

The Lancaster Intelligencer.

Volume XIX--No 53.

LANCASTER, PA., WEDNESDAY NOVEMBER 1, 1882.

Price Two Cents.

CLOTHING, & THE BI-CENTENNIAL.

Oak Hall and the Bi-Centennial.

Our exhibit in the Trades Procession of the Bi-Centennial Celebration on October 25th will illustrate the great stock of men's and boys' clothing now ready in Oak Hall. Our preparations for the trade of this Autumn and Winter already reach

One Million Dollars.

Our stock is in all respects the best we have ever offered, and we firmly believe has never been equaled in volume by any retail clothing house in America.

Do not fail to visit Oak Hall. Look at the Clothing and Piece Goods, go through the workrooms and see how the vast place goes on. We have a hearty welcome for all, whether buyers or visitors. The tens of thousands of friends we have made in the country about Philadelphia during the last twenty-two years are, we are sure, more firmly our friends than ever before. We have gained their confidence by giving them the best dollar's worth of clothing to be had anywhere, and we offer a new pledge of fidelity in our low prices and elegant Autumn stock of this year's sales.

Wanamaker & Brown,

OAK HALL,

Sixth and Market Streets,

PHILADELPHIA.

DRY GOODS.

HAGER & BROTHER.

OVERCOATS.

We invite attention to a complete line of Overcoats for Men, Youths and Boys; manufactured with much care, from materials best adapted to give excellent service and comfort. They are handsome, well-fitting and in good style. Also Overcoatings in full assortment to be made to order.

HAGER & BROTHER.

FAHNESTOCK.

Our CLOAK ROOM is now supplied with a LARGE STOCK of the LATEST STYLE COATS, THOSE IN WANT SHOULD SEEK THEM.

CASHMERE, SILKS, PLUSHES, VELVETS,

UNDERWEAR, for Ladies, Gents, Boys and Girls, in Quantities.

UNDERWEAR, for Ladies, Gents, Boys and Girls, in Quantities.

UNDERWEAR, for Ladies, Gents, Boys and Girls, in Quantities.

Fahnestock,

Next Door to the Court House, Lancaster, Pa.

HOUSE FURNISHING GOODS.

THE BEST.

We all want the best and most economical

STOVES, HEATERS & FURNACES.

SPEAR'S PARLOR HEATERS

Are SUPERIOR to ANY in THE MARKET. Don't fail to SEE THEM and SAVE MONEY. In our ENDLESS VARIETY of OTHER STOVES we HAVE AIMED to have NONE BUT WHAT ARE GOOD, all of which WE GUARANTEE.

We have the SOLE AGENCY for the ## Three Best Furnaces in the Market.

CALL AND SEE THEM.

FLINN & WILLSON.

LANCASTER, PA.

WINES AND LIQUORS.

COOLING, REFRESHING AND HEALTHFUL DRINKS FOR HOT WEATHER.

APOLLINARIS WATER, the Queen of Table Waters.

CANTELL & COCHRAN'S DUBLIN and BELFAST GINGER ALE, THE FINEST IN THE MARKET.

CLARET WINES.—Of our own direct importation from the House of Eralste, Dupont & Co., Bordeaux.

PLEASANT VALLEY WINE COMPANY,

Great Western Brand, Extra Dry.

Superior to the Golden Age, which is put up by the Pleasant Valley Wine Co. for the Hammondsport Wine Co. from their Ordinary Stock, the Hammondsport Co. furnishing them with the Brand and Label. The Hammondsport Co. make no Sparkling Wines. All the Leading and Popular Brands of FRENCH CHAMPAGNE. We are the agents for the Pleasant Valley Wine Co.'s Great Western Extra Dry Wine. The Pleasant Valley Fruit Juice, BILKENT'S OLD BRANDY. No family should be without a bottle of this Refreshing Medicine at this season of the year.

H. E. SLAYMAKER, AGENT,

NO. 20 EAST KING STREET.

MEDICAL.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

SEEK

health and avoid sickness. Instead of feeling tired and worn out, instead of aches and pains, wouldn't you rather feel fresh and strong?

