

men. Luckily this morning the chief engineer got out of his predicament, and so did the fireman. This was the right box, but there was a great deal of running for nothing.

A reward of $50 will be paid for the capture and identification of the man who struck the alarm from box 36 this morning. Special Officer Krantz opened the box but went away. While gone some one struck the alarm.

Measles. Kaufman & Rife received advice today from the Westchester insurance company, of Brooklyn, of which they are agents, to issue no new policies of insurance on property in this city. Similar instructions have been received by A. A. Herr & Co. agents of the North German insurance company. It was rumored this afternoon that the companies would cancel the policies now in force.

FIRES IN THE COUNTRY.

The burning of Galen Lefevre's barn. The fire at Quarryville, of which we had a short account on Saturday, was quite destructive. It occurred at noon. When first discovered by Philip Ritz, Mr. Lefevre's hired man, the whole interior was on fire. A large tobacco shed within a few feet of the barn caught from the intense heat and was also consumed. The large and valuable wind mill pump was saved by the heroic exertions of Joe Weber, the village barber, who is an old fireman.

The fire certainly occurred on spontaneous combustion from damp oats. As the first discovered by Philip Ritz, who immediately got out all the stock and in one hour nothing was left of the barn or large tobacco shed along side of it which had just been piled previous to Daniel Lefevre's death. It was a well built and commodious shed. The new crops were not yet fit to cut consequently there is no loss on its contents.

Mr. Lefevre has an insurance of $1,000 on the barn and $500 on the shed, but none on the contents. It was well built and he will begin rebuilding next week. Fortunately there was very little wind and it was blowing east or it would have been impossible to save the other building. As it was it was only with hard work that the wagon shed was saved.

The fire was seen from a great distance and a very large crowd was soon on the ground. During the fire Benjamin Suter, who was busy carrying water, was overcome by the heat and was unconscious for some time.

Fires in the East End. Yesterday afternoon a shed belonging to John Zook, on the New Holland pike near the Eden paper mills, was set on fire and burned, together with a straw stack. The fire was near the barn and was saved. Mr. Zook saw the incendiary running from the premises and might have captured him, but he preferred saving his live stock which was in danger of being burned. The extent of the loss, the amount of money recovered, etc., will be reported in our next issue.

Yesterday afternoon a large volume of smoke was seen some miles east of the city and it is reported that a barn was burned northeast of Strasburg borough. No further particulars have reached us.

Death of the Rescue.

Frank Hartmyer had a hearing before Alderman McCormy this afternoon to answer for surety of the peace on a complaint made by Mrs. Stengle and for assault and battery on her. She is his wife. His wife refused to appear against him, but Mrs. Stengle testified that she saw him shoot at her as she sat on a lounge, and that she then entered the room and ran over to her (Stengle's) house. She followed her husband, who had never allowed her to go up stairs he threatened to shoot her also. A lady named Miller testified that she had heard Hartmyer threaten to shoot his wife. For the defence Hartmyer testified that he had never allowed his wife, that on Saturday he was drunk and his pistol went off, but that it was not pointed at his wife. She was scared and ran off, but that she is not now afraid of him and refuses to push the complaint. The Alderman held him to bail to answer for surety of the peace on his wife.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 21.—Gen. David W. G. Swaim, who is the custodian of President Garfield's private papers, including his letter book, covering the period of the last presidential campaign, has authorized the following statement to be made with reference to the published letter of W. Dorsey to the late president: "I have never said or authorized anybody to say for me that those letters are true or false, genuine or spurious. I don't feel called upon to say anything on the subject and I don't intend to be dragged into any controversy of the kind unnecessarily."

General Swaim stated further that he had never threatened to produce the letter book of General Garfield containing his correspondence during the presidential campaign, but intimated that the letter book will be introduced if it should become necessary to defend the actions of General Garfield in connection with the correspondence in question.

DEFEATED AFTER A HARD FIGHT. End of the Pittsburgh Coal Miners' Strike. PITTSBURGH, Aug. 21.—As outlined last week the strike of the Pan Handle coal miners against a reduction from four cents to three and a half ended to-day in their defeat, and all the strikers who could obtain work at the reduction went in this morning. The struggle has been the most protracted and expensive ever known to that district. In the four months and a half since the first day of April, when the men laid down their picks, they have lost in wages $250,000. The operators have lost their summer contracts and their footing to some extent in the market, and the railroad company has lost very heavily in freights.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., August 21.—The Nottingham and Washington mines, at Plymouth, and the Holleben mines, in this city, are again in full operation to-day. The mines at the Empire mine are being lowered into the pits this morning. Work at this place will be resumed to-morrow.

The miners and laborers employed by the Red Ash coal company in No. 3 colliery, owned and operated by Parrish Williams & Co., refused to go to work this morning. They have as yet made no demands and the company is ignorant of the cause of the strike.

The English landed and defeated them taking 45 prisoners. The English lost four and the enemy one hundred. The Highlanders carried the works at the bayonet point.

Summer Boaters Flooding in their Night Clothes. MAHFIELD, Mass., Aug. 21.—The Hammercoo house, a new hotel which was opened in July, was burned at 5 o'clock this morning. The cause of the fire was a defective fuse. The boarders, some 75 in number, escaped. Some were obliged to leave with only their night clothing. The loss and insurance are unknown.

Why They Struck. WILKESBARRE, Aug. 21.—The miners at No. 2 colliery of the Red Ash coal company, demand an increase of twenty cents upon each car of coal mined. Two men were discharged at this colliery last week, presumably because they were members of the Knights of Labor. They also ask that these men be replaced in their positions before they will return to work.
