WEDNESDAY EVENING, AUG. 2, 1882.

The Veto.

The president's veto of the river and harbor appropriation bill is based on a solid foundation when he finds that "it contains appropriations for purposes not for the common defence or general welfare, and which do not promote commerce between the states."

THE DEMOCRATIC PRESS OF THE STATE AND MANY OF THE REPUBLICAN ORGANS commend Patterson's letter of acceptance as a model of good sense, and recommend Beaver and Cooper to take pattern.

The State Treasury.

There is likely to be a dispute and a law-suit between State Treasurer Baily and the bank at Franklin, Venango county, which has been involved in heavy losses by the defalcations of its cashier, Craft, who was the personal and political friend of State Treasurer Baily.

THE PHILADELPHIA PRESS, disposed to be a little captious, remarks: "Men don't take a farm hand for his good looks. He must be able to tell what he can do, whether he understands what is wanted of him and the like."

Political News.

The president yesterday nominated Henry Fesse, Jr., of Massachusetts, to be consul at Santiago, Cape Verde Islands.

There's millions in it—the rain which has been falling steadily and copiously over the country. Here and there it has caused a slight flood with some loss of property, but the results have been universally beneficial.

THE LATEST NEWS.

WHAT THE MORNING PAPERS BRING.

The Crises, Casualties, Deaths and Disasters of a Day.

It is reported that there are now more than 400 cases of yellow fever in Matamoras.

An unknown man, walking along the tracks of the Philadelphia and Wilmington & Baltimore railroad, at Wilmington Station, yesterday, stepped in front of a train and was killed.

Colonel R. S. Proctor, brother-in-law of Gen. Beauregard, committed suicide yesterday in New Orleans, about the age of fifty years of age.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY, declaring against monopolies and in sympathy with labor, seeking its protection, and in favor of the protection of the industrial interests of Pennsylvania, at this time do solemnly protest against evils which the policy and practices of the Republicans by the insouciance and long possession of office have brought upon the country.—DEMOCRATIC STATE PLATFORM.

In a postscript to a private letter, which came to Howard, Center county, writes The Bellefonte Watchman as follows:

THE STATE TREASURY. There is likely to be a dispute and a law-suit between State Treasurer Baily and the bank at Franklin, Venango county, which has been involved in heavy losses by the defalcations of its cashier, Craft, who was the personal and political friend of State Treasurer Baily.

THE WELCOME RAIN.

GOOD FOR WESTERN CROPS.

Some Damage From Flood in the Southwest.

A delightful rain has visited Urbana, Ill., and the surrounding country. This fact renders the prospect for corn more hopeful than they are.

DR. CULLIS' MIRACLES.

At Old Orchard Beach, the Faith Cure camp meeting, which is in progress under the direction of Dr. Charles Cullis, manager of the Consumptives' home in Boston, is attracting great crowds.
