the fire in Alexandria was not spreading

Order Restored in Alexandria.

Standard, dated Alexandria Saturday morning, says: "It is now possible to walk the streets without an escort.

The cafes and shops are reopening and commerce is generally reviving.

Admiral Seymour telegraphed at 10:30 this morning: "I am organizing a police force as fast as possible and I have occupied the gates and two forts."

The Times in a leading article this morning says: "Whatever conclusions Mr.

Bright may form in regard to his duty in this great crisis, he will be treated with respect, but we hope that no divergence of opinion will definitely sunder him from the men with whom he has so long been associated."

Dilke's Declaration.

LONDON, July 15.—In the House of Commons this afternoon Sir Charles Dilke in reply to the question whether steps would be taken to intercept Arabi Pacha on the road, said: "Our proceedings relate to Alexandria. The other matter is Thirteen Hundred Christians Saved.

Alexandria dispatch to the Times says thirteen hundred Christian refugees were saved in the night during the massacre.

the soldiers attacked the original plunderers and robbed them of their prey.

Arabi Pacha during the engagement was in the fort of Bab el Nasser, which he received a shot. After the firing had ceased he rode through the town accom-

Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars Swept Away by the Destroying Element—Some of the Principal Structures.

New York, July 15.—The loss by the fire at Washington and Vestry streets last night was confined wholly to the property of the Holbrook manufacturing company, and the factory building in which it was contained. These losses are about and foot up the sum of $200,000. The amount of insurance is $124,350. The Moller, Syrup company, Washington street, was supposed to be a heavy investor in the property, but, however, showed that its machinery, engines, etc., were safe and intact. As the stock of the concern had just run entirely out it is practically no loss according to Mr. Moller's own statement and no insurance. The Holbrook manufacturing company estimates its losses as follows: Stock $110,000, machinery $20,000, office furniture, $6,000.

The full amount of their insurance is $99,

550. The building was the property of Isaac O'Dell ex-president of the Mechanics' bank. It cannot be replaced for less than $80,000, and as it is totally destroyed the loss is put at that figure. It is covered by insurance to the amount of $35,000.

Among the companies said to be interested are the Greenwich, $1,000,000; Merchants,

$250,000; Broadway, $10,000, and Continental,

$75,000.

The damage to the buildings Nos. 243 and 245 Pearl street by the fire last night is estimated to be between $6,000 and $7,000. The upper floor of Pearl street building where the fire started, occupied by Charles Crowell and the Empire lithographing and printing company, was between $30,000 and $40,000. The first floor of 243 Pearl street is occupied by Laley, Doubledy & Co., paint and oil etc. dealers insured for $20,000 which they will cover the loss. The property of Emery & Co. occupying the first floor of 245 Pearl street, was insured for $10,000 and occupied the first floor of 245 Pearl street and are tobaccoists, insured for $45,000 which are chiefly by water. Louis

C. Glover, cords and twines, who occupied a portion of the first floor of 243 Pearl street and also the first floor of

No. 13 Pearl street, was insured for $10,000, which will more than cover his loss. The Photo-Electrotype company, who occupy the upper floors of the Cliff building, say their losses are comparatively trifling. The insurance companies are busy trying to estimate the exact amount of the loss.

Big Fire in Oregon.

PORTLAND, Or., July 15.—A heavy fire was reported yesterday at the town of Colfax, Washington Ter. No particulars have been received as yet, but it is estimated that the loss will not fall short of $150,000. The heaviest individual loss is $35,000.
