pecial Dispatch to the Times.

Thursday the Pattison party had a long and tedious but in many respects pleasant trip to reach Bradford. Leaving Erie at 7 o'clock they journeyed without incident or interruption to Warren, except that at Corry G. N. Parmlee and Captain R. Taggart, representing the Democracy of Warren, boarded the train to escort of Warren, boarded the train to escort fled me that there is no such thing as hontenant. At 10 o'clock the train arrived at no more word than a dog. I was sold Warren and the party was transferred to carriages. A band was in attendance and a procession formed, which moved forward to Roscoe hall, where a meeting was at once organized, with Mr. Parmlee in the chair.

They played hypocrite and knave. Here The atmosphers was chilly and damp, but I have served the party for nineteen long the large hall was well filled. "Hail to the Chief" from the band served as proof the minute I decide to accept the nomina-JNO. S. GIVLER.

Specches soon began. Mr. Pattison was specches soon began. that the leader was a veteran torturer, but tion for a little fifteen-cent position they carriages drove up to the station. The time arrived but the train didn't.

The crowd waited patiently at first and with less complacency later on, but it was three o'clock before they got off on a passing of the county at the ing freight train with a coach attached.
Meantime Chauncey F. Black, Colonel
Maish and Editor Meyers took passage on another road for Renova, where they are down for a meeting Friday. The party made their way to Kinzua, ten miles distant, to learn that the connecting train for Bradford had gone. In anticipation of that, however, a special had been ordered from Bradford, which arrived at five o'clock. Embarking on this special ordered from Bradford, which arrived at five o'clock. Embarking on this special the party began the journey over the Bradford & Kinzua narrow gauge railroad. A committee of citizens from Bradford, among whom were A. Henry Bloomer, chairman of the Democratic county committee; ex-Mayor Broder, Henry Anglun and others, joined the company at Kinzua and pointed out the places of interest along the reute. At Marshburg, J. B. Brawley, prothonotary of the county; Byron D. Hamlin, candidate for Assembly; W. S. Keenan, nominee for Congress, and other citizens of Smithport got aboard, and an additional committee from Bradford, with a brass band, also crowded into ford, with a brass band, also crowded into the car. Notwithstanding the delays incident to this fact the distance was cov-

At the station a dozen carriages were in waiting and hundreds of citizens had assembled. E. M. Beardon and Captain Harry Neson, of Duko Centre, were among the number, and delegations from all the adjacent towns and villages, but notwithstanding the confusion incident to so vast a crowd the transfer from car to carriages was speedily accomplished. Ar-riving at the hotel a reception was held, which occupied the time, save a few moments for lunch, until the meeting began at eight o'clock. Chairman Bloomer called order and named J. B. McCalmont for president, with a long list of vice presidents and secretaries. Mr. McCalmont on taking the chair spoke eloquently of the pending canvass. He then introduced Mr. Pattison, who spoke for nearly an hour, fixing the attention of his audience closely the while. In conclusion he said: "An Armenian general with 400,000 soldiers saw from his position of advantage on a hill the Roman army encamped below with only 13,000. In a spirit of ridicule he said lightly to his aids: 'Yonder men be too many for an embassy and too few to fight.' Yet before nightfall they proved strong enough to put the Armenian forces to flight with great slaughter. So to the revolt of the Independent element against bossism the Stalwarts in scoffing terms have proclaimed that the Independent army is unworthy of being treated with and too small to fight, but I am certain they will demonstrate when the sun goes down on the 7th of November that they are strong enough to put the bosses to flight and drive them from the citadel of their power." Mr. Elliott followed, and Col. Dechert, John R. Read and W. U. Hensel completed the speaking in the order named. The special Pullman coach in which the party has traveled since starting out was sent around by a circuitous route. At 1 o'clock it will be re occupied and depart for Elmira, New York, where connection with the Northern Central railroad will enable it to reach Harrisburg in the afternoon. Arrangements have been made to proceed to Carlisle for an early evening meeting, and a night meet-ing will be held at Harrisburg on the return trip. Curious If True. The St. Louis Republican says: "Speaking of mind-reading and magnetism, a few days ago, a gentleman recently returned from a European trip related an occur-rence wherein there surely seems to be something more than mere whimsicality or caprice. A lady well known in Boston is given as authority for the story, the incident having happened to herself. She, some time after the murder of Jennie Cramer in New Haven, was stopping at a Boston hotel, and, being among the recent arrivals, was placed at a table devoted to those guests of the hostelry. She was scated at a table directly opposite quite a fine looking man, who seemed perfectly gen-tlemanly and polite. Upon sitting down to the table the first day she found she could not not eat anything, and her appetite always failed her whenever she sat down to table with this man opposite her. For several days in succession when sitting at the table she felt sick, weak and oppressed with fear, and was at a loss to explain the singular coincidence. After thinking the matter over for some time she found that she always ate heartily on the few occasions that the polite gentleman did not sit at the table with her. She spoke to the waiter, desiring another table and explaining confidentially the reasons for which she asked the change. In accordance with her request she was placed at another table, and ever afterwards ate very heartily and with none of the sense of oppressiveness which formerly came over her at the other table. She went away for some time and came back to the same hotel. The waiter recognized her and change of eating places. She had almost forgotten the affair and wondered why the waiter called the matter up again. He asked her if she knew the gentleman who had exercised over her such a peculiar influence. She stated that she had not the faintest idea of the man's charac-

Mansfield, Ohio, Nov. 26, 1881. Gentlemen:-I have suffered with pain in my side and back, and great soreness on my breast with shooting pains all through my body, attended with great weakness, depression of spirits, and less of appetite.