You can continue feeling miserable and good for nothing, and no one but yourself can find fault, but if you are tired of that kind of life, you can change it if you choose.

How? By getting one bottle of BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and taking it regularly according to directions.

Mansfield, Ohio, Nov. 23, 1881. Gentlemen:—I have suffered with pain in my side and back, and great soreness on my breast with shooting pains all through my body, attended with great weakness, depression of spirits, and loss of appetite. I have taken several different medicines, and was treated by prominent physicians for my liver, kidney, and spleen, but I got no relief. I thought I would try Brown's Iron Bitters; I have now taken one bottle and a half and an about well—pain in side and back all gone—soreness all out of my breast, and I have a good appetite, and am gaining in strength and flesh. It can justly be called the King of medicines. JOHN K. ALLENDEE.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is composed of Iron in soluble form; Cinchona the great tonic, together with other standard remedies, making a remarkable non-alcoholic tonic, which will cure dyspepsia, Indigestion, Malaria, Weakness, and relieve all Lung and Kidney diseases.

For sale wholesale and retail by H. E. COCHRAN, Druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street, Lancaster. 629 1/2 wldaw 7

KIDNEY-WOORT

For the Permanent Cure of CONSTIPATION.

No other disease is so prevalent in this country as Constipation, and no remedy has ever equalled the celebrated Kidney-Woort as a cure. Whatever the cause, however obstinate the case, this remedy will overcome it. Acts at the same time on Kidneys, Liver and Bowels. This distressing complaint is very apt to be complicated with constipation. Kidney-Woort strengthens the weakened parts and quickly cures all kinds of Piles, even when physicians and medicines have been tried. If you have either of these troubles, use KIDNEY-WOORT. Druggists sell it. sep 25 1882 W.M.F.P. 42

COUGH SYRUP.

Has cured thousands. It will cure your Cough in less time than any other preparation. PHARMACEUTICAL PREPARATIONS. Prepared and sold only by CHAS. A. LOCHER, NO. 9 EAST KING STREET, LANCASTER, PA. PAPER HANGINGS, &c.

PHARES W. FRY.

WALL PAPERS.

As any Home in this part of the State, The fine embraces every description of PAPER HANGINGS, from the lowest to the finest goods. GILT PAPERS from 25 cents upward in choice shapes and colorings. We have in our employ first-class PAPER HANGERS, and are prepared to do work promptly and much below the regular prices. DANDY LAND WINDOW SHADES, PLAIN GOODS by the Yard in all Colors and Widths, FIXTURES, LISTS, TABLES, ORNAMENTS, &c.

In rebuilding our Store Room it was enlarged, and we occupy part of it for the exclusive call of

Decorated China

CHINA HALL.

We are now opening our Fall Importations of HAVILAND'S DECORATED CHINA, —IN— DINNER SETS, TEA SETS, TEA-A-TA-TE SETS, DESSERT SETS, SOLITAIRE SETS, Solitaire Cups and Saucers, Fruit Plates, Dessert Plates, Ice-Cream Sets, Casapores, &c.

High & Martin

16 EAST KING STREET, LANCASTER, PA.

PATTISON!

Pennsylvania's Next Governor in Lancaster.

HOW HE WAS RECEIVED AND WHAT HE SAID.

A POPULAR DEMONSTRATION.

The Court House Packed and Hundreds Unable to Gain Admission—Enthusiasm Throughout the City.

Gray-headed men aver that never in the history of politics here there been witnessed in Lancaster anything to surpass the grand demonstration that greeted the visit of the Democratic candidate to this city on Tuesday evening. It was the outbreak of a long pent-up popular sentiment that transformed our quiet city into the arena of excitement and fired the public heart with all the emotions that are the natural expressions of unwonted political feeling. Nothing in the present campaign has at all approached in the fervor of enthusiasm the magnificent reception accorded by the Lancaster Democracy to Controller Pattison. The hour at which he was advertised to arrive was 7:30 p. m., but long before that time the streets were thronged with an excited populace impatient for the coming of the young hero of a reform campaign, the most honest and bravest government whom the will of the people of the commonwealth has already designated as the proper person to restore and regenerate the state government to those principles of purity in which its foundations were established. As it grew difficult to make headway along the crowded sidewalks in the central portion of the city, while a dense mass of humanity took up the entire street in front of the Democratic headquarters, which were very prettily decorated with Chinese lanterns. The Young Men's Democratic club assembled at the latter place about seven o'clock, and shortly afterwards they formed in line and marched to the Pennsylvania depot. The young men, numbering upwards of one hundred, wore a neat uniform consisting of a blue cloth cap, with gold cord running over the top, a handsome white silk badge, with gold bullion fringe, and all carried light walking sticks. The staff were the handsome suits used during the Lancaster campaign. Clubs from the Seventh, Eighth and other wards came marching down town and added to the general clamor.

