The town is flooded with organ grinders and itinerant musicians of various kinds, who tear their instruments to pieces in vain endeavor to grind, saw, or blow from 100 horse power. B. W. Grist & them what they call music. If Columbia was under the ban of a plague it could havily be more dull than it is at present. The store keepers try hard to keep awake by reading, and drowsily chatting to one another. Business is at a perfect standstill.

The fine piano which was formerly used at performances in the opera house, and which originally cost $850, has been sold by its late owner, Mr. Will Mathiot for

A house on the Lancaster pike, near Columbia, was robbed of a coat and a considerable quantity of victuals by a tramp. There was no person at home but a servant girl, and her protests were silenced by threats of violence. The rascal has not been seen since, although search was made for him.

Cabin car No. 267, belonging to crew No. 9 of the P. R. R., is the hauds mest one on the road ; that is, it's interior is. It is a marvel of beauty and is as snug and cosy as a Pullman parlor car.

A misplaced switch threw the York ac commodation from the track last evening. It was replaced with a little trouble and delay.

Some rascal, who it caught should be severely punished, cut down the small willow tree in the rear of J. G. Hess' coal office. The twig from which the tree sprang was brought from St Helena, the place of Napoleon's captivity. Two Sunday school picnics left town this morning. The Church of God went to Heise's woods and the A. M. E. church repaired to Lititz.

A valuable English setter dog belonging to Mr. Isaac Snyder was given a dose of pounded glass yesterday by some wretch, which necessitated his being shot. Old local trade. "Spot " had many friends about here, who would make things very unpleasant for the person who did the deed if it could be discovered.

Port Deposit train No. 21 was detained half an hour this morning on account of the track being obstructed by a rock and a tree which had fallen upon it from the hills which border the track.

One hundred and twenty-five persons went to Lancaster in the 12:25 p. m. train to attend the funeral of the late John Wagner, who was buried there this afternoon.

The Independent Republicans.

The Independent Republicans will not hold a meeting in Odd Fellows' hall next Saturday evening, as was intended at their last adjourned meeting. It was at first decided that the wards would jointly elect members of the county committee ; now it is the intention that each ward shall hold its election separately, thus rendering No. 444 Lafayette street at 11 o'clock this a general meeting unnecessary.

BONDS AL THE INLASURY. An Intuence Amount of Them Received. WASHINGTON, Aug. 3.-There were over three thousand packages of three and a half per cent, bonds received at the treasury department to-day for exchange into the new three per cent. bonds. It is impossible as yet to make an approximately correct estimate of the amount of the offers of surrender so far received. Three rackages, post-marked Philadelphia, contained nearly three mil-lion dollars worth of bonds each. A package was received from Cincinnati to day containing $320,000 in three and half per cents. The great majority of the applications so far received are post marked "August 1, 1883, 10 a. m.," showing the great de-sire for priority, and there is considerable curiosity to know the result of the methods adopted for the determining prece-dence, while the details of the plan of awards are not yet completed, it is pretty well established that the decision will be made by lottery. The building is a fine two story brick structure, in the rear part of which is the doctor's residence. Two large windows, with a large glass door opening between them, forms the front of the store. The interior is fitted up with black walnut; in front, at the entrance, is building has not yet been adopted, but it will be pretty and substantial. the prescription counter, and on either side of it, running the length of the store, is the business counter.
