QUAY'S SCHEME FOR IRISH VOTES.

Circulating a False Petition Speech Against the Irish-Pattison's Unqualified Denial--The Speech as Delivered.

A dispatch from Pittsburgh to the Philadelphia Times says: "Capt. Gallagher, of Harrisburg, an Irish Republican of the extreme type, has been in this city for several days, visiting all the Irish citizens he could reach and appealing to them to vote against Pattison because Pattison denounced the Irish in a speech on the steps of Independence Hall in 1881. Gallagher holds the petty office of watchman on the public grounds of the capitol at Harrisburg, and he goes out with Delaney, who is the Senate librarian, to circulate some new story each year to mislead Irish voters into the support of the boss machine that pays them for their falsehoods. Gallagher has been very industrious here among the Irish, but his statements were so extravagant that he met with little credit among his fellow-countrymen. He has stated to a number of Irish citizens that Controller Pattison, in a speech from Independence Hall in the winter of 1881, used the following language: 'I say to you, the Mc's and O's must go to the rear. Honesty and decency have come to the front and the O's and Mc's can go to their old calling of carrying the hod.' Such a startling declaration imputed to a man who had been nominated for governor in a bitter contest without any such remarks being charged to him, naturally made intelligent Irish citizens discredit the story. And when it was first told, nearly two years after the time of its alleged delivery, and told by a petty official who is paid by the boss to delude honest voters of any and every faith into the support of the machine, there were few if any who gave it even respectful consideration. Gallagher says that Delaney, himself and a number of others are now circulating this story in every centre of Irish voters, and he declares that the speech he imputes to Pattison will be printed with Democratic vouchers and sent to every Irish voter in the state before the election. He openly boasts that the Irish vote will be cast for Beaver before election day, and that Beaver's election will be thus secured."

Pattison's Unqualified Denial.
A reporter of the Times was at once dispatched to present the Gallagher version of his Independence Hall speech to Controller Pattison, and the young governor material candidate was found quietly resting at his modest home, apparently free from all anxiety about the political turmoil that is surging around him. When the Gallagher story was presented to him, he smiled as he answered that he had no information to the same effect in a private letter just received, and that he had answered it frankly as the truth demanded. He said he was surprised at the desperation of his political enemies in attempting to circulate as a speech of his what he had never delivered or thought of delivering, and what nobody had ever charged as his utterance until nearly two years after the time of its alleged delivery. He said that his letter on the subject was not in any sense private, and that the newspapers could have it at once. The following is a copy of his letter mailed yesterday to Mr. Irvin, of Pittsburgh:

Mr. Pattison's Letter.
CITY CONTROLLER'S OFFICE.
PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 9, 1882.
MY DEAR SIR: I thank you for your friendly letter of the 6th.
Let me answer your inquiry directly. You want to know if, as I am charged by one Gallagher (said to be a watchman at the public buildings at Harrisburg), I made a speech in Philadelphia, in which it is alleged, the following language was used: "The Mc's and O's must go to the rear. Honesty and decency have come to the front and the O's and Mc's can go to their old calling of carrying the hod." I never made any such speech, in whole or in part, and never uttered at any time any such language or any sentence that could be so construed. The whole matter is an entire fabrication, designed to injure me with a portion of my fellow-citizens, and is the last effort of the bosses and their corrupt employees to mislead the people and thus prevent an honest expression of public opinion and aid in retaining their control of power. I can not believe, however, that it can have any such effect at this time. Respectfully, etc., ROBERT E. PATTISON.

TO JAMES IRVIN, ESQ.

WHAT PATTISON DID SAY.
The speech as Reported in The Times, The Ledger, Press and Record.

