MR. "TUG" WILSON.

STANDS ALL MR. SULLIVAN'S BLOWS

The Great Champion Hammer the Estimating English "Sullivan" Ring and Knocks Him Down 27 Times, But Does Not Subdue Him.

The great boxing match between Mr. "Tug" Wilson and Mr. Dan L. Sullivan took place last night at Madison Square Garden. The conditions of the fight were that if Mr. Wilson could stand up for four three-minute rounds he should receive $1,000. In the center of the great auditorium a twenty-four foot ring five feet above the floor had been erected, and around it some 2,000 seats had been placed. These were filled soon after the doors were opened. Inspector Thorne and Captain Williams, with a couple of hundred policemen were present to preserve order. At seven o'clock fully a thousand people were in the garden, and half an hour later the crowd had grown to fifteen or sixteen thousand. It was a motley gathering, mainly composed of thieves and ruffians, though many respectable people were present. Three women were seated in a box on the north-west side.

At 9:30 Mr. Wilson and Mr. Sullivan, the first accompanied by Arthur Chambers and George Holden and the latter by Billy Madden and Joe Goss, appeared in the ring. The vast audience rose and cheered the two men and were wild with delight, because they saw there was no fizzle and a real, earnest, hard fight would take place, and they were not disappointed. Betting at this time stood 100 to 75 in favor of the American. Both men were stripped to the waist and wore tight-fitting, Harry Hill, by unanimous consent was chosen referee and warned the men to get ready. Before the fight began both men were summoned to the side of the ring and submitted their gloves to the inspection of Captain Williams. This officer expressed himself as satisfied and good naturedly shrugged his shoulders at the laughter of the audience. Wilson, holding $1,000 in his gloved hand, then ran over to where Mr. Sullivan sat and offered to bet that amount that he would not be knocked out. Mr. Sullivan declined the offer, saying there was already enough money on the match. Goss and Holden then left the ring, and at 9:40 Harry Hill, watch in hand, called time. The terms and conditions of the fight were four rounds, to be fought Marquis style. Queensbury rules, of three minutes each; one minute rest and ten seconds in case of a knock-down for the fallen man to get up. If Mr. Wilson should fight for the four rounds Mr. Sullivan engaged to pay him $1,000, which was deposited in Harry Hill's hands.

Promptly to the call of the referee both men stepped to the middle of the ring and grasped hands, their seconds, Madden and Chambers, doing likewise. When both men were in full view Mr. Sullivan seemed to tower above his adversary. Mr. Wilson's face is the perfect one of a fighter. His body is stout, his legs good and his arms powerful, although his physique is nothing compared with the magnificent one of Mr. Sullivan. Mr. Sullivan weighed 190 pounds and Mr. Wilson 160. Notwithstanding the difference the Englishman, though smaller, appeared to be a very full pugilist, and himself in the ring, and made a game fight. He stood the punishment inflicted on him by Mr. Sullivan bravely, and though knocked down twenty-seven times, fought against the ropes, and punched and battered the one of Mr. Sullivan. Mr. Sullivan was very quick in dodging and thus evaded terrific blows that would have felled a horse. The rounds were as follows:

Round 1. Both men advanced to the center of the ring, and Mr. Wilson leading planned a light blow on the champion's face. The latter then went at the Englishman viciously and nine times in succession knocked him down. He fought him all over the ring and on the ropes, planting heavy, stinging blows on his face and back.

Round 2. This round was a repetition of the first, Mr. Wilson acting on the defensive, while Mr. Sullivan pitched in hammer and tongs and laid Mr. Wilson out eight times, but the latter always managed to regain his feet before the expiration of the ten seconds. He succeeded in getting in one or two blows on Mr. Sullivan, and when knocked down, drew Mr. Sullivan on top of him once or twice.

Round 3 was hard and desperate. Both men were sweating profusely. Mr. Sullivan, with clenched teeth, rushed at Mr. Wilson and knocked him against the ropes and all over the ring. The little Englishman stood up bravely and gamely on the terrible slugging he was receiving. Once in a while he gained a few seconds by clinching and holding Mr. Sullivan's arms, but it was for a very few seconds only. In this round he was knocked down five times.

Round 4. This being the final round the audience drew close about the ring. Mr. Sullivan, it could be plainly seen was angry, and when time was called fairly jumped for Mr. Wilson. He pounded and hammered him and knocked him clean off his feet five times more, but the little fellow stuck it out till the fight was declared at an end, the time being fifteen minutes, including three minutes for rest. Both men shook hands at the conclusion of the fight and Mr. Sullivan left the ring Mr. Wilson was surrounded by friends and warmly congratulated. Tubs of water, sponges and the other necessary articles for occasions of this kind were provided and he was thoroughly washed and sponged. Afterward both men met at Harry Hill's and Hill paid the $1,000 to Wilson. There were fully 15,000 people outside of the building as the fight went on. Much money changed hands on the result, both men being heavily backed. At the end of the second round the crowd outside the garden rushed against the doors and carried them away.

