

TALMAGE ON THE HORSE.

ENCOURAGING THE DEVELOPMENT OF SPEED ON THE TRACK.

The Sin Beginning When the Betting Begins—The Horse Not to be Improved at the Expense of the Man—The Track.

Mr. Talmage, at the Brooklyn Tabernacle Sunday morning, preached and whined, curreted and pranced in admiration of the docility, the affection, the intelligence and the fleetness of the horse; and snorted, and pawed, and clamped over the perversion of the noble qualities to the practice of gambling on race courses.

For years the lion has been called the king of beasts. I knock off this crown and put it upon the horse—in every way the nobler, whether in shape, or spirit, or sagacity, or affection, or usefulness. He is semi-human, and knows how to reason on a small scale.

It comes into almost every kingly procession, into every great occasion, and into every great triumph, comes into the imagery of Job, and David, and Isaiah, and Ezekiel, and Jeremiah, and John; and he smells the battle afar off, the thunder of the marching host, the shouting of the host, the shouting of the host.

But what shall I say about the mal-treatment of this wonderful creature of God? A man who owned 4,000 horses, some say 40,000, wrote in the Bible: "A righteous man will carefully feed the beast." Sir Henry Lawrence's care of the horse was beautiful and Christian. He says, "I expect I shall miss Conrad, because I have taken so much care of him."

But whatever can be done for the development of his swiftness and his strength and his majesty ought to be done. I am glad that large books have been written to show how he can be best managed, how his ailments can be cured and what his capacities are. It would be a shame if in this age of the world, when the florist has turned the thin flower of the world into a gorgeous rose, and the horticulturist has changed the acid and natural fruit of the ancients into the very poetry of pear and peach and plum and grape, and the miserably creatures of old time barnyards have become the majestic and the Alderney and the short horn, that the horse, grander than them all, should get no advantage from our science, our civilization, or our Christianity.

Reigart's Old Brandy, sold by our enterprising young friend, Mr. E. S. Slaymaker, this Brandy has stood the test of years, and has never failed, as far as our experience extends, and we therefore give it the preference over all other Brandy, no matter with how many breaking bottles they are branded. One-fourth of the impudent dyspeptic who has a sound stomach, the second was taken by a sound stomach, a stomach capable of digesting anything which the second was taken by a sound stomach.

Reigart's Old Brandy, in cases of dyspepsia, we can summon a number of witnesses—one case in particular we cite:—A hard-working farmer had been afflicted with an exhaustive Dyspepsia for a number of years; his stomach would reject almost every kind of food; he had used various remedies, but without success. In fact, he was obliged to restrict his diet to crackers and stale bread, and as a beverage he used Metcalf's Beer. He is a Methodist, and then, as now, he had a hearty appetite, and he had a hearty appetite, and he had a hearty appetite.

REIGART'S OLD WINE STORE. Brandy as a Medicine. The following article was voluntarily sent to Mr. H. E. Slaymaker, agent for Reigart's Old Wine Store, by a prominent practicing physician of this county, who has extensively used the Brandy referred to in his regular practice. It is commended to the attention of those at Indigestion and Dyspepsia.

JOHN WANAMAKER'S. PHILADELPHIA. TUESDAY: White muslin dresses at about three-quarters value. A few are shown in the window of 1301 Chestnut, each one marked with its price. Very many more are within.

The materials are nainsooks, linons d'Inde, mulls and Swisses. Some are very plainly made with little or no trimming beyond some deft handling of the material itself; and some are elaborate enough. The extreme prices are $3.50 and $60. An excellent plain dress is sold for $5; neat and well made.

Low prices can almost always be put upon such goods a little late in the season. It's rather early now; but profitable making appears to be over already. Just now you have the double advantage of many such dresses to choose from and low prices. 1301 and 1303 Chestnut Street.

Satin merveilleux and surah at $1 and $1.25 are among the most inviting of seasonable black silks. An American heavy gros-grain, black, at $1.25 we should scarcely mention now, but for its being a little under value—ten or fifteen cents.

Moire-stripes ($3) are the only black silk grenadines that are at full value. They happen to be scarce. Velvet grenadines are down from $8.50 to $5; and most of the rich grenadines are off a dollar a yard, or more.

Lace bunting at 1 1/2 cents a yard; cream, light-blue, navy-blue, sage, bronzes, browns, and a great many such colors. It should bring 25 cents. Just so with black.

Scotch ginghams of fine-check patterns, so fine as to look like plain colors, and even plain colors are in great favor. 25 and 30 cents. The handkerchief patterns so popular last year at 31 cents are now 15.

American ginghams that usually sell for 15 are now 10. Isn't it a good time to put all the Cook Books on a table by themselves and ask you to look them over, when eating is hard work and cooking a good deal harder? It is better to eat something than others. It is better to cook some than others. There is help in the books.
