

THIRD EDITION. SATURDAY EVENING, JUNE 17, 1882.

NEWS FLASHES. Telegraphic Sparks of To-day.

Justice Bradley, of the United States supreme court, has been informed by a Star reporter that an application had been made to him by Mr. Charles H. Reed, the attorney for Guiteau, for a writ of habeas corpus. Justice Bradley has not yet decided what disposition to make of the application. Mr. Reed has persistently denied making application to Judge Bradley for a writ of habeas corpus, and previous to his departure for Baltimore this morning told a Star reporter that he had not yet acted in the matter.

The House to-day resumed consideration of the river and harbor bill in committee of the whole. In Petersburg, Va. a subscription headed by the tobacco exchange has been started for the relief of the Patrick county sufferers.

All the employees of the different post-offices in New York city have received a circular from a member of the executive committee of the Republican party announcing the fact that a check received from the employees for $10,000 would be welcome, and would be used solely for the purpose of "stamping out the Democratic party."

Col. Chas. Cole, editor and proprietor of the Maryland Union, of Frederick city, and a member of the Maryland association of editors, died this morning from the effects of a stroke of paralysis received on the 8th inst. He was 69 years of age.

Charles Bach, of Toledo, Ohio, who murdered his wife in October last, has been convicted of murder in the first degree, and sentenced to be hanged on October 30.

At Newport, R. I. some time during last night, several poles which were erected on Bellevue avenue by the Western electric light company, of Boston, were cut down. It is believed that the other poles will be treated in the same way to-night.

MURDEROUS CRIMINALS. They Hatched Their Sea Captain. NEW YORK, June 17.—The chief mate of the ship, Freeman Clark, reports that while the vessel was in latitude 20 north, and longitude 50 west, the Captain, Jas. Deight, of Springfield, Mass., while asleep in his berth, was attacked and brutally beaten by a body of sailors, who brought to this port by the chief officer, his cabin, and, although badly wounded, he grasped both his assailants and raised an alarm. The crew rushed to his assistance and killed both criminals, throwing their bodies overboard. The ship was brought to this port by the chief officer. No cause can be assigned for the murderous attack, the captain being a general favorite. The vessel lies at her dock in Brooklyn.

RAILROAD MOVEMENTS. What Are the Magnates After. MILWAUKEE, June 17.—Some curiosity is manifested as to the occasion for the presence of so many eastern railway magnates in the west. The recent extended trip of Jay Gould, through the west has been followed by a similar trip of President Garrett, of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, President Geo. B. Roberts, of the Pennsylvania railroad, and President Jewett, of the Erie, who arrived last night. Vanderbilt is expected early next week. There is much speculation as to whether these trips are purely for recreation or whether the coincidence of their coming so close together is not due to some secret plan of the managers of importance in railroad circles.

STORM IN ST. LOUIS. A General Flooding of the City. ST. LOUIS, June 17.—The severest storm that has visited this region for a very long time passed over this city between 12 and 1 o'clock this morning. The wind attained a velocity of 60 miles an hour and did very great damage, but so far as known no injury of magnitude occurred. Trees and fences were prostrated in all sections of the city; shutters, signs, chimneys, etc., were blown down and general havoc among small things prevailed. Very heavy rain accompanied the wind and the streets, sewers, cellars in many parts of the city were flooded.

A little wisdom about black silk for hot weather. The first thing, of course, is to get the right silk; but what we have in mind relates to the lining as well.

We have three sorts of black silk at $1 (it isn't worth while to put much money in a summer black silk, you know) two are American gros-grain, and the third is Lyons cachemire. They are different; of different value really; but, as you will choose them by color, we needn't say anything about value—one is blue-black, another medium, the other jet. The poorest of the three is well worth $1.

The best waist lining is of black pongee silk; for it is strong and durable, and cooler than any other lining that is strong enough.

New foulards, 45 cents; wide, 24-inch; of simple figures, dots and rings; colors and black-and-white.

Black grenadines should not be bought now, without being sure you have the very latest news. And it doesn't much matter what the news is elsewhere, so long as the grenadines are mostly here.

We are in a peculiar fix. We get ready for a great trade in grenadines. We bought largely of the best grenadines in the world; and summer, coming without any spring, has shortened our selling time to such an extent that we have got to lose money on these splendid, splendid grenadines.

We are selling to-day, at $1, striped, dotted and damask, all-silk grenadines that should have brought $2 for every yard. These are not the very best; but nearly.

Black lace-bunting news is different. The difficulty is to keep prices down, and get the goods. We have done it so far. Nobody else is selling them so low as we; and may be we can't long.

A thousand more hemstitch and embroidered collars have come; new patterns among them. Linen collars embroidered with a metallic thread that looks exactly like gold. We guarantee them to retain the gold look after washing—we guarantee; but we don't know whether they will or not. These have been laundered and show no sign of tarnish. Why shouldn't they bear washing a dozen times, if once? If they don't wash well, bring them back; and we'll return them to the maker, and thank you for the information. But—too many words.

Evening colors in fine wool and silk-and-wool constitute so large and rich a stock here as to cause surprise every day. Not only is the variety of such goods very large, but we have been fortunate almost all the time so far since winter in having some of the favorite sorts below value. Perhaps we hardly ought to mention again Lupin's 60-cent albatross at 37 1/2 cents; though we have a little of it left. There are two or three others below value now.

Blue cloth for country, sea and traveling, 54-inch, 90 cents, $1 and $1.25. Check and stripe linens at 25 cents are thought well of.
