

COLUMBIA NEWS.

OUR REGULAR CORRESPONDENCE

The late rains have caused the river to rise. The special drill of Co. C, last evening, was very poorly attended.

Judge Hamon has gone on a short tour for his health. The improvements in the yard back of the P. R. R. freight depot have been completed.

Heavy shipments of sand from this place are being made over the Pennsylvania railroad.

Work was begun this morning on the siding which will connect the Pennsylvania railroad with the Keely stone works.

Mr. Albert Sourber, formerly a resident of town, returned to his home in Philadelphia this morning, after a short visit to friends here.

A party from Lancaster arrived in town this morning. They will spend the night in fishing below the dam.

Mrs. F. S. Heltz has returned from Philadelphia, where she has been on an extended visit to a daughter.

Mr. Joseph Herbat was in town yesterday, endeavoring to get moccasins to make repairs on Haldeman's furmace which has blown out.

The room formerly used by Mr. G. Richardson as a bookstore is now used as a packing room, in connection with Fenwick's cigar factory.

Mr. Philip Rodgers, residing near Lancaster, was thrown from his buggy on Cherry street, last evening, and received a severe wound on the back of his head by striking it against a curbstone.

Mr. Edgar Heitshausen has received from Mr. W. Foxe a challenge from a Reading baseball club, for a match game with a Columbia club, to be played on the regular club here, it was decided to decline a game with a picked nine.

Death of Joshua W. Jack. Joshua W. Jack, architect and builder, died at his residence, No. 218 North Duke street, about noon to day, in the 83d year of his age.

Mr. Jack was a native of Lancaster county, Pennsylvania, more than half a century ago, and continued to reside here to the time of his death.

He was twice married, his first wife died young without issue. His second wife was a Miss Colvin, by whom he had two sons and one daughter, of whom three daughters survive—one of them being the wife of F. L. Baker, esq., of Marietta, and the other single.

Mr. Jack followed building and carpentering nearly all his life, and many of the finest buildings in this city were erected by him. Among them may be named the handsome residence now owned by S. H. Reynolds, esq., and St. Paul's Reformed church. Also the five Presbyterian church in Harrisburg.

The oldest inhabitants recollect Mr. Jack as sexton of the Presbyterian church as long ago as 1830, and afterwards as one of the leading singers in the choir of St. James church. He was for many years captain of the old Washington artists, a famous militia organization in the olden time. He also held a commission as major in the Pennsylvania militia for some years.

He was elected and re-elected a member of the city councils and of the school board, and held other offices of trust. Several years ago he was elected alderman of the Sixth ward, but increasing years and declining health admonished him to retire from all active pursuits, and for a few years past he has lived retired. He was upright, intelligent and energetic in business, a kind father and husband, an honest public officer, a pleasant companion and a good citizen. His genial and well-known face will be missed by hundreds of friends, who notwithstanding his ripe old age will sincerely regret his death and sympathize with his aged wife and family in their bereavement.

HOUSEHOLD DECORATION. Some Good Examples of Good Taste. A very commendable and successful attempt at window gardening is being made on the front of Mrs. Reigart's boarding house, East King street, corner of Christian.

At many of the windows of the second, third and fourth stories boxes and vases are filled with blooming flowers, graceful vines and other ornamental plants which are spreading forth into a harmonious and beautiful effect.

Mrs. Chas. E. Heintzsch has also begun some similar window gardening, and several other persons in the city have set an example which if more generally followed would add much to the beauty and freshness of the town and break the monotony of the plain brick fronts.

The cultivation of vines at the front of the houses is also becoming more general and should be encouraged and encouraged. Some of the residences on North Duke street show what picturesque beauty can be imparted by this simple means and the growth of such graceful ornamentation in the vine is just the property.

DAMAGES PAID.

Part of the damages caused by the opening of East Marion street were paid to the parties this morning by the commission.

In some of these cases the amounts are the same as made by viewers, and others compromise were made. These are sums paid by the county only: J. U. Fritchie, $215; H. C. Brubaker, $60; G. H. Hartman, $60; Wm. Schultz, $25; Jacob and Adam Pontz, $400; Mrs. Anna Klebo, $22; Carl Rapp, $30; Jacob S. Smith, $60.

Others remain to be paid to the amount of $600.

John Snyder's saloon, on North Queen street, has been very handsomely repainted, the exterior being of straw color with dark green trimmings. Mrs. C. deserves credit for introducing some novelty in the use of exterior ornamentation. The building of Wiley, Eberly and Brubaker, on North Duke street is also being handsomely repainted.

RESCUED FROM DEATH.

The following statement of William J. Coughlin, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1874 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and my flesh was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my left lung as big as a half-dollar. I expected to die, but I was cured by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. I was so far gone at one time that I went around that I was dead. I gave up hope but a friend told me of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. I bought a bottle and used it, and I was cured. I feel better. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and I feel better spirits than I have for the past three years.