The speech referred to by Gallagher and Delaney was delivered on the steps of Independence Hall on Thursday, January 23, 1881. The Democratic convention had just nominated John Hunter, Republican, for receiver of taxes, and a number of delegates had marched in a body to Independence Hall, where John Hunter and Controller Pattison were engaged investigating the gas trust. John Hunter was first called out by the enthusiastic crowd that had gathered, and he responded briefly to the cheers of welcome which greeted him. The crowd then called and cheered for Pattison until he finally appeared on the front steps, and the following are the reports of his remarks as they appeared in the Times, the Ledger, the Press and the Record the next morning, Friday, January 23, 1881:

"Fellow citizens," said Mr. Pattison, "one hundred years ago there was a revolution started here for an imposition that was of far less magnitude than that which the Democratic convention attempted to put upon you to day. [Cheers.] The American people brought a king to his feet for a less offense than that which you have suffered at the hands of the bosses of both parties in this city. The sixty-six delegates who have stood by John Hunter in convention to-day have taken the bull by the horns, and if they keep on as they began they will have him where they want him. [Cheers and laughter.] Assert your manhood and independence. Be like freemen and not like slaves. But it will do no good for me to stand here and talk to you. Go to your homes, talk with your neighbors, organize in your wards, and as sure as the sun shines to-morrow John Hunter will be the next receiver of taxes."

From the Public Ledger, Friday, January 23, 1881.
Mr. Pattison said: "More than a hundred years ago, in this very hall, our forefathers declared their independence, and it is to the credit of the fifty-seven bolters from the tax receiver's convention that they come here with the intention--to set aside the mandate of the bosses and nominate John Hunter for that office. I am on my way to the council chamber to take part in the gas trust investigation, and it is important as it is not half as important as your action here, which will with proper energy and work, give to the people of Philadelphia an officer who will administer his trust with fidelity and honesty. Go from here to your homes, talk with your neighbors, organize in your wards and on the 15th of February, John

Hunter will be elected to the office of receiver of taxes beyond doubt.

From the Press, January 23, 1881.

The tall form of Controller Pattison loomed up just as Mr. Hunter had concluded, and the cheering that greeted his appearance fairly shook the sacred old building. He was called on for a speech and he was compelled to say something. Taking a position almost under the bell that proclaimed liberty over one hundred years ago, he calmly surveyed the scene for a moment and then proceeded to address the assemblage. He referred to the fact that there was a revolution started in the hall over a century ago, and argued that the grievances then were not as great as those which started the present revolution against ring rule. The people of England, said Mr. Pattison, once brought a king to their feet for less offense than the bosses of this city are guilty of. He claimed that if the present system continued there would be no hope for political future for young men, and the old would have no protection. It was a source of gratification to him to see the Democrats indorsing a man who would end this oppression if elected.

From the Record, January 23, 1881.
Mr. Hunter was informed of his nomination and briefly responded, thanking the crowd for this mark of approbation. Then Controller Pattison felicitated the people on the auspicious time and place for sinking party feelings for the public good. The crowd became wild with enthusiasm, and one fellow who stood half way up the stairs, cried and yelled like a maniac.

Quay's Scheme to Capture the Irish Vote.
Delaney was in Philadelphia on Monday aiding the new Irish scheme of Quay, while Gallagher is working it in the west. Quay's plan has been under way for some time, and it is now sufficiently carried out to show his hand. For several weeks he has had Delaney, Gallagher and a number of other Irish politicians who are in his pay, in different sections of the state, verbally circulating the false "Petition speech" against the Irish, and getting the names and addresses of every Irish voter in the state. Priests have been applied to in several instances for these names, but without being informed of the real use to be made of them, and Quay now has the names and addresses of some forty thousand Irish voters in the state, to whom a circular will be sent, containing the false speech saying that the O's and the Mc's must go to the rear, etc. They will have the circular appear to have been sustained by Democratic authority, and it will be in the hands of the forty thousand Irish voters within the next ten days. Delaney is also expected to have this speech published in the New York Tablet, a leading Catholic journal, and if that can be effected, a large edition of the paper will be obtained and sent to each of the names on the list. Forty thousand list. Delaney hopes to use the New York Tablet in this matter as he used the Catholic Standard of Philadelphia against Dill in 1878, when the Standard was deceived by the Dill Know-Nothing falsehood. It is reported that Delaney whether the Tablet can be imposed upon by a false speech prepared by Quay, when the purpose to deceive Irish voters is so transparent.

