

THIRD EDITION. TUESDAY EVENING, AUG. 29, 1882.

A FIGHT BY MOONLIGHT.

ARAB'S TROOPS AGAIN DEFEATED. A Night Attack on the British Position at Nasamin Repulsed with a Loss of 150 Men.

PORT SAID, Aug. 29.—Last evening a body of Arabs attacked the British position at Nasamin and were repulsed, with heavy loss.

ALEXANDRIA, Aug. 29.—Ouliba Pacha was poisoned.

BERKS' DEMOCRATS. Congressmen Renominated. READING, Pa., Aug. 29.—At the eighth district Democratic convention to-day, Daniel Ermentrout was renominated for Congress.

As a result of the President's Executive Order, New York, N. Y., August 29.—President Arthur was to have left this morning for Block Island with a party of guests in the United States Steamer Despatch.

Washington, August 29.—A Reming, N. M., special says yesterday a hard character, name unknown, threatened to kill a Frenchman near night.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—For the New England and Middle Atlantic states, fair weather, stationary or slight rise in temperature during Tuesday and cooler during Wednesday afternoon or evening, winds mostly from north to east, falling, followed by rising barometer.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Lizzie Thomas, of Wilkesbarre, died here this morning from the effects of a dose of laudanum taken last night.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—The threatened strike of the mixers, teasers and fillers in one of the South Side glass factories, has been avoided by mutual concessions being made.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 29.—Two large barns on the Sprague homestead estate in Cranston, were burned by an incendiary about midnight last night.

GOODMAN, MISS., Aug. 29.—Dr. Isaac B. Clayton, who was charged with the killing of Freeman Lester, in January last, but who was acquitted, was killed near here to-day.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 29.—A special dispatch to the Post-Express says a man named Swackhammer near Wilson, Niagara county, lost six cows from the Texas cattle disease and died himself.

POTTSDAM, Pa., Aug. 29.—Warren C. Evans, a member of the Norristown bar, died here last night aged 36 years.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—W. H. Allen, president of Girard college, died this morning at the college. He had been suffering for a long time from general debility and Bright's disease.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—The physicians of the archbishop of Canterbury announce the mitigation of the worst symptoms of his illness.

BROWNsville, TEXAS, Aug. 29.—Eighty-two new cases of yellow fever here yesterday; eight deaths. There has been six deaths at Matamoros, but few new cases.

MAUCH CHUCK, Pa., August 29.—Albert Lewis' mill and ice-house, at the Lehigh tannery, was burned this morning. Loss, $25,000.

HOUSEFURNISHING!

STOVES, HEATERS and RANGES for Offices, Hotels, Residences and Public Buildings.

STEAM, PLUMBING AND GAS-FITTING.

SLATE MANTELS.

CHANDELIERS IN GREAT VARIETY AND AT VERY LOW PRICES.

FLINN & WYLLSON. LANCASTER, PA.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS. CIGARETTES. GENUINE YELLER FRONT CIGAR STORE.

MOTHERS! MOTHERS! MOTHERS! Are you disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with excruciating pains of cutting teeth?

OUR NEW REAL ESTATE CATALOGUE, containing a large number of properties in city and country, with prices, &c. Copies sent free to any address.

LANCASTER COMMERCIAL COLLEGE. DAY AND EVENING SESSIONS. BEGINS MONDAY AUGUST 29, 1882.

THE Old American Fire Insurance Company of Philadelphia.

FOOD FOR STOCK. FOR SALE BY D. B. HOSTETTER.

ELEGANT BOOKS FREE. BOYS' SCHOOL SUITS. AL ROSENSTEIN'S.

AL ROSENSTEIN'S. ONE PRICE HOUSE, NO. 37 NORTH QUEEN STREET.

Having a large assortment of Boys' School Suits on hand I will dispose of them at prices far below their value in order to close them out.

THE suits are all made of pure Woolen Goods, well made and handsomely trimmed, and will be sold at very low prices; call and see them.

AL ROSENSTEIN'S. Merchant Tailor and Clothier. 37 North Queen Street, Lancaster.

CONDENSED TELEGRAMS.

