenty cuts ranging from the full breadth of the axe crushed in the back of his head, and the other wounds in the ribs were cut through with the axe in the hands of this human fiend. The body of Washington was buried by order of the coroner and the body of Feherbach was buried by the Catholic church of Perham, of which he is a member. The coroner's jury returned a verdict that the deceased men came to their deaths at the hands of John Tibbitts. As soon as the bodies were found Justice Rothpletz telegraphed to all towns west on the Northern Pacific and officers were immediately sent in pursuit of Tibbitts, who was arrested in Bismark, D. T. He was taken back to the scene of the murder. He confessed, in part, by saying that he was not alone in the affair.