When the 7:30 train came steaming into the depot the band struck up a lively air and then began an indiscriminate discharge of Roman candles and other fireworks among the mighty throng assembled in the neighborhood, and when the tall form of Controller Pattison was seen on the platform of the smoking car "a shout that rent the firmament" arose and swept through the crowd like a tempest far down North Queen and Chestnut streets. The visiting party was composed of Controller Pattison, Chairman Hessel, Senator Gordon, Congressman Hoffmann, Mr. Carrigan and several others. The Lancaster committee were Messrs. J. L. Steinmetz, Samuel W. Altick and Representative Elton G. Snyder, had gone down to Downingtown to meet the visitors, and arrived here with them.

To get off of the cars was a matter of great difficulty on account of the throng in the depot, but it was finally accomplished and the visitors were escorted to the coaches that stood in waiting, and the order to forward march was given. The street parade was a brief one, extending from the Pennsylvania depot down North Queen to Chestnut square, and down Chestnut to the city hall, where the train arrived just at the time the procession did, and a delegation of more than a hundred from the lower end, accompanied by a band of music joined the ranks. Then the line counter-marched up to the city hall, where it was met by the streets were a hard one and the procession had to fairly force its way through the dense mass of humanity that lined the curbs. All the time there was kept up a constant fusillade of fireworks, while a roar of applause swept through the throng as the procession moved along.

Arrived at the court house, that building was found to be already packed, and only a small proportion of the parade effected an entrance. Every seat in the vast auditorium and all the window sills, even up to the rafters, were occupied, while there was not a spare inch of standing room. The bar railing was no bar to the eager throng, and they crowded beyond it and close up to the bench from which the speeches were delivered. The first ward Pattison glared through the eyes of the Chairman Roland, in vain trying to make himself heard, proposed Newton Lightner, esq., for chairman of the meeting, which was of course carried with a roar of approval. The following list of officers was then ratified: Vice Presidents, L. B. Strarr, R. J. McGrann, George Nammab, Philip Zecher, H. Z. Rhoads, J. W. Leber, Dr. McCaa, Oliver Strohl, Jere. Mohler, W. R. Wilson, R. A. Malone, D. A. Altick, Geo. W. Brown, L. T. Hessel, W. H. Kincer, B. F. Worth, Frederick Walter, Wm. Fink, J. McGrann, S. H. Reynolds, Jacob Wise, Arnold Haas, John McKillips, Daniel McCormick, Wm. Baltz, Henry Hartman, G. F. Shultz, S. R. Hackenberger, John Gantz, Daniel S. Will, David Metzler, H. Bonner, Elias B. Sherer, Ralph Fischer, Secretaries, G. W. Orendorf, H. F. Shultz, J. E. Malone, Frank Mettett, Eugene Flinn, Richard M. Reilly.

Mr. Pattison's Speech.

