MAHONE AS A BOSS.

Using Federal Patrenage to Control Party The Washington Post published a long and passington Fost published a long and passionate open letter to Mahone from John W. Woltz, of Fredericsksburg, who has been a leader of some note in the Republican party in Virginia. He joined the Mahone party four years ago, and as a reward for his labors was appointed to a clerkship in the interior department by the property Kirkwood. It seems that Woltz Secretary Kirkwood. It seems that Woltz was working for the nomination of Geo. C. Bound for Congress in the Fredericks-burg districts against the wishes of Ma-hone, whose candidate was Robert M. Mayo, Woltz asserts that when a meeting was to be held in Fredericsburg, on Au-appointment of delegates in behalf of a certain candidate for Congress from the First district, but that you were also try ing to excite prejudice against the Readjuster candidate of the state at large. All these things no one questions your right to do as a citizen; but while an employee of the government and especially here. I hold such conduct to be abusive of the office or employment and an improper implication of the administration at a time and in a matter which the people composing the party in accord with the administration should be left free to determine. It is a wrong to the party and an act of injustice to the administration that places of trust con-ferred by the support of the one and the power of the other should be thus employed to interfere with the free will of the party and unjustly excite prejudice against the administration. I have failed on no occasion where such has been the conduct of employees here, in respect to conven tions and nominations, to insist on such rebuke as the case and particular conduct demanded. It was the influence of the Readjuster party in the First Congressional district that had secured the place you held. You are now using the influence that place gave you to constrain the free will of the party in that district to a certain partisan conclusion. You were, besides, using it to defeat the election of its candidate for Congress at large. Yours, WILLIAM MAHONE. respectfully, This, Mr. Woltz says, is an admission that he was dismissed simply because he was trying to nominate a man for Congress whom Mahone didn't want nominated. "You know," he says, "that I was doing what I could to secure Round's nomination, and if you had kept your promises, made more than once, not to interfere in the congressional nominations I would have nominated a man who would have been elected. As it is, you will be responsible for the loss of the district this fall." Mr. Woltz concludes as follows: I shall refer but briefly to the criticisms upon my conduct contained in your letter, because those who know anything of Virginia affairs know that you have not only permitted persons holding office here and in the state to engage actively "in efforts to influence the appointment of delegates in behalf of candidates for Congress," whom you wanted nominated, but you have even required them to do so. In the First district office-holders pledged to support Round were, by intimidation and threats, driven to the support of Mayo. What right had they to do these things for which I was condemned? The same of the Norfolk district, except as to individuals who were candidates. Dezendori would be the unanimous choice of the Republicans in that district, if you had not forced the office-holders to support another In the Third district Brady and other officeholders made an unsuccessful effort to nominate your candidate. In the Fourth district the officeholders defeated Jorgen sen's nomination, notwithstanding you cheated President Arthur into the belief that you were favorable to his nomination. In the Sixth district your office-holders failed because of the popularity of Rives, whose office gave him a preponderance of patronage and influence. Why I should be deprived of privileges that were ac-corded to others holding office can be ac-counted for only upon the theory that while others we e carrying out your wishes I was acting in opposition to them.

The way Mahone assesses Virginians in office leaves Jay Hubbell in a comparatively respectable position. An ex-Confederate Readjuster, who has a place in the treasury department which pays him $150 a month, showed a correspondent the assessment calls made upon him up to date. First came Jay Hubbell's request for two per cent., which took $30 from his July pay; then came Mahone's circular number one, calling for 3 per cent., $45; then a demand from the congressional district committee for If per cent. $22.50; then a county committee asked modestly for $10; and, lastly, Mahone's No. 2 names $100 even, to be paid on or before Oct. 15. If this man pays all these demands the total would be $207.50, or nearly 14 per cent. on his yearly salary. When asked if he intended to pay he replied that he would pay Mahone first, "because," said he, "it won't do to fool with Billy Mahone. He means business every time."

was to be held in Fredericsburg, on August 10, to elect a delegate to the Congress convention, Mahone, knowing that the Republicans would select him (Woltz) telegraphed from Washington on the day before the meeting as follows: "I have had John W. Woltz dismissed. He is no longer a clerk here." Woltz then addressed a letter to Mahone, asking why he had been dismissed, and received the following reply:

UNITED STATES SENATE CHAMBER, WASHINGTON, Aug. 12, 1882. DEAR SIR—In reply to yours of the 10th instant, I beg to say that your name was stricken from the roster of the interior department at my instance. You were on leave and had been for some time, on what plea or at whose instance I did not stop to inquire. Complaints came to me from different parts of the districts, and from sources creditable, that you were not only engaged in an effort to influence the appointment of delegates in behalf of a certain candidate for Cangress from the Don't be persuaded to take any other, it costs one dollar.
