FACTS FOR FARMERS.

MEETING OF AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY.

Full Crops of All the Staples—Diseases of Grapes and Peaches—Insect Pests—Applications of Manures—Proposed Lectures.

The Lancaster County Agricultural and Horticultural Society held a stated meeting in their room, in City hall, Monday afternoon.

The following named members were present:

Joseph F. Witmer, president, Paradise; John C. Linville, secretary, Gap; M. D. Kendig, Creswell; Calvin Cooper, Bird-in-hand; F. J. Dunderberg, city; F. Johnson Miller, Warwick; H. M. Engle, Marietta; S. P. Eaby, esp., city; W. R. Paxson, Colerain; J. Frank Landis, East Lampeter; D. W. Grabill, Petersburg; E. B. Engle, Marietta; J. M. Johnson, city; W. W. Griest, city; Jacob B. Garber, Columbia; Eph. S. Hoover, Manheim; C. L. Hunsucker, Manheim.

Crop reports being called for by Mr. Henry M. Engle, John C. Linville, Johnson Miller, J. Frank Landis, Calvin Cooper and President Witmer reported from their respective sections. The reports regarding the staple articles were substantially the same from all sections. The wheat was better than ever before; the corn rather late, but on the whole promising; the oats fair, but in a few localities very poor; the tobacco very irregular—some of the early planted being very good and some other in unfavorable localities where there had been a drought, very unpromising. The later-planted tobacco under the late copious showers was reported as coming very nicely and giving promise of a good crop. Grass and potatoes were full crops everywhere.

The diseases to which grapes and peaches were subject occupied the attention of several members. The depression in grapes caused by rosy hedges, rot, and other causes in the early stage and by bees and roe beetles later on, might in a great measure be prevented by enclosing the clusters in paper bags. As a rule two-pound bags were recommended, the plan being to tie the bags around the clusters—either at the time they blossom or later—and thus prevent them from being interfered with by bees or other insects. It was stated that a novice could easily bag 500 clusters in a day and that an expert could enter a great many more. Where the clusters hung close together two could be put into a single bag and thus the work could be expedited. The bags cost but a trifle and the increased crop of grapes will much more than pay for the cost. The bags should be tied closely at the top, and perforated at the bottom, to allow the rain to pass off.

The diseases of peach trees—notably the "yellows" and the ravages of the "borer," also formed an interesting topic of discussion. It was generally agreed that no sure remedy for the "yellows" was known except the destruction of the trees affected, so as to prevent the spread of the disease to other trees. The borer, however, could be managed by the careful application of lime. The young trees, before being planted, should be carefully examined to see that they contained no borers. Calvin Cooper recommended that tobacco stems be placed lengthwise in the rows of trees, and secured by being bound with twine. He had tried this plan and found the trees thus treated to be more thrifty than the others and entirely exempt from the borer. Henry M. Engle endorsed this plan, but thought that not only tobacco stems but almost anything else placed around the trees so as to prevent the deposit of the eggs of the borer would be a good remedy. J. Frank Landis, however, said that he and his neighbors had burned the young trees with dry straw, and the result was that while the borer was excluded from the base of the tree he made a lodgment in the crotch of the tree and in the branches above. Henry M. Engle had noticed a worm that injured the peach trees in the crotches and even higher up, but did not think it was of the same species as the well-known peach borer.

S. P. Eaby, esp., read the following paper:

Wheat crop of 1882. A few years ago the question was frequently asked this society: What was the probable cause of our poor and imperfect wheat crops? Numerous reasons were assigned and remedies suggested, such as we needed new seed; that wheat should be cultivated in rows, like corn, to strengthen the straw and prevent lodging. The most generally received opinion, however, seemed to be that something was wrong with the soil. That wheat had been grown for so long a time, that the essential elements for its production were exhausted, and that a chemical analysis of the soil should be made, the want ascertained and the deficiencies supplied by proper fertilizers; or that we must turn our attention to the raising of other products, and leave the new lands of the West to supply our markets with wheat.

This year has shown that our soil is still capable of producing as fine and perfect a crop of wheat as ever was harvested in the county; and all the previous doubts on that point ought to be forever set at rest, and henceforth we must look in another direction for a solution of the question of imperfect wheat crops in this county.

The present season we were favored with weather such as had not been given us during the several previous years when the wheat crops were partial failures; namely, a cool and moist spring, thus affirming the correctness of the old saying: "A wet April and a cool May, bring much grain and make a healthy hay."

How then can we secure cool and moist springs, such as we had during the present season? This question is easy enough answered, but difficult of realization. The difficulty lies in the fact that it will again require extensive co-operation and an outlay for which there is no immediate return. The remedy is no other than the partial restoration of our original forests. We must plant trees to shade the ground and a feeder to the roots of the plants which generally lie near the surface. Mr. Kendig's views were almost unanimously endorsed by other members of the society, nearly all of whom had discarded the old method of plowing the ground down. Henry M. Engle went so far as to say that he would not plow a corn stubble field or a potato field if he wished to seed it in wheat or grass, but would merely run the cultivator over it, and apply the manure on the surface. Calvin Cooper said the best farmer in his neighborhood always applied the manure to the surface, but kept it a year in the barnyard before using it, so as to have it thoroughly rotted and composted. Other members argued that it was not necessary to keep manure in the barnyard for so long a time, as it might be thoroughly composted within a few weeks by mixing it with good earth which costs nothing and did not require much labor.

On motion of Mr. Engle, the secretary was directed to place himself in correspondence with some leading agriculturists with a view of having delivered before the society during the season a course of lectures on agricultural topics.