Suicide of a Wife and Mother.

Mrs. Adolph Nafenbrock, wife of a brewer of Lockport, twenty miles north of Newcomstown, Ohio, committed suicide by hanging herself from a tree on Sunday and two children to Sunday school, telling them that she desired to be alone for a while and take a good sleep. When they returned they found her lifeless body suspended by a shawl from the bedpost. She attempted suicide three weeks ago and cut herself badly with a razor. Sickness drove her insane.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE

A SUNDAY AT ELIZABETHTOWN.

What Our Correspondent Has to Say of Old St. Peter's and the Other Churches There.

Christ's Reformed church, of this place, has recently undergone some extensive repairs during the last few weeks, in the shape of repapering and repainting. A new roof has also been added. Services on account have been somewhat interrupted by the town the congregation was reconsecrated to divine service. The services, both morning and evening, were well attended. In the morning Rev. E. V. Gerhart, D. D., of the Reformed seminary, conducted the reconsecrating service and preached in German, assisted by the pastor, Rev. J. C. Pannebecker. Rev. J. G. Fritchey, of Lancaster, was also present. In the evening Dr. Gerhart again preached, this time in English. The interior of Christ's church is now one of the handsomest in the town, the congregation is growing and the Sunday-school and other organizations of the church are in a progressive condition, due largely to the work and energy of its esteemed pastor, Rev. Pannebecker.

A large congregation listened to the sermon preached in the Lutheran church on Sunday by its new pastor, Rev. G. S. Seaman. This is Mr. Seaman's first charge, he having graduated but lately. The sermon in question was based on the words, "Am I my brother's keeper?" And the main point dwelt upon was man's responsibility to man, and the influence—great or small—each one is supposed to exercise in life's battles.

Next Sunday Rev. Seaman will be formally installed pastor of the church, the installation services to be conducted by Rev. Mr. Trabert, a former pastor of this church, but now residing in Lebanon. Mr. Seaman has made a number of warm friends since his residence here, and shows that ministerial push and enterprise. If we dare call it such, that augurs well for a successful pastoral career.

In Elizabethtown to-day stands the old Catholic church in Lancaster county, and no doubt one of the oldest in the State. On a slab just over the main doorway is seen the half-effaced inscription of its name—St. Peter's—and the date of its erection, 1799. It is built of grey stone, with heavy lines of plaster of the same color running in disjointed lines. Three different styles have contributed to its extension, to make it the roomy, comfortable edifice that we see at present. The part built by Rev. Father Trent in 1799 was very small; to it Rev. Father Kernan (now of Harrisburg) built a small extension on either side of the main building; but the last extension, making it form the shape of a cross—with the two wings forming the cross-piece—was added by that veteran priest, the lamented Father Keenan, who was one of its earliest priests when he closed his long and successful pastoral career in Lancaster some years since. A few years ago this charge, with that of Middletown, was placed under the care of Rev. Father Feiser, who has given his name to this old edifice by a thorough renovation having been undertaken.

Stained glass windows have taken the place of the old wall and floor glass; a tower, with bell, has been placed on the main portion of the building; a number of new pieces of statuary have been placed within the chancel and being graced with the figures of several of the windows are the gift of several ladies and societies connected with the church, and bear the figures of the apostles. The church stands somewhat back from the street, and in the rear of it is the graveyard, where lie the remains of its founders, while some are buried in the chancel. The "chancel" is a low stone. Many of the old gravestones are since decayed, but upon many can be traced dates far back to 1780, and some few to the time when the log cabin church stood there, 1768. It is a place always visited by the strangers. (The feast of our Lord, Mount Carmel) being Father Feiser's alternate Sunday to be at Middletown, the service was conducted by Rev. Father George Feiser, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

MOUNT JOY NEWS.

Friday was the forty-fifth birthday of Mrs. John Eagle, of Mount Joy, and a number of her young friends decided to honor the event by a surprise party. Accordingly on the evening of that day a lot of young folks of that vicinity turned out in a body and took the Eagle residence by surprise. At a late hour the party partook of a fine collation, and after having indulged in various games and dancing the affair was ended.

