Package Party.

On Saturday night Metamora and Can-assetego tribes of Red Men held a package party in the second story of the opera house. The packages were sold by Auctioneer Shubert. They contained many different articles, some of which were very useful. There was lots of fun by the opening of the packages. Every person who bought a ticket of entrance to the hall was entitled to a chance in a silver hunting case watch. It was won by Adam Y. Huber, a "pale face" residing in Dillerville."

The Stevens House,

Mr. A. Hiestand, who for several years past has had the management of the Stevens house, this city, has secured a further lease of five years. Under Mr. Hiestand's management the house has been admirably kept, and has obtained a patronage greatly in excess of that given it under former leases.

ARTISTIC WOOLEN FABRICS.

Casual Examination of Some Fall Cloths A buyer of a leading New York house says : "In twenty-five years I have not seen anything in the way of designs like the manufac-turers of the the present season." This is amply corroborated by a visit to the Philadelphia cloth house, Mesars, Snodgrass, Murray & Co, at the northwest corner of Ninth and Market streets, Philadelphia, which is probably the largest retail woolen house in America. The multitude of handsome tabrics shown by them, for ladies' cloth suits, embrace every kind of toreign and domestic cloths in an in-finite variety of shades. Smooth finished cloths, French tricote cloths, rep cloths and Amazon cloths, in terra cotta, old green, dark brown, olive green, black. deep blue and dull

The imported winter cloakings, which were made specially for this house, are by odds the handsomest offered in l'hiladelphia. They are in both smooth and soft face designs, in the usual cloth and new art shades. The richly colored cloths for childron's and ladies' even-

GOSSAMER RUBBER CLOTHING For Ladies, Gents and Children.

WE CLAIM FOR OUR GOSSAMER RUBBER GARMENTS :

That they are perfectly water-proof. That four of them weigh no more than one old style waterproof. That, if worn in the rain 24 hours, they will not absorb any moisture ; while the old style will be nearly (ouble its weight, and not keep the warer dry.

will be nearly couble its weight, and not keep the wearer dry. Thist, when rolled up, they make a very compact bundle, which can be easily carried in the pocket. That, being so light weight and having no warmth, they are welcomed by all for warm weather use, or to throw over a winter cloak in cold weather. That they are not affected by either cold or heat; are a perfect protection to the nicest wardrobe from the rain; neither will they be-come soft or useless in warm and damp weather.

That a lady or gent having a Gossamer in their pocket can leave the troublesome un-brella at home, and in case of rain will be far better protected than with an umbrella. We have constantly on hand all sizes and can recommend our garments as being the best in the market. They are made specially for us,
