FRIDAY EVENING, SEPT. 15, 1882.

England's Latest Triumph.

With the rout of Arabi's army in the Egyptian desert, the British flag is flying in the face of the Egyptian heart in the struggle it will be impossible for the English army to conquer permanently their country.

The Democrats throughout the state are generally manifesting a wise determination to put their best foot foremost in local and legislative nominations.

The Independents now estimate their strength in Allegheny county at more than half the full Republican vote.

Donsey and Brady know too much to be sent to the penitentiary. There are Africans in this Star Route woodpile that the public don't see and will never know anything about.

New postoffices have been established at the rate of fifty a week for the past month. If it keeps on, Hubbell will have to hire another mailing clerk.

There is more than a million of money lying unclaimed in the money order division of the postoffice department. The natural inference is that Hubbell don't know anything about it.

We always hear a great deal of talk about "Republican institutions." So far as we can judge, there is only one institution at Washington that would be Republican if things should revert to their alleged eternal condition of fitness.

Goodman is the name of one of the Britons who is now popping away at Creedmoor. Because his score happens to stand at the foot of the list in yesterday's contest, it will be like the ribald punsters of a depraved press to begin speculating that the unsuccessful marksman change his name to Deadeye.

The Press has heard the following through its telephone: "Why not go up to Horticultural hall to-night and read the Riot Act to 'em?" "Yours, for our side."

"P. S.—The Riot act, mind, not the Riot bill."

"Tom" Young has been defeated for a renomination in one of the Cincinnati districts, but Blackguard Butterworth has proved that he knew the tastes of his constituents when he made his unprintable speech in Congress.

The Democratic policy of conducting the present campaign in this state is so unassailable that Stalwart organs of the Philadelphia Evening News variety are reduced to the strain of asking the Irish to cut the Democratic ticket, because John Kelly, an Irishman, is in a fair way of being crushed by the New York Democracy.

Mr. Thomas M. Marshall denies that he used the expression "Don Cameron's marionette" in speaking of Gen. Beaver to a nice-looking young man who went straight off and printed everything he said in a New York paper.

PLAY comes natural to puppies, kittens, children and all young things—yes, if they lead natural lives. But shut your kitten for a week, up in a box, without much light or air, or even a cotton reel to roll about, and see how much it will play when at last set free.

THE condition of the clerks and scrub women upon whom Hubbell comes down for 2 per cent. and Mahone or Cooper for 4 or 5 per cent. more, with a third committee to hear from, and this only an "off-year," will remind the student of Oriental history of the state of things in Egypt after its conquest by the Mahonians.

Creedmoor.

The twelve Republican districts where Cameron had a fighting chance, and he seems to have lost that.

OUR Stalwart friends no doubt anticipate pleasure and profit from the approaching visit of the Independent leaders, Stewart, Wolfe, McMichael, Merrick and Kooztz, who are announced to pay their respects to Mr. Cameron and Mr. Cameron's candidates, at Fulton opera house in this city on the 28th inst.

CAMERON'S man for state senator in the 42d (Allegheny) district apparently escaped the Independent flood at the recent primaries, but the Independent Republicans openly declared that though McNeill had received the regular nomination he shall never go back to Harrisburg to vote for Don Cameron's return to the Senate.

The British Rifle Team Ahead.

The day opened bright and windy over the Creedmoor range Thursday morning. It is fair to be a good day for the Americans, who prayed for such weather to help them beat the British and thus make up for the lack of skill which the practice shooting had made painfully evident.

THE opening shot came from the Americans. Hinds fired it and an instant later a cheer rolled up from the spectators as the white disc came up and showed a bull's eye.

THE shooting at this range went on systematically and without many incidents. The greatest care was taken to get correct results of each shot, the markers more than once displaying the red flag when the firing might stop while they examined the target.
