mandery Goes to Philadelphi Lancaster commandery, No. 13, K. T., left for Philadelphia this after soon, to take part in the great Bi-Centennial parade tomorrow. Before leaving Lancaster the commandery, numbering forty members, made a short parade through the principal streets, prescuting a very fine appearance. The new and beau-tiful banner, described in the In-TELLIGENCER on Monday, was carried in line, and was greatly admired. The Iron-ville band marched at the head of the column and discoursed excellent music. The commandery will unquestionably make a fine appearance and attract attention in the great parade.

With the Lancaster commandery a number of Sir Knights from York and Columbia went to Philadelphia. They arrived at 12:55, and were escorted to the rooms of Laucaster commandery by a committee and the Ironville band. A number of Lancaster knights left on the train who will not parade, and many more will join the commandery in Philadel

In Their New Quarters. This morning the younger children of St. Mary's parochial school, numbering more than one hundred pupils, were transferred into the new convent and academy building recently erected upon the site of the old stone church on Vine street. The apartments occupied by the school are on the first floor of the east wing of the building, and are especially adapted to the purpose, being large, airy and comfortable, and provided with an abundance of height, and all the comforts of a well regulated school room. The elder pupils, comprising St. Mary's academy, will continue to occupy rooms in the Sister's building on South Queen street until the new structure on Vine street is

The following statement of William J. Cough in, of Somerville, Mass., is so remarkable that we beg to ask for it the attention of our read ers. He says : "In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a violent bleeding of the lungs, followed by a severe cough. I soon began to lose my appetite and flesh. I was so weak at one time that I could not leave my bed. In the summer of 1877 I was admitted to the City Hospital. While there the doctors said I had a hole in my lett lung as big as a half-dollar. I expend-ed over a hundred dollars in doctors and medicines. I was so tar gone at one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope but a friend told me of DR. WM. The city was, as yesterday, fairly swathed in flags, bunting and evergreens, and though it is not a legal holiday business is at a stand-still. The Trades' parade was very fine, the first division having in it a thousand man from division having in it a thousand men from the Altoona shops of the Pennsylvania railroad. At the head of the division they carried a magnificent oil painting repre-senting a locomotive and cars crossing the ebanna river. Baldwin's locomotive works had two thousand men in line. As a whole the demonstration was unique and interesting, particularly in the numerous contrasts that were shown between the primitive methods or products of trade in this city from 30 to 100 years ago and the resources and results of trade in the pres-