Little National Bank. The rock miners at the Empire and Hollenback mines, Wilkesbarre, struck last night for 10 per cent advance, which was conceded to them this morning, and they returned to work.

The German Sauscerfist is being held in Scranton to-day and the city is filled with visiting musical societies.

There have been 573 false cases of cholera at Tokohama, within the past 20 days and the death rate at Tokio, from the same disease is 50 per cent.

Secretary Folger has issued the 116th call for the redemption of bonds of the loan of March 3, 1863, continued at 91 per cent from July 1st, 1881. It is estimated that the amount embraced in the call is about $3,500,000.

During a domestic quarrel at Dutch Mills, an outlying suburb of Long Island City, a drunken shoemaker named Roiley, attacked his brother-in-law, Robert Desmond with a thin, long-bladed knife, cutting his heart in two and killing him instantly. The murderer was arrested.

FAILURE OF A PHILADELPHIA BANK. The Losses Mostly on Country Depositors. PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—The firm of Wm. H. Lloyd & Co., bankers and brokers, failed this morning with liabilities among brokers of about $10,000.

As a result of the President's Executive Order, NEW YORK, N. Y., August 29.—President Arthur was to have left this morning for Block Island with a party of guests in the United States Steamer Despatch.

A MURDERER HUNG ON A TELEGRAPH POLE. TUCSON, ARIZONA, Aug. 29.—A Reming, N. M., special says yesterday a hard character, name unknown, threatened to kill a Frenchman near night.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—For the New England and Middle Atlantic states, fair weather, stationary or slight rise in temperature during Tuesday and cooler during Wednesday afternoon or evening, winds mostly from north to east, falling, followed by rising barometer.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29.—Lizzie Thomas, of Wilkesbarre, died here this morning from the effects of a dose of laudanum taken last night.

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 29.—The threatened strike of the mixers, teasers and fillers in one of the South Side glass factories, has been avoided by mutual concessions being made.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 29.—Two large barns on the Sprague homestead estate in Cranston, were burned by an incendiary about midnight last night.

GOODMAN, MISS., Aug. 29.—Dr. Isaac B. Clayton, who was charged with the killing of Freeman Lester, in January last, but who was acquitted, was killed near here to-day.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 29.—A special dispatch to the Post-Express says a man named Swackhammer near Wilson, Niagara county, lost six cows from the Texas cattle disease and died himself.

POTTSDAM, Pa., Aug. 29.—Warren C. Evans, a member of the Norristown bar, died here last night aged 36 years.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—W. H. Allen, president of Girard college, died this morning at the college. He had been suffering for a long time from general debility and Bright's disease.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 29.—The physicians of the archbishop of Canterbury announce the mitigation of the worst symptoms of his illness.

BROWNsville, TEXAS, Aug. 29.—Eighty-two new cases of yellow fever here yesterday; eight deaths. There has been six deaths at Matamoros, but few new cases.

LANCASTER GAZETTE.

Services of Monday.—The Grounds Much Improved. The morning session on Monday opened with the skies still threatening, but the uncertain state of the weather was not sufficient to dampen the ardor of the denizens of the camp.

The morning sermon was delivered by Rev. S. C. Stonecipher, of Rohrerstown. Text, 1 John 3, 19. Theme: "The children of God."

Some very impressive remarks then followed by Elder A. H. Long, of Marietta.

In the afternoon a sermon was delivered by Rev. H. E. Roover, of Pleasant York, county, from John 14: 29. Theme: "Salvation Dependent on Faith."

After the sermon Rev. Jas. Speers, of Newburg, Cumberland county, gave a stirring exhortation to the people to come to Christ.

Under the efficient leadership of Prof. A. T. Palm, of Harrisburg, the music is constantly improving.

To-morrow will be children's day and an interesting time is looked for.

A grand temperance mass meeting will be held at 8 o'clock on Monday, by the Rev. James Black, of Lancaster, who has secured Rev. C. O. Babcock and Joshua L. Bailey, of Philadelphia, and other prominent workers to deliver addresses.

These men are noted throughout the state and Union, as earnest and devoted advocates of the temperance work.