When President Lightner introduced the candidate for governor, amid the din that prevailed the huge assembly, such a storm of applause swept through the crowded building as has never before been heard within the four walls of the historic structure. Men rose to their feet and swung their caps, while a roar of enthusiasm drowned the first attempts of Mr. Pattison to make himself heard. The young controller, his calm visage flushed with the excitement and gratified feeling naturally excited by the ovation so spontaneously accorded him, paused for several moments until the first outbreak had in a measure subsided, and then began his address in a clear ringing tone that made itself heard in every part of the densely thronged room. In tendering his thanks for the kind reception, Mr. Pattison said he recognized in this enthusiastic demonstration not a tribute to the individual but a manifestation of the interest this mighty audience felt in the great questions that agitate the public mind to-day. "This," said Mr. Pattison, "is no small contest; it is a battle between the people and the bosses, and we are occupied gathered in a town of the commonwealth that has extended from Lake Erie to the Delaware, and from the northern tier to the southern border, clearly proves to me that the people of Pennsylvania know what they want and mean to enforce it. Mr. Madison, in a notable address, has said that the true spirit of republican institutions is to compel from the rulers a strict obedience to the will of the people; so the people of Pennsylvania at this important stage of the commonwealth's history resolved to exact from their so-called bosses a strict compliance with their just demands. They demand that the public officer shall be the exponent of the public will; that public office shall be conducted by no one man or combination of men, but in the interest of the whole people. I remember," continued Mr. Pattison, "of reading somewhere a story of the emperor of China, who in the gardens of Peking talked with his chief minister of the wealth of his empire, and asked him what was most to be feared on the part of the people. The wise counsellor replied that it was the 'rat in the statue.' When the emperor asked the meaning of the allegory employed in the reply to his query the minister told the tale of a wooden statue hollow within, and into which a rat continued to enter until the emperor was obliged to remove it. The puzzle was how to accomplish the expulsion of the rat without the destruction of the statue, and the counsellor pointed out that the rats that too frequently gained entrance into the statue as represented in the great government of our commonwealth were the men devoid of merit and virtue who gained the favor of their prince and secured places of power for which they were unfitness. In Pennsylvania the rat in the statue is the boss system. The remedy is in the hands of the people and consists in the reform of our government, the honest government whom the will of the people of the commonwealth has already designated as the proper person to restore and regenerate the state government to those principles of purity in which its foundations were established. As it grew difficult to make headway along the crowded sidewalks in the central portion of the city, while a dense mass of humanity took up the entire street in front of the Democratic headquarters, which were very prettily decorated with Chinese lanterns. The Young Men's Democratic club assembled at the latter place about seven o'clock, and shortly afterwards they formed in line and marched to the Pennsylvania depot. The young men, numbering upwards of one hundred, wore a neat uniform consisting of a blue cloth cap, with gold cord running over the top, a handsome white silk badge, with gold bullion fringe, and all carried light walking sticks. The staff were the handsome suits used during the Lancaster campaign. Clubs from the Seventh, Eighth and other wards came marching down town and added to the general clamor.

When the 7:30 train came steaming into the depot the band struck up a lively air and then began an indiscriminate discharge of Roman candles and other fireworks among the mighty throng assembled in the neighborhood, and when the tall form of Controller Pattison was seen on the platform of the smoking car "a shout that rent the firmament" arose and swept through the crowd like a tempest far down North Queen and Chestnut streets. The visiting party was composed of Controller Pattison, Chairman Hessel, Senator Gordon, Congressman Hoffmann, Mr. Carrigan and several others. The Lancaster committee were Messrs. J. L. Steinmetz, Samuel W. Altick and Representative Elton G. Snyder, had gone down to Downingtown to meet the visitors, and arrived here with them. To get off of the cars was a matter of great difficulty on account of the throng in the depot, but it was finally accomplished and the visitors were escorted to the coaches that stood in waiting, and the order to forward march was given. The street parade was a brief one, extending from the Pennsylvania depot down North Queen to Chestnut square, and down Chestnut to the city hall, where the train arrived just at the time the procession did, and a delegation of more than a hundred from the lower end, accompanied by a band of music joined the ranks. Then the line counter-marched up to the city hall, where it was met by the streets were a hard one and the procession had to fairly force its way through the dense mass of humanity that lined the curbs. All the time there was kept up a constant fusillade of fireworks, while a roar of applause swept through the throng as the procession moved along.

