"Rigoletto," because he gets a good glass of vin ordinaire in Sparafucile's house be fore singing "Le Donna e mobile." Miss Hauk always wanted Col. Mapleson to revive "Lucretia Borgia" be cause there's a "lay out" in the last act, and the contralto, Miss Cary, wished it to be produced likewise, because in the "Brindiai" "Brindisi" there is an opportunity for driuking some good Italian wine. In Verdi's "Macbeth" there is a drinking song and the colonel has been asked repeatedly to revive it, but he refuses.

"Martha " is a favorite with bassi and harytoni, on account of the drinking song for Plunkett. Porter or Dublin stout is the usual beverage when the opera is given, and as the morecau is always encored the singer gets two drinks. Menters of the chorus, have a fondness for "Ernani" on account of the open ing chorus, when they all drink and shout in the jolliest manner possible, and it is the fondest wish of every member of the profession to play some day in an opera when it will be necessary to eat soup and lamb chops and dink four bottles of brandy.

A Father and Son Drowned.

Michael Kessler, a German boy, aged twelve years, residing in Passaic, N. J. went bathing in the canal in that city and was drowned, as was his father. His cries for help brought his father to the spot, who endeavored to rescue his son, although unable to swim. The latter clasped his arms about his father's neck and the result was that both were drowned. It is believed the lad was seized with cramps. The Kesslers had only been in this country seven weeks and were in very poor circumstances. The father and son were employed by Messrs. Jacob Basche & Son. The cries of the widow and little children of the deceased when they learned of their loss were heart-rendering.

John E. Massey Assaulted.

A personal assault was made by "Waddy" James at Franklin court house, Va., on John E. Massey, candidate for congress at-large. James was attended by the county judge, Claiborne, but got the worst of the encounter. There was great excitement and a disturbance ensued, which James was rather roughly handled by unknown parties. Mr. Massey, was arrested, it is stated, at the instance of a Mahoneite, who wished to detain him from keeping his political appointments ; but after half an hour Massey came off triumphant and made a speech from the platform amid great enthusiasm. The Democratic Readjusters declared their purpose to support him.