The Columbia ball players did not put in an appearance on Saturday afternoon, occasioning some disappointment. The picked nine announced to play them played a match game with the Juniors, a home organization, and beat them by a score of 43 to 3 runs.

In order to remove what seems to be a wrong impression on the minds of some, we will state that Messrs. Balmer, Heiser, and Herr are the men who called on "Squire" John H. Zeller for advice about the Milton Grove swindle.

The funeral of the Rev. John G. Clair, which took place from his late residence on Friday morning, was largely attended. The Presbyterian Sunday school will picnic at the Dell, on Wednesday. If the weather is unfavorable, the celebration will take place the first nice day following.

Budd Cunningham is home from Philadelphia for a short visit. The editor of the Star and News is happy. It's a boy. The woolen mills are crowded with orders. They talk of running day and night. Members of Cove lodge, 301. K. of P., paid a promise to their Marietta brethren on Saturday night.

Mount Joy boys now wear the profane circulars pasted in their hats. Special services consisting of reading, singing and prayer, were held at the Presbyterian church on Sunday evening.

BART NOTES.

News from Down the Country. The late refreshing rain has made glad the hearts of tobacco raisers. The cool breeze during the past week has strengthened the toiling harvester. Wheat is being gathered into the barns and promises to be the best crop raised for several years. Corn, although backward at first, is commencing to look fine, and with everything in its favor, will still make an excellent crop.

Oats is turning white and will follow fast in the wake of wheat, with "midges" plenty. Festivals commonly so numerous in this neighborhood, are not very plenty this year. The Methodists and Presbyterians talk of holding one, each soon, but have made no definite arrangements. Dr. John Martin and Benj. Fritz made a trip to New York city a few days ago, and Benj. Fritz's first and he thinks New York beats Georgetown all hollow.

Blackberries are beginning to color; huckleberries are ripe, but be careful where you go to pick them, for farmers intend to enforce the trespass laws, and snakes are plenty.

Beef being high in figure, the moderate in circumstances hail with joy the advent of beans and cabbage. Pork, beans and cabbage are what Lancasterians must look for when they come to Bart; but come; they are plenty and of good quality. The pleasure seekers are looking with interest for seaside excursions, and the excursion to Atlantic City, under the management of Haverstick and Clark, which is slated for August 3d, will be in good season to suit those who are now engaged at farm work. The fare which is only $3.00 from Christiansburg, is very low, and persons desiring to take advantage of this opportunity for a cheap trip to the coast should make known their intention soon. In this vicinity the agent for the sale of tickets is E. P. Moore, who will give all information desired.

STRASBURG NEWS.

Late Intelligence From the Borough. Messrs. John S. Warren and S. Miller start for Philadelphia on Tuesday morning. The Strasburg council, No. 65 Jr. O. U. A. M., appointed the above named gentlemen as delegates to the state Mechanics' meeting. A congratulatory meeting was held in Temperance hall last evening, July 17, at 8 o'clock. The object of this meeting was to express congratulations to the people of Iowa upon the successful step they have made for the cause of temperance and the constitutional amendment. There were a number of five minute speeches, interspersed with music.

A Wise Word From Addison. Says Addison: "Health and cheerfulness mutually beget each other. There are volleys of truth in this. It is difficult to look at the world through cheery glasses, when dark that ministerial push and enterprise. If we dare call it such, that augurs well for a successful pastoral career."

They backing cough can be so quickly cured by Shiloh's Cure. We guarantee. For sale at Cochran's drug store, 137 North Queen St. Jyl-18-82

I am a Baptist Minister, and before I even thought of being a clergyman, I graduated in medicine, but left a lucrative position for my present profession, 40 years ago. I was for many years suffering from Dyspepsia and Electric Oil cured me. I was also troubled with hoarseness, and Thomas' Electric Oil relieved me. My wife was cured of diphtheria, and "Thomas' Electric Oil" cured her. It is a cure for all the ailments of the throat, and I can testify to its cure for the most obstinate cold or cough, and if any one is afflicted with a cold or cough, or if they will use the Oil, and then place the end of the spoon in one nostril and draw the Oil out of the spoon until the head by snuffing as you draw it out, until the Oil falls over into the throat, and practice that twice a week, it will clean it out and cure their catarrh. For weakness and aches in the head, and for all my certain knowledge, it is the only medicine dubbed patent medicine that I have ever felt like recommending, and I am very anxious to see it in every place, for I tell you that I would not be without it in my house—for my consideration. I am now suffering with a pain like rheumatism in my right hand, and nothing relieves me like Thomas' Electric Oil. Dr. E. F. CRANE, Cory, Pa. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 137 North Queen street, Lancaster. Jyl-18-82