Arrived at the court house, that building was found to be already packed, and only a small proportion of the parade effected an entrance. Every seat in the vast auditorium and all the window sills, even up to the rafters, were occupied, while there was not a spare inch of standing room. The bar railing was no bar to the eager throng, and they crowded beyond it and close up to the bench from which the speeches were delivered. The first ward Pattison glared through the eyes of the Chairman Roland, in vain trying to make himself heard, proposed Newton Lightner, esq., for chairman of the meeting, which was of course carried with a roar of approval. The following list of officers was then ratified: Vice Presidents, L. B. Strarr, R. J. McGrann, George Nammab, Philip Zecher, H. Z. Rhoads, J. W. Leber, Dr. McCaa, Oliver Strohl, Jere. Mohler, W. R. Wilson, R. A. Malone, D. A. Altick, Geo. W. Brown, L. T. Hessel, W. H. Kincer, B. F. Worth, Frederick Walter, Wm. Fink, J. McGrann, S. H. Reynolds, Jacob Wise, Arnold Haas, John McKillips, Daniel McCormick, Wm. Baltz, Henry Hartman, G. F. Shultz, S. R. Hackenberger, John Gantz, Daniel S. Will, David Metzler, H. Bonner, Elias B. Sherer, Ralph Fischer, Secretaries, G. W. Orendorf, H. F. Shultz, J. E. Malone, Frank Mettett, Eugene Flinn, Richard M. Reilly.

Mr. Pattison's Speech. When President Lightner introduced the candidate for governor, amid the din that prevailed the huge assembly, such a storm of applause swept through the crowded building as has never before been heard within the four walls of the historic structure. Men rose to their feet and swung their caps, while a roar of enthusiasm drowned the first attempts of Mr. Pattison to make himself heard. The young controller, his calm visage flushed with the excitement and gratified feeling naturally excited by the ovation so spontaneously accorded him, paused for several moments until the first outbreak had in a measure subsided, and then began his address in a clear ringing tone that made itself heard in every part of the densely thronged room. In tendering his thanks for the kind reception, Mr. Pattison said he recognized in this enthusiastic demonstration not a tribute to the individual but a manifestation of the interest this mighty audience felt in the great questions that agitate the public mind to-day. "This," said Mr. Pattison, "is no small contest; it is a battle between the people and the bosses, and we are occupied gathered in a town of the commonwealth that has extended from Lake Erie to the Delaware, and from the northern tier to the southern border, clearly proves to me that the people of Pennsylvania know what they want and mean to enforce it. Mr. Madison, in a notable address, has said that the true spirit of republican institutions is to compel from the rulers a strict obedience to the will of the people; so the people of Pennsylvania at this important stage of the commonwealth's history resolved to exact from their so-called bosses a strict compliance with their just demands. They demand that the public officer shall be the exponent of the public will; that public office shall be conducted by no one man or combination of men, but in the interest of the whole people. I remember," continued Mr. Pattison, "of reading somewhere a story of the emperor of China, who in the gardens of Peking talked with his chief minister of the wealth of his empire, and asked him what was most to be feared on the part of the people. The wise counsellor replied that it was the 'rat in the statue.' When the emperor asked the meaning of the allegory employed in the reply to his query the minister told the tale of a wooden statue hollow within, and into which a rat continued to enter until the emperor was obliged to remove it. The puzzle was how to accomplish the expulsion of the rat without the destruction of the statue, and the counsellor pointed out that the rats that too frequently gained entrance into the statue as represented in the great government of our commonwealth were the men devoid of merit and virtue who gained the favor of their prince and secured places of power for which they were unfitness. In Pennsylvania the rat in the statue is the boss system. The remedy is in the hands of the people and consists in the reform of our government, the honest government whom the will of the people of the commonwealth has already designated as the proper person to restore and regenerate the state government to those principles of purity in which its foundations were established. As it grew difficult to make headway along the crowded sidewalks in the central portion of the city, while a dense mass of humanity took up the entire street in front of the Democratic headquarters, which were very prettily decorated with Chinese lanterns. The Young Men's Democratic club assembled at the latter place about seven o'clock, and shortly afterwards they formed in line and marched to the Pennsylvania depot. The young men, numbering upwards of one hundred, wore a neat uniform consisting of a blue cloth cap, with gold cord running over the top, a handsome white silk badge, with gold bullion fringe, and all carried light walking sticks. The staff were the handsome suits used during the Lancaster campaign. Clubs from the Seventh, Eighth and other wards came marching down town and added to the general clamor.

