AN EDITOR'S FATAL SHOT

A BULLET INSTEAD OF A RETRACTION

Ex-Congressman Slayback Killed in the Kd itorial Rooms of a St. Lou's News-

The business part of St. Louis was thrown into a state of high excitement about half-past five o'clock Friday evening by the report that John A. Cockrell. managing editor of the Post-Dispatch, had shot and ki'led Colonel A. W. Slayback, a prominent lawyer and well-known politician. No one directly concerned in the matter will make a statement, but Heary W. Moore, the city editor of the paper, who was sitting at his desk writing, says that while Colonel Cockrell, John M. McGuffin bysinger managers and Victor T. Guffin, business manager, and Victor T. Cole, foreman, were holding a business conference in the editorial room, Colonel Slayback, accompanied by W. H. Clopton, entered the local room and passed on toward the editorial room, the door to which was closed. Mr. Moore turned in his chair as they passed by and observed that Colonel Slayback, as he opened the door with his left hand had his right hand in his pistol pocket, and in less than half a minute after Slayback entered Cockrell's room Moore heard the report of a pistol. He immediately sprang up and on entering the editorial room found Slayback stretched on the floor and Cockrell bending over him, apparently wiping the blood from his face. Cockrell asked Moore to send for a physician, which he did, and a few moments later Dr. McCasthy arrived, but not until Slay back was dead, he having died about three minutes after being shot

Meanwhile Cockrell washed his hands and in less than five minutes after the fatal shot was fired he and Mr. McGuffin entered a carriage and drove away. It and surrendered to the chief of police, but such was not the case, and it is not yet known where Cockrell is. Col. Slayback's brother, Charles E. Slayback, president of the Merchants' Exchange, was immediately notified of the sad event and he gave directions for the disposal of the body, which was sent to the deceased's late home. The ball from Cockrell's pistol entered Slayback's left side near the heart and ranged upward. Whether it entered the heart is not known, but it must have penetrated the lungs. An immense crowd gathered around the Post-Disputch office and remained there till long after dark.

An extra of an evening paper says that Colonel Slayback had gone to the office for satisfaction or fight. When he entered the editorial rooms he and Corkrell met face to face. The colonel began to denounce Corkrell for assaults made upon him by the Post-Dispatch and in his fury the colonel draw a resultant from his rocket onel drew a revolver from his pocket. Cockrell, who had the advantage by reason of his self-possession, also drew his revolver and fired at Slayback, who fell, mortally wounded, and died a few moments afterward. His corpse is still within the room, surrounded by a crowd of excited friends. The trouble which terminated so tragically originated in the fact that at a political meeting on Thursday evening Colonel Slayback made a bitter onslaught on the Post-Dispatch and its reporters, to which the paper re- and Bowels. sponded last evening by uncomplimentary references to Colonel Slayback, which rendered him so indignant that he visited the office to demand satisfaction. The following is the article which appeared in the Post-Dispatch:

Mr. Alonzo W. Slayback, an individual whose chief claim to distinction rests upon the fact that he is the law partner of Col. James O. Brodhead, rose in a meeting of Democratic ward politicians in this city last night and without personal provocation proceeded to apply a string of vile and virulent epithets to the Post-Dispatch and its conductors, making charges which he knew to be false. This is the same A. W. Slayback of and concerning whom the following card was written and published in the city by John M. Glover on the 11th day of November, 1881. Mr. Glover recently ran as a Democratic candidate for Congress in the Ninth district and received a hearty endorsement from the Democratic voters of character. Mr. Glover is alive yet. [The letter referred to above was an open one by John M. Glover, accusing Col. Slayback of cowardice.]
