DRY GOODS HOUSE,

129--131 NORTH QUEEN STREET

Please don't forget that we sell as good ONE DOLLAR SHIRT as there is offered in this city. We think it is the lett, but we will let you lie the judge. If it is not as good, or better, than you can buy for one dollar, we will refund the money, Judging tran the immense quantities we sell of them, somebody must think it is the best one dollar shirt sold in the city.

Also, please don't forget that we sell a genuine WAMSUTTA MUSLIN SHIRT, with double-felled seam, plackeds on sleeves, reinforced on side and double stitched, fine linen bosom and linen wristbands, guaranteed to fit. For this shirt we only ask 7, cents. Upon examining it you will pronounce it to be as good as many of the shirts sold at one dollar.

Also, please don't forget that we have an ALL-LINEN BOSOM SHIRT, with linen wristbands, reinforced on side, double-stitched on reinforcement, and made of pretty good muslin, that we are selling for 50 cents. You will be surprised to see how good a shirt we are selling for 50 cents, it you call and examine. No couble to show theor, it you want to buy or not.

The greatest wonder of all, and that which will surprise you most upon examining, is the shirt we sell for 25 cents. It is made of fair muslin, all linen bosom, button holes made, has gussets on sleeves and skirt, and is cut full length and width. Of course the great majo rity buyl he better shirts; but yet we sell a great many of the 25 cent shirts, but our great sale is on the 50 cent, 75 cent and $1.00 shirts.

Also, full lines of Undershirts and Drawers, Hoslery, Suspenders, etc.

ON TRIAL FOR BREACH OF PROMISE. The Extraordinary Ardor of a Venerable

Suttor-A Batch of Love Letters Shown in Court,

Cincinnati Inquirer. A case of breach of promise has been brought in our courts involving a lady, the daughter of one of our oldest citizens who for years has occupied one of the most beautiful homes in Avondale. Her hysband was Mr. Fred Hassaurek, the editor of the Volksblatt, a man of fine literary attainments, who has held various positions of trust and honor under the United States government. The married life of Mr. and Mrs. Hassaurek was not pleasant, and both feeling that they could be happier apart, a separation took place, as we understand, by mutual agreement. Mrs. Hassaurek was a belle when she became a bride, and moved in the best social circles. She was finely educated, highly accomplished in many ways and was considered beautiful. These charms Mrs. Hassaurek still fully retains. Of the married life of Mr. and Mrs. Hassaurek the court now has nothing to do. The defendant, Governor I. Morton, is not a stranger in this city. His home is Cambridge, Ohio, a small town near Youngstown. He is a widower, as his let-Youngstown. He is a widower, as his letters to Mrs. Hassaurek, which are published, show. In appearance Governor Morton is anything but prepossessing. He probably was a good looking man sixty years ago, but old age has sadly changed him if such was the case. He is tall, has all the gross obesity which comes with old age, and will probably weigh 225 pounds. Mrs. Hassaurek has retained Mr. Probsco as her attorney, and Governor Morton has consulted Mr. Ramsey. The plaintiff first met the defendant at the St. Nicholas hotel in this city, Governor Morton being presented to the lady by an ac-quaintance of both, Edward Roth. Gov-ernor Morton was, it appears, instantly struck by Mrs. Hassaurek's beauty an attainments. When he visited Cincinnati —and his visits were frequent and of 'ong

duration—he claimed to be a man of great wealth and a politician of influence. He in their affections. But the happiness of made the Grand Hotel his headquarters Pandora was not unmixed with disappointfor a long time, and was received by the Messrs. Gilmour, during his visits, into the privacy of their families with a free-

My DARLING CRICKET: One year ago o-night, at just this time, 8 o'clock, I to-night, at just this time, 8 o'clock, met with the fearful accident from which I am now crippling through the tail end of life. I often think if I had been at home it might have been better for me, but friendship for Margaret and Edward Roth impelled me forward, and now I fear I but you shall be my solace, and although I stump through life on cane and crutch I shall keep a brave heart, for your smiles shall be the halos of heaven, shedding sunshine of love on my face.

I have been here since Monday, and, being alone in my room, I thought I would enjoy the pleasure of sweet corresondence with you through this shaking letter. How would I not give if you were now sitting beside me! Your dead image is with me. "Time but the impression stronger makes, as streams their channels deeper wear." I do not know when I shall be at home, but I will be here next Wednesday, and if you write to me here next Tuesday and direct you letter to me, St. Charles hote!, Columbus, Ohio, I will get it. Give me all the news. How is your own business progressing? If I can I may go down to Cincinnati from here next week. If I do, where can I see my dear Cricket? Yours, with much love,

I. MORTON. The "business" that Governor Morton expressed himself as so deeply interested fair justification and honorable recom n was the the obtaining of a divorce by Mrs. Hassaurek from her husband. On this and other letters the plaintiff bases her charges of breach of promise, saying that the defendant often in her own Louse urged her to secure a divorce that he might marry her. In his next letter, dated Cambridge, O., January 18, 1882, Governor Morton wrote to Mrs. Hassaurek :