caused the passage of a law by the councils of Philadelphia regulating deposits. By this law the amount of deposits among banks was proportioned to their capital and by its operation the amount of money on deposit in the People's bank, the favored institution of the bosses, has been reduced to an average of about $30,000. In Philadelphia, too, the law compels a weekly publication of the treasurer of the names of the various banks in which the deposits and the amount in each. We find the rule there safe and wise. Why, let me ask, should not the finances of the state be subjected to similar management? The same safeguards are needed to be thrown about the finances of the state as the legislators of the city of Philadelphia have deemed necessary to guard their own treasury. But the corrupt dynasty that controls the financial affairs of the state of Pennsylvania will not consent to such an enactment, for the reason that it would take away the rewards by which they are enabled to maintain their rotten domination.

Mr. Pattison designated the assessment system as one of the greatest evils of our government as it exists to-day. Officers who are subjected to the demands of campaign requirements and are compelled to contribute from the emolument of their positions to keep the machine in motion will take the first opportunity of repaying themselves from the public treasury, and thus the people of the state and nation are deliberately robbed to maintain a corrupt partisan organization in the places of power. In the operation of the assessment as it exists are multiplied and the taxpayers are robbed in order that the State-waster pipe may be paid. The speaker emphasized this point by a number of pertinent illustrations, and made the assertion that 25 per cent. of the government employees represented in class who are plundering the public treasury of every penny they receive. "By their fruits ye shall know them."

The Independent Revolt. The speaker related the story of an Armenian general with 450,000 soldiers who saw from his position of advantage on a hill the Roman army encamped below with only 13,000. In a spirit of ridicule he said lightly to his aids: "Yonder man are too many for an embassy, and too few to fight." Yet before nightfall they proved strong enough to put the Armenian forces to flight with great slaughter. So to, the revolt of the independent element against bossism. The State-waster in so-called terms have proclaimed that the independent army is unequal to the task of being governed; nor is it to prevent people from getting rich, but to protect them in getting rich. As Pennsylvanians we are proud of the industries of our state. The statistics which we can show are evidence of the thrift and energy characteristic of the commonwealth, and in the contemplation of our own bosoms swell with pardonable pride. The man who, by word or action, would seek to impair these industries had better a millstone were hung round his neck and throw himself into the nearest stream. We measure our manufacturers and our industries in general by their products, however. Were we to measure our state government by their products we would have cause to hang our heads in shame instead of bearing them high as children of the Keystone State; for our product has been defeated and instead of the noble legend of "Virtue, Liberty and Independence," it bears the infamous inscription of "Addition, Division and Silence."

The Supreme Law. Mr. Pattison, after making effective use of Macaulay's contrast of the barbarism of the thirteenth century with the civilization of the nineteenth as illustrative of the present condition of politics, showed that the time was at hand when the people of the commonwealth should inscribe over the doors of the public offices "The will of the people is the supreme law." The public records, said Mr. Pattison in conclusion are the records of the people. Their examination, he said, should be always open to the people, and the public servants who have faithfully represented his constituents have no hesitation in exhibiting them under the glare of day—that, unfortunately, has not been the history of the public office of Pennsylvania.

In terminating his address Controller Pattison said impressively "It is with you, my fellow-citizens, by the power of your ballots, to remove these people from the positions of high trust which they have decorated with the wine of bossism, and to write on the walls of the places they have polluted the blazing inscription: 'Thus art weighed in the balances and found wanting.' I thank you for your kind attention."

Senator Gordon's Address. The next speaker introduced was Hon. James Gay Gordon, Philadelphia's youthful senator, elected from a Republican district, who began his address with the remark that he had not expected to find so many Democrats in this stronghold of the Republican party. He had heard a remark in answer to Mr. Pattison's query when Pennsylvania would have real reform, that it would come next Tuesday. When he as governor the whole state government from top to bottom will be restored to its pristine excellence. When Elizabeth was Queen of England a proclamation was ordered to be read in all the churches. The controller developed the points of his remarks with electrical effect. His conclusion prolonged cheers rent the air.