The rainfall has materially improved the grounds, and they are now in much better condition than before.

Obituary. Death of John Fulton Reynolds Evans, eldest son of Nathan and Lydia Moore Evans, died at his home on Sunday, August 27th inst., after four weeks illness, of typhoid fever, and his remains reached Lancaster this morning at 5:20, and were interred this afternoon in the Reynolds burial lot in Lancaster cemetery.

Deceased had many distinguished connections. He was a grandson of the late John Reynolds, for many years owner and editor of the Lancaster Journal, which was long ago consolidated with the Intelligencer.

Gen. John F. Reynolds, Admiral William B. Ringgold, and James L. Reynolds were his uncles, and he remains will rest beside their. He was also intimately related to the Slaymakers, Reigarts, Pattersons and other well known Lancaster families.

He was himself a man of much force of character and had not been cut off at the early age of 31 years, most likely have attained distinction. He was born at Leunda Furnace, Clarion county, Pa., and educated at Nazareth academy and Lehigh university.

His early manhood he spent in Painesville, Ohio, where he was in charge of the extensive iron works at that place owned by Graff, Bennett & Co., of Pittsburg. Two or three years ago he went to Pleasant Gap, Ala., and took charge of the iron works at that place, retooling, enlarging and greatly improving them.

He was an excellent and unflinching manager and it is believed his last illness was the result of a too close application to business.

Several years ago Mr. Evans married Miss Maggie Braden, of Fort Wayne, Indiana, a grand-daughter of Henry J. Slaymaker, of York, Pa. His wife and two children survive him.

The remains of Mr. Evans were brought to this city by his brother-in-law, W. H. Hunsford, and Mr. W. Donald, a member of the Legion of Honor, of which deceased was a member. He was also a member of the Masonic order.

COLUMBIA NEWS.

From Our Regular Correspondent. Two young men quarreled on Fifth street last night and knives were drawn.

Business is very heavy at the Reading & Columbia coal chutes.

A drunken man got away from constable Kally, of Washington borough, while they were waiting for Squire Young.

Mr. A. J. Mueser, has purchased at private sale the residence of Mr. John Filbert, on Locust street. The latter is removing to Philadelphia, where he will engage in business.

Nothing has been heard of the 7-year old son of a widow lady named Kauffel, who got on once and get a bottle of MRS. EYLLI'S SLOWLY SOOTHING SYRUP. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately—depend upon it; there is no mistake about it.

Dr. Coonke returned to Accomac Court House, Va.

The Trustees of Columbia have challenged the Wrightsville to a game of base ball in the latter place next Saturday.

John Weiser of the P. G. Lodge No. 158 I. O. O. F. of Reading and chairman of the committee arrangements, is in town for the purpose of making arrangements for the state parade to be held in Reading on Thursday, Sept. 14th, 1882.

The State Parade at Reading. Under the efficient leadership of Prof. A. T. Palm, of Harrisburg, the music is constantly improving.

To-morrow will be children's day and an interesting time is looked for.

A grand temperance mass meeting will be held at 8 o'clock on Monday, by the Rev. James Black, of Lancaster, who has secured Rev. C. O. Babcock and Joshua L. Bailey, of Philadelphia, and other prominent workers to deliver addresses.

These men are noted throughout the state and Union, as earnest and devoted advocates of the temperance work.

The rainfall has materially improved the grounds, and they are now in much better condition than before.

Obituary. Death of John Fulton Reynolds Evans, eldest son of Nathan and Lydia Moore Evans, died at his home on Sunday, August 27th inst., after four weeks illness, of typhoid fever, and his remains reached Lancaster this morning at 5:20, and were interred this afternoon in the Reynolds burial lot in Lancaster cemetery.

Deceased had many distinguished connections. He was a grandson of the late John Reynolds, for many years owner and editor of the Lancaster Journal, which was long ago consolidated with the Intelligencer.

Gen. John F. Reynolds, Admiral William B. Ringgold, and James L. Reynolds were his uncles, and he remains will rest beside their. He was also intimately related to the Slaymakers, Reigarts, Pattersons and other well known Lancaster families.

