Lancaster Intelligencer.

BATURDAY EVENING, JULY, 22, 1864 ODOS AND ENDS.

Col. Alfred Shorter, of Rome, Ga., whose death has just been amounced, gave to the Baptists the college in that city founded by him, and had spent fully $100,000 upon it before his death.

Rev. Gilbert de in Matyr, the Greenback ex-congressman from Indiana, has been refused permission to decapy a Methodist pulpit in Denver, Col. The paster thought it was rather inconsistent with the purposes to which a church was consecrated to allow a man who made politics his business a privilege which could so flagrantly give the appearance of the church independent.

A good story is tald by a French patter For Faturday Night Persons.

A good story is tald by a French paper of two provincials, a mast and his wife, who visited the Louvre, in Paris. "What struck you most at the Louvre" asked one of the friends, when they returned home and began to tell of the wonder they had seen. "Oh," replied the husband, "a picture which represented Adam and Eve, with the apple and the serpent."

And his excellent wife chimed in: "Yes, we found that very interesting, because you know, we know the anecdote."

After a young child had died and been placed in its cashet, in Auburn Me., a rose bad was placked from a neighboring garden and the stem was placed in one of the lifeless little hands. A day or two elapsed between this incident and the funeral ceremony. In the interval the resebud in the hand of clay was seen to gradually unfold. When the service was held the bud had become a blossom. The phenomenon gave peculiar pleasure to the afflict of family, and was very prettily referred to by the clergyman, who compared the unfolding of the resebud to the blossoming in Heaven of the child.

The Salvation army has been pronounced a nuisance in Brooklyn by some of the people who live near the place which serves as "barracks." These neighbors seem to think that the Salvationists make a great deal more noise than is necessary and that they might be just as, godly as they are with considerably more quiet. The army holds its meetings on the steps of the city hall, where a miscellaneous and not very large crowd gathers to hear its exhortations and join in its songs of Blaine's New Mouse In Washington.

It is square, three stories with mansard and strikes the observer as solid, plain and free from all "gimeracks" or fancy work. The entrance is in a spacious hall, that will be divided into three parts by pillars and partieres, the last part having an open fireplace. On the left, which is the south side, are the two parlors and library that can be thrown into one, and is to be finished in mahogany. The reception and dining rooms are on the other side of the house. The windows are a surprise there are so many, and they are of the heaviest French plate glass, thick as the finger and beautifully clear. There are but two panes, one above the other below. The halls are finished in oak and the chambers in pine, and almost every one of the latter has an open grate, There are twenty-three rooms exclusive of eight bath rooms, each one of these having the stationary stand, tub, etc. There is a fine billiard room in the base ment and a Rusian bath on the second floor. The dumbwaiter is the size of an ordinary elevator, and runs from the base ment to the garret. The contract for this house made the cost $50,000, but it will cost $75,000, if not more, many changes having been made, differing from the original plan.

Dear Bitters—I am here trying to breathe in all the salt air of the ocean, and having been a sufferer for more than a year with a retractory liver, I was induced to mix Hop Bitters with the sea gale, and have found the tincture a glorious result. * * I have been greatly helped by the Bitters, and am not airaid to Yours without a struggle, JOSH BILLINGS.

How Seldom

Can a man refrain from chopping the leaves of the Burdock with his cane as he passes; it is "only a weed," and yet lew plants or weeds are so valuable, and few preparations so popular, as Burdock Blood Bitters, in which all its valuable properties are so skillfully combined.