"I wish to hope you will publish it, so that every one afflicted with Diseased Lungs will be induced to take Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs, and be convinced that CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED. I have taken two bottles and can positively say that it has done me more good than all other medicines. I have taken since my sickness, my cough has almost entirely disappeared and I shall soon be able to go to work." Sold by H. B. Cochran, 137 North Queen street, North Queen street. j31-2w4w

THIRD EDITION.

FRIDAY EVENING, JULY 7, 1882.

MORE BAD LANGUAGE. BUTTERWORTH'S DISGUSTING TALK. The Ohio Representative's Utterances Decried by the Ladies' Bazaar and Ordered to be Stricken From the Record.

WASHINGTON, July 7, 11:15.—The House went into committee of the whole on sundry civil appropriation bill. General debate to close at two o'clock.

Mr. Butterworth (Ohio) made a speech in reply to Mr. Bayne's criticism of the present administration. The executive, he said, needed no champion, and explained the course of the administration.

During the speech of Mr. Butterworth a colloquy arose between him and Mr. Cox, and Mr. Butterworth said to Mr. Cox: "You have a district so thoroughly rotten that it votes the Democratic ticket by instinct." This angered Mr. Cox somewhat, and he replied that such a remark came with a bad grace from a gentleman who had seduced Ephraim Holland, who, according to the gentleman, was a Democratic prostitute.

In reply Mr. Butterworth made an allusion which is not of a nature fit for publication, and which was characterized by Mr. Cox as the remark of a blackguard. Consequently an effort was made to have the colloquy omitted from the record, and it was accomplished, though not until a debate had gone on for some time of such a character as to lead Mr. Money, of Mississippi, to suggest that the chair request the ladies to retire from the galleries, and many passengers had imbibed freely.

Five additional bodies have been recovered this morning, namely Willie Ewing, John Christie, Miss Shields, John Tomlinson and a body supposed to be that of Edward Duffy.

St. PETERSBURG, July 7.—It is stated that nine thousand copies of a revolutionary proclamation printed by a secret press and signed by Nicholas Constantinoievich, cousin of the Emperor, have been discovered at the ministry of the marine, and that immediately after the discovery the director of the department committed suicide.

A Minister Murdered by Indians. LITTLE ROCK, July 7.—A terrible tragedy occurred in Indian territory Sunday last, near McAllister. Rev. W. J. Spangler, Methodist minister, who was disliked by some young Indians, was set upon in a lonely spot and killed. No positive clue to assassins.

INTERNAL REVENUE REDUCTION. Republican Senators Discuss the Subject. WASHINGTON, D. C., July 7.—The Republican members of the Senate held an informal caucus this forenoon, and discussed the question of internal revenue reduction, for the purpose of ascertaining the views of the members in regard to the pending bill. The question was raised in the Senate should accept the House bill as modified by the finance committee, or insist upon an entirely different measure. The caucus adjourned without action, however, and the subject went over to a future caucus, which will be held this evening or to-morrow.

THE WEEK'S BUSINESS FAILURES. NEW YORK, July 7.—The failures reported to New York during the week are in number 109 for the whole country, made up as follows: Eastern states 11; Western 27; Southern 23; Middle 21; Pacific states and territories 13; New York city 4. The great majority of these disasters occurred among a petty class of traders.

DEATH OF A FAMOUS RUSSIAN GENERAL. LONDON, July 7.—A dispatch to Reuters' telegram company from Moscow, announces the sudden death of Gen. Skobelev, the famous Russian general, at the Hotel Dussaux there.

MILITARY PREPARATIONS IN ENGLAND. LONDON, July 7.—Military preparations continue. During yesterday afternoon all the officers of the first battalion of the Scots guards were ordered to rejoin their regiment. Two battalions at Aldershot have been ordered to embark for Egypt.

THE LICK MILLS IN CALIFORNIA BURNED. SAN JOSE, Cal., July 7.—The Lick mills were destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss is not known, though over $100,000 was invested in the business. Several workmen barely escaped with their lives.

THE TARIFF COMMISSION IN SECRET SESSION. WASHINGTON, July 7.—The tariff commission met at the Ebbitt house, at 13 o'clock to-day. Immediately upon assembling the doors were closed.

TERRIBLE WORK OF THE WINDS. FORT SMITH, July 7.—The cyclone of Monday killed 20 head of cattle near Van Buren, and of three men who were herding them one was killed outright and the other two fatally hurt.

GRAIN AND PROVISION QUOTATIONS. One-half bushel quotations for grain and provisions, furnished by S. K. Yant, Broker, 154 East King street. July 7.