Mr. Cooper suggested the name of Secretary Edge, of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Society, a suitable lecturer, and suggested that a larger and more convenient room be secured in which to have the lectures delivered.

C. L. Hunsucker said the society labored under great disadvantages in holding its meetings in such an obscure place. Strangers cannot find the room, and if they do make out to find their way up the first flight of stairs they are met at the next floor by a play-card. No admittance to the meeting unless the name of the member is given. Mr. Hunsucker spoke at some length of the lack of interest felt in the society by the farmers at large, and complimented half a dozen of its leading members for their efforts to keep it together. He thought a question as to how it could be secured, there ought to be at least a month's notice given of the intended lectures.

Mr. W. R. Paxson was appointed essayist for next meeting. The following questions were proposed for discussion at next meeting:

Will it not pay the farmer to cut all his cornfodder before feeding it to his cattle? Referred to Peter Hersey.

What is the cause of streaks in butter? Referred to B. Frank Landis.

What is the best wheat to grow in this section? Referred to M. B. Kendig.

It is best to sow timothy seed before or after the drill. Referred to Joseph F. Witmer.

Ought early potatoes, that are intended for winter use, to be taken up when mature or should they be left in the ground until cold weather. Referred to H. M. Engle.

Mr. Engle said he would answer the last named question at length as it would be too late next month. He said the early potatoes should be taken up immediately, if they have not already been taken up. The earlier they are taken up after they have matured the better. It does no good to let them remain in the ground after the tops have died off.

Three seedling applicants to the society by J. B. Lichty were referred to a special committee. The committee reported that owing to the great number of varieties of apples now grown, it is impossible to introduce new varieties, unless they are equally as good or better than the well-known varieties now in use. The apples under consideration are tough and possess no special merit, therefore, the committee recommended them unfavorable.

Adjourned.

A Significant Toast. An Irishman drinking the health of his bishop, gave this toast: "May your reverence live to eat the old Irish that grows over your grave." If anything could make that toast live, it is the toast of the "Irishman" who is to prolong life, and to deliver from the power of insidious and mortal diseases. And what a terrible and fatal disease is liver disease! What intense suffering, too, is connected with urinary troubles! Yet here is a remedy which works marvels in those who are afflicted with these ailments. Why should the doctor's medicine be the storehouse of old men, when Hunt's Kidney gives such renewed vigor and health?

Valuable Improvement. Mr. Noah Rice, Esq., N. Y., writes: "About four years ago I had an attack of bilious fever, and never fully recovered. My liver became so weak that I could not eat, and I was completely prostrated for days. After using two bottles of your medicine, my liver was improved so far that I was able to eat. I can now, though 70 years of age, do all the work of a younger man. I feel that your medicine is a great blessing to the human race. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 127 North Queen street, Lancaster.

Are you made miserable by Indigestion, Constipation, or a general debility? Shiloh's Vitalizer is a positive cure. For sale at Cochran's drug store, 127 North Queen street, Lancaster.

It is the height of folly to wait until you are in bed with disease that will last months, when you can be cured by a timely use of Parker's Ginger Tonic. It is a powerful and healthy stimulant, and is equally as beneficial to the sickly families made the healthiest by it. —Oscar.

Small Comfort. When you are coughing night and day, annoying everybody around you, and hoping it will go away of its own accord, you are suffering from a cold. Buy a bottle of Thomas' Eucalypti Oil, an unalloyed remedy in all such cases. For sale at H. B. Cochran's drug store, 127 North Queen street, Lancaster.

MEDICAL.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

OH, MY BACK!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and do this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

Logansport, Ind., Dec. 1, 1881. For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoyed very much from non-retention of urine. I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used it my stomach does not bother me any. My appetite is simply immense, and my kidney trouble is no more, and my general health is such, that I feel like a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight. O. B. SARGENT.

Leading physicians and clergy-men use and recommend BROWN'S IRON BITTERS. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

1. "Keystone."

PENNSYLVANIA RAILROAD COMPANY, LANCASTER STATION, AUGUST 8, 1881. I have carried for nearly TWO YEARS a Lancaster Watch of the "Keystone" standard grade. It has given me perfect satisfaction in every respect, but especially as an accurate time-keeper—for it has kept WITHIN THE MINUTE with our Standard Railroad Time during the entire past year! To all persons who are required to have correct time, but especially to RAILROAD MEN, I would confidently recommend the Lancaster Watch. W. F. HAMBRIGHT, Passenger Agent.

2. "Keystone."

During the past forty years I have carried a number of watches, but the Lancaster Watch of the "Keystone" standard grade is the best I have ever had for keeping time. I have had it now for nearly TWO YEARS. It runs "to the dot" always, and is as true as any Three-Hundred Dollar Watch I have ever had. I don't believe that I have ever had any watch for ordinary use, turned out of any watch factory in the world. EDWARD KAUTZ, Depot Policeman.

3. "West End."

One year ago, or longer, I purchased from Mr. Louis Weber, a Lancaster Watch of the "West End" standard grade. It has been OF THE MINUTE EVER SINCE with our Railroad Time, and I could not get any higher-priced watch that would be more satisfactory. A watch that will stand the test of RAILROAD USE as well as these Lancaster movements do, must be a good one. This is the only watch I have ever carried that has done anything like its good work, and I don't want anything better. W. F. HAMBRIGHT, Passenger Agent.

4. "West End."

The Lancaster Watch of the "West End" standard grade that I bought from Mr. H. M. Shreiner TWO YEARS AGO, is the best I have had for accuracy. It has run VERY ACCURATELY with the Pennsylvania Railroad Time all the while. I have given me perfect satisfaction. BENJAMIN KIEHL, Depot Employee.