MY DEAR SWEETHEART, CRICKET : Your lear, dear sweet letters came last evening just as I was sitting down after supper to commence with my own business. They turned the room and all my surroundings into a bright heaven of happiness.... Oh, my dear Cricket, if I can hope for the continuance of your sweet love, how best will my declining years be ! My only fears are that you may change in your love and forget, or rather cast me off for some younger and perhaps more deserving than I of that sweet love which has become so essential to my life, my pleasures, my all of happiness on earth. I should have no time to stay with you, my dear Cricket, if I did, as I must be there by Thursday if I go; and, besides, I live two hundred miles east of Cincinnati on the road to Washington. But as soon as I come back I will be down to see my sweetheart. I am entirely love-sick to see you. Do you think it will be all right for me to stay at your house? If your folks at home get to hear it, will they not think strange of it? I am so nervous that it is quite an effort for me to write to the idol of my heart. Write to me on the receipt of this, and I will get it before I leave home. You say you are ill. Why don't you get well, my dear, for my sake. MY DARLING CRICKET: Your dear, sweet leiter reached me here, and this is the third attempt to answer. The fact is I have again been quite sick from my cold and it has affected my arms so that I could not write. I go to New York to-day. Write me there so I will get it on my return. FIFTH AVENUE HOTEL, MADISON SQUARE NEW YORK, February 12, 1882. My SWEETEST CRICKET: I will leave My Sweetest Cricket: I will leave here this evening for Washington, where I promise myself the sweet pleasure of getting a letter from my dear sweetheart, Cricket. I am suffering much from my cold. I am so nervous that it was with great difficulty that I can write. Yesterday I tried to write to you, but could not. How hard I long to see you, my sweet, my heart alone can tell. I will be in Washington several days, and will write you from there when you may expect me. from there when you may expect me. Write your next letter to Cambridge. I will be there Friday next. With all the love I have, I remain yours,

I. MORTON. WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 16, 1882. MY DARLING CRICKET : I have just returned here from New York and Philadelphia, and found your dear letters. Indeed, the trip from Philadelphia was much shortened in the sweet anticipation I in-dulged in by the way that I should find your sweet letter when I arrived here, and oh, I am glad to hear that your home relations have come to their reason and restored my dear Cricket to her true place ment and pain. Dear Cricket, write to me, in Cambridge, Ohio, so I may get your letter by Monday next, and I will write dom that is generally accorded only to relatives. He became estranged from Mr. Roth, and in one of his letters to Mrs. Hassaurek—the one of January 18, 1882— Roth, and in one of his letters to Mrs. Hassaurek—the one of January 18, 1882—speaks of that "mere than doubtful friend, Mr. R., whom I begin to look upon as a snake in the grass." His attentions to Mrs. Hassaurek became marked and he went frequently to her husband's house, where he was well received. From Columbus, O., in December last he wrote:

my love for you was not sincere when you know how dearly I love you? My cold is much better, and my limbs are improving. Write me what you think of my coming to your house instead of going to the Grand hotel. Give my love to Bessie and all the rest. I put a secret kiss under the postage-stamp for my darling Cricket. I think of her by day, and have sweet dreams of her by night. She is the light

> GRAND HOTEL, Cincinnati, March 4, 1882. My DEAR CBICKET : I am so broke with my cold and disappointment at not shall live to see how ephermeral their freindship was But let that pass. If I can keep my last-made friend, in you, what is all the world besides? If I can have one true heart that beats responsive to mine, what care 1? To know I have live you shall be my colors and all the world. Seeing or hearing from you that I can scarcely write. If not interfering with your business or pleasure I should be glad to call this afternoon at from two to three o'clock, or at such time as will suit your convenience. Yours as ever, seeing or hearing from you that I can o'clock, or at such that convenience. Yours as ever,

I. Morton.

Messenger will wait answer. This was the case of the plaintiff, Gov. Morton slyly, with all the skill and wit of a divorce lawyer, prevailed upon Mrs. Hassaurek to seek in the court separation from her husband, holding out to her a promise of marriage. His vanity was displayed in everything he did, and is seen in all of his letters often I think of and dream of you, and if The letters of Governor Morton pubdreams invade the silence of the tomb, lished with this certainly gave evidence then you will be there in my long sleep, of an understanding matrimonially beand shall warm my cold embrace! What tween Mrs. Hassaurek and himself. He urged her in every way to secure a divorce, offered to be her attorney, annoyed her with his protestations, begging her to listen to him, to free herself and become his wife, told her, as is seen in his letters, that she was the "halo of heaven, shedding sunshine on his face !" Now that he repudiates all, and withdraws all promises, Mrs. Hassaurek, as a true, pure and honorable woman, who, perhaps, not out of a feeling of love, but from a misrepresentation as to the standing, wealth and ability of Governor Morton, was led to make promises to him that she intended to keep, asks the court to decide whether she is not entitled to a pense from him.

A Few More Left. And a happy circumstance it is, too, that notwithstanding the rapidly increasing demand for Hunt's Remedy, there are a lew more bottles left. This is, indeed, joylul news for the afflicted. People are beginning to find out that they have kidneys, and that weakness of the back and loins, and many supposed rheumatic pains, come from those delicate organs, and may be precursors of serious troubles like Bright's Disease, and of death. Peoples like Bright's Disease, and of death.
People are also finding out that the sure specific for all ailments of the liver, bladder, and kidneys is Hunt's Remedy, and hence the great and increasing demand. And still we are able to say of the bottles or this great temedy, there are "a few more left."

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

OH, MY BACK!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, consumption, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, over-work, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neg-lect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No med-icine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as Brown's Iron Bitters, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

> Logansport, Ind., Dec. 1, 1880. For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoved very much from non-retention of urine. I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used that my stomach does not bother me any. My appetite is simply immense. My kidney trouble is no mere, and my general health! such, that I feel like a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight. O. B. SARGENT.

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend Brown's IRON BITTERS. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.