He was himself a man of much force of character and had not been cut off at the early age of 31 years, most likely have attained distinction. He was born at Leunda Furnace, Clarion county, Pa., and educated at Nazareth academy and Lehigh university.

His early manhood he spent in Painesville, Ohio, where he was in charge of the extensive iron works at that place owned by Graff, Bennett & Co., of Pittsburg. Two or three years ago he went to Pleasant Gap, Ala., and took charge of the iron works at that place, retooling, enlarging and greatly improving them.

He was an excellent and unflinching manager and it is believed his last illness was the result of a too close application to business.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Constitutional skin diseases of a scrofulous character are successfully treated with Dr. Benson's Skin Cure, internal and external treatment, both pleasant. It certainly removes scrofula, eruptions, dandruff and tan and makes the skin smooth and healthy.

RESERVED FROM DEATH. The following account of William J. Coughlin, of Sonoma City, Cal., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1878 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and sleep. I was so weak that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1879 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a bad case of consumption and that I could not live over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time I reported around that I was dead. I gave up hope but a friend brought me Dr. Wm. Hall's BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking my case incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to breathe. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have for the past three years.

RESERVED FROM DEATH. The following account of William J. Coughlin, of Sonoma City, Cal., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1878 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and sleep. I was so weak that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1879 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a bad case of consumption and that I could not live over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time I reported around that I was dead. I gave up hope but a friend brought me Dr. Wm. Hall's BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking my case incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to breathe. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have for the past three years.

RESERVED FROM DEATH. The following account of William J. Coughlin, of Sonoma City, Cal., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1878 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and sleep. I was so weak that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1879 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a bad case of consumption and that I could not live over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time I reported around that I was dead. I gave up hope but a friend brought me Dr. Wm. Hall's BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking my case incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to breathe. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have for the past three years.

RESERVED FROM DEATH. The following account of William J. Coughlin, of Sonoma City, Cal., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1878 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and sleep. I was so weak that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1879 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a bad case of consumption and that I could not live over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time I reported around that I was dead. I gave up hope but a friend brought me Dr. Wm. Hall's BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking my case incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to breathe. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have for the past three years.

RESERVED FROM DEATH. The following account of William J. Coughlin, of Sonoma City, Cal., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1878 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and sleep. I was so weak that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1879 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a bad case of consumption and that I could not live over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time I reported around that I was dead. I gave up hope but a friend brought me Dr. Wm. Hall's BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking my case incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to breathe. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have for the past three years.

RESERVED FROM DEATH. The following account of William J. Coughlin, of Sonoma City, Cal., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1878 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and sleep. I was so weak that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1879 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a bad case of consumption and that I could not live over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time I reported around that I was dead. I gave up hope but a friend brought me Dr. Wm. Hall's BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking my case incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to breathe. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have for the past three years.

RESERVED FROM DEATH. The following account of William J. Coughlin, of Sonoma City, Cal., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1878 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and sleep. I was so weak that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1879 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a bad case of consumption and that I could not live over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time I reported around that I was dead. I gave up hope but a friend brought me Dr. Wm. Hall's BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking my case incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to breathe. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have for the past three years.

RESERVED FROM DEATH. The following account of William J. Coughlin, of Sonoma City, Cal., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1878 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and sleep. I was so weak that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1879 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a bad case of consumption and that I could not live over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time I reported around that I was dead. I gave up hope but a friend brought me Dr. Wm. Hall's BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking my case incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to breathe. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have for the past three years.

RESERVED FROM DEATH. The following account of William J. Coughlin, of Sonoma City, Cal., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for the attention of our readers. He says: "In the fall of 1878 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and sleep. I was so weak that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1879 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a bad case of consumption and that I could not live over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so far gone at one time I reported around that I was dead. I gave up hope but a friend brought me Dr. Wm. Hall's BALSAM FOR THE LUNGS. I laughed at my friends, thinking my case incurable, but I got a bottle to satisfy them, when to my surprise and gratification, I commenced to breathe. My hope, once dead, began to revive, and to-day I feel in better spirits than I have for the past three years.