Nothing but his shattered constitutions so quickly as Brown's Iron Bitters. For sale by H. E. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street.

A doctor at Richmond says that if people will take a bath in hot whisky and rock salt twice a year they will never catch a Cold. Until somebody has tried this new remedy we would say—stick to the old and reliable Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup.

"Facts speak plainer than words." Proof—The Doctor told me to take a blue pill, but I didn't for I had already been poisoned twice by mercury. The druggist told me to try Saylor's, and I did. It was just the thing for my biliousness and constipation, and now I am as well as ever.—A. F. Sanford. Sold in both dry and liquid form.

In the Diamond Dyes more coloring is given for 10 cents than in any 15 or 20-cent dye, and they give faster and more brilliant colors.

Brought's Testimony. H. F. McCarthy, druggist, Ottawa, Ont., states that he was afflicted with chronic bronchitis for some years, and was completely cured by the use of Thomas' Electric Oil. For sale by H. E. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street.

Nothing but his shattered constitutions so quickly as Brown's Iron Bitters. For sale by H. E. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street.

The Celluloid Eye-Glasses are the lightest, handsomest and most durable made. Get a pair. For sale by all leading Jewelers and Opticians.

Saylor's cure will immediately relieve Croup, Whooping Cough and Bronchitis. For sale by H. E. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street.

Triumphant. Mrs. Scitfield, Marion, O., says "Thomas' Electric Oil has cured me in two cases; she had it for a year, and I had it for two years, and was cured by the use of it in a few minutes. For sale by H. E. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street.

Saylor's Catarrh Remedy—a positive cure for Catarrh, Diptheria and Canker Mouth. For sale by H. E. Cochran, druggist, 137 and 139 North Queen street.

Walton Leaf Hat removed.

It is entirely different from all others. It is as clean as water, and, as its name indicates, is a perfect washable hat. It will not immediately free the head from all dirt, but it will restore gray hair to its natural color and produce a new growth where it has fallen out. It does not in any manner effect the health, such sulphur, Sugar of Lead and Nitrate of Silver preparations have done. It will change light or faded hair to a few days to a beautiful glossy brown. Ask your druggist or mail order books is warranted. SMITH, ELIOT & CO., Wholesale Agents, Philadelphia, and C. N. GILBERTSON, New York. June 1882

CLOTHING.

THE SWELL.

Our immense stock of Fine Clothing comprises goods suitable for all classes. The Clergyman, the Business Man, yes, even the "Swell Young Man," will here find things suited to his taste.

A. C. YATES & CO.,

Lidger Building, Chestnut & Sixth Sts.

PHILADELPHIA.

631-1101

FALL AND WINTER

COATINGS, SUITINGS, OVERCOATINGS, PANTALOONS and VESTINGS.

All of which will be promptly to order and satisfaction guaranteed.

Fit and Fashion. Goods sold by the yard or pattern. 631-1101

HIRSH & BROTHER.

Shirts and Underwear.

The plans to buy your Shirts and Underwear at our Great Clothing Hall, and now we would like you to call and examine some of our shirts and trousers showing in the accompanying articles. Our

UNDERWEAR

Ranges in price from 25 cents each to $2.50 and comprises all the different grades and colors. A 52-cent Shirt and Drawers is a special bargain. We have

50 DIFFERENT KINDS OF SHIRTS,

Among which we have special bargains in white and blue flannel Bicycle, Lawn Tennis, Yachmen's and the cheaper grades. A Bicycle shirt at 50 cents. A Bicycle shirt at 25 cents. A Bicycle shirt at $1.00, and different qualities to suit all classes. A great inducement is a lot of 250 dozen extra quality.

Paragon White Shirts

At 50 cents, four-ply linen bosom and cuffs, reinforcing bosom. A few dozen of these elegant Paragon shirts, with two collars, at 65 cents, yet less.

HIRSH & BROTHER,

Penn Hall Clothing House.

Nos. 2 and 4 North Queen Street, 6 and 8 Penn Square. sep8 154

A FULL LINE OF KEGS, BOTTLES AND ALL other playing cards at HARTMAN'S YELLOW FRONT CIGAR STORE

(Continued on second page.)