Delaney's Friend of 1878.
The following letter from Delaney to Col. H. S. McNair, of York, exhibits how he piles his vocation as boss politician and trader in Irish votes:

COMMONWEALTH OF PENNSYLVANIA.
EXECUTIVE CHAMBER, HARRISBURG, Sept. 12, 1878.

MY DEAR COLONEL: If you can furnish me with proof of Dill's Know-Nothing proclivities it will be worth $5,000 votes to us. There is nothing that we can prove on him that will so completely crush him. Irishmen and Catholics, to whom I have shown your paper, swear vengeance on him; but they ask for the proof. Do, then, my dear colonel, give it, and it will at once remove every shadow of doubt of the election of General Hoyt; and you must be assured that when General Hoyt is governor, Colonel H. S. McNair will not be forgotten. Let me hear from you as early as possible.

Yours sincerely, J. C. DELANEY.

Eastern and Western Proverbs.
There is an Eastern proverb which says: "Only two creatures can surmount the pyramids: the eagle and the snail." There is a Western proverb that says: "Hunt's Kidney Pills are the nature of both eagle and snail." It is bold in its flight like the eagle, it is persistent in its purpose like the snail. And thus Hunt's Kidney Pills easily surmounts the pyramids of kidney and liver disease. It even attacks Bright's Disease, and hesitates at no form of kidney disease, however aggravated.

The story of the cures which it has effected would make a large volume. Remember it is the one great liver and kidney medicine of the age.

Visible Improvement.
Mr. Noah Bates, Elmira, N. Y., writes: "I have a family of four children. My wife is very feeble, and never fully recovered. My digestive organs were weakened, and I would be completely prostrated for days. After using two bottles of your Burdock Blood Bitters the improvement was so visible that I was as strong as I ever was, though 61 years of age, and a fair and reasonable day's work." Price $1. Walnut Leaf Hair Restorer.
It is entirely different from all others. It is as clear as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect Vegetable Hair Restorer. It will immediately free the head from all dandruff, restore gray hair to its natural color and produce a new growth where it has fallen out. It does not in any manner affect the health, while Sulphur, Sugar of Lead and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist for it. Each bottle is warranted. SMITH, LANE & CO. Wholesale Agents, Philadelphia, and C. N. CRITTENTON New York. June-19, 1882

MEDICAL.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

PLAIN

TRUTHS.

The blood is the foundation of life, it circulates through every part of the body, and unless it is pure and rich, good health is impossible. If disease has entered the system the only sure and quick way to drive it out is to purify and enrich the blood. These simple facts are well known, and the highest medical authorities agree that nothing but iron will restore the blood to its natural condition; and also that all the iron preparations hitherto made blacken the teeth, cause headache, and are otherwise injurious. Brown's Iron Bitters will thoroughly and quickly assimilate with the blood, purifying and strengthening it, and thus drive disease from any part of the system, and it will not blacken the teeth, cause headache or constipation, and is positively non-injurious.

Saved his Child

17 N. Eutaw St., Baltimore, Md. Feb. 12, 1880.
Gentle--Upon the recommendation of a friend I tried Brown's Iron Bitters as a tonic and restorative for my daughter, whose I was thoroughly convinced was wasting away with Consumption. Having lost three daughters by the tubercular disease, under the care of eminent physicians, I was loath to believe that anything could arrest the progress of the disease, but, to my great surprise, before my daughter had taken one bottle of Brown's Iron Bitters, she began to mend and now is quite restored to her former health. A fifth daughter began to show signs of Consumption, and when the physician was consulted he quickly said "Tonics were required," and when informed that the elder sister was taking Brown's Iron Bitters, responded "that is a good tonic, take it."

Brown's Iron Bitters effectually cures Dyspepsia, Indigestion and Weakness, and renders the greatest relief and benefit to persons suffering from such wasting diseases as Consumption, Kidney Complaints, etc.
