NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

Picked Up by the Intelligencer's Reporter Mrs. John Wagner is now painting the house on 3d street formerly owned by Mrs. John Hartman.

The Ancient Knights of the Mystic Chain will hold their first grand reunion in Odd Fellows hall next Monday evening. It will no doubt be a fine affair. Scarcely a day passes that we do not have a runaway to notice; one occurred on Union street this morning by the driver running against a tree and breaking the shafts. The driver escaped. Mr. Edward Taylor, business man er for Madam Janauschek, arrived in wn this morning to make arrangemen for her appearance on the 11th of this on h Several negroes got into a fight on Mill street this morning about 9 o'cle K. One of them received a cut across the face with a razor. Sullivan the pugilist is booked for Satunday night to appear in the opera house and consequently the roiling mill hands are delighted as well as some of the roughs of the town. He will have a crowded

The engine and boiler of the stove works are now in posit on and ready for use. The cupola is fast nearing completion, it is made of ! inch boiler iron and will rise 20 feet above the roof of the mouling house. Painters are now very busy painting the woodwork.

New Hose, The Columbia fire company received 300 feet of new line hose, and yesterday gave it a trial, using an inch nozzle, when a n resure of 220 pounds was applied; the hose gave every satisfaction. The couplargs are made of a new pattern. The trial took place on Locust street and as usual on such occasions, drew a crowd.

Attacked on Fow Hiti Hiram Fisher, aged about 35 years, was attacked by two of the "Hill" negroes, on the Lancaster turnpike last evening. After knocking him down they beat him about the face and head with a blunt weapon, inflicting several severe wounds. They then helped themsives to his money and made good their escape.

A Plough Horse Gets Away A horse belonging to Samuel McDonald broke loose from a plough to which it was attached vesterday afternoon, near new 2d street. Escaping from the field in which the ploughing was being done, it ran a bridge or platform the boards gave way, causing it to fall, when it was finally caught and taken back to its work.

The Falling Leaves. Our streets are carpeted with the falling leaves and when mixed with the mud they present a pleasant prospect for pedestri ans; the boys, too enjoy it very much as the time for playing marbles has now arrived, and it is first necessary for them to clear away the mud and leaves; it is good exercise for them and always leaves their clothes in good condition for their mothers to also have some exercise.

Personal Previties. Mr. Bachenbeimer left yesterday for Philadelphia, Mr. John Witmer has returned from visit to l'hiladelphia. Mrs. Martha Beck, of Scranton, is the guest of friends on Cherry street.

Mr. Thomas Folger has returned home from a two weaks visit to Cleveland, O. Mr. Joseph Bucher and family, of Lan easter, are visiting his father on Third

The gentlemanly and attentive conductor of the Reading & Columbia ratiroad, Wm. Templing, has left for a weeks' ab sonce. His health is not good. The many friends of Mr. Adolph Jessel will be pleased to learn that he has returned in good health and spirits.

Perlis of Rallroading. As an engine on the Columbia & Read ing railroad was backing a car off the sic ing near the station at this place and came near causing the death of Casey Weimer, a brakeman on that road. Mr. Weimer was standing on the point of one of the cars braking. The car was "thrown' in at the siding but too much force was used and consequently it struck a ear that was standing upon the siding with such force that it was knocked from the track and one of the trucks was knocked under the middle of the car. Just as the cars were about to strike Weimer jumped, otherwise uninjured.

Hatlowe en. ifallowe'en was celebrated here las night in the most disgraceful manner. Young "!adies" who had better been at home, made themselves conspicuous by throwing flour upon every passing per son, and had they have been of the kickable sex, this morning I think they would not have felt comfortable. Young men and boys, and indeed some who called themselves men were engaged in the same disgraceful proceedings, such as tearing steps from before doors, throwing flour and lampblack upon passers-by, some even went so far as to get a woolen cloth and saturate it with oil and lampblack and dash it in the faces of strangers on the street. Shame! Shame!

DRUMORE NEWS.

Matters of Interest in the Lower End. Hymen has lit his torch among us and gossip says it is to be kept burning pretty steadily all winter. October 25 Mr. John Middle street, on Friday atternoon at two Runner, of Wakefield, led Miss Mary L. o clock. Ankrum, one of our estimable Drumore girls, to the altar, where the necessary ceremony to "make them one foreverwas performed in the most ap proved Presbyterian style by Rev. John Galbreath. The best wishes of number less friends follow them into the awful realm of matrimony.

One of our Independents, who generally knows whereof he speaks, says the vote of his party will count up almost a hun-dred in this township; and we Democrats are as thick as autumn leaves, the Stalwarts as sickly.

The Republican mass meeting held at Wakefield township, last Saturday, was tlat failure. W. D. Weaver and Thos Whitson, esq., did the speaking, and about two dozen whites and all the negroes in Fulton made the audience. Henry Horner, a former resident of Peach Bottom, died at his residence at Conowingo last Thursday. Burial at Mexico on Sunday. Deceased was one of the best pilots on the Sasquehanna be tween Peach Bottom and Port Deposit, and a member of Drumore Lodge, 1. O. O.

The quarterly conference of the M. E. church met at this place on Saturday afternoon and the usual services followed at this office. on Sunday. Love feast was taken at 9:30. At 11 o'clock a. m. and 3 p. m. able discourses were delivered by the minister of St. Paul's M. E. church of Lancaster city. At the evening services presiding elder, Rev. O'Connel, D. D., officiated. The church was packed with people at all the services, many being compelled to stand in the aisles.

Owing to the inclemency of the weather the lyceum was poorly attended on Friday evening. The question for discussion on next evening is, Resolved, that the execution of Mary, Queen of Scotts, was justifiable. The disputants on the affirmation than any one of similar size in tive are Misses Hattie Hart and Effic jr., and T. J. Shirk.

Hickory Grove school is closed this week on account of the illness of the teacher, Henry Brenger, jr. The firm of Reese & Hart are making preparations for enlarging their store at this place. With the proposed addition they will have a nice building and spa cious room for the trade. The massmeeting held at C. Taylor's hotel on last Thursday evening was proportionally well attended. J. G. Gatchel, as usual, was here with his circumlocutory, but entertaining speeches.

DOWN THE RIVER.

Sneak Thiefs in Martic Township. We believe the meanest man has been paying visits to Martic. A rope swing was put up by the Bridge Valley school to furnish recreations during intermissions. A few days ago, a rogue driving a butcher wagon passed the school, saw the swing and becoming possessed of a desire of owning just such a rope, appropriated about half of it. A few mornings after he had occasion to travel the same road and took all the rest of the rope that he could reach. If the gentleman (?) will call at the school house while the teacher is at liberty he will present him with the rest of the rope.

Mr. Amos Patton purchased a pair of boots at the village store, and preparatory to wearing them took them to the shop to get irons on the heels; but he never got to wear those boots, for during the night a sneak thief broke into the shop, and stole the boots.

A Bright Boy's Death.

A telegram to Rev. Dr. Cyrus F. Knight of St. James church, announces the death of Harry, the youngest and only surviving son of Henry E. and Harriet Lane Johnston. The sad event occurred on the night of October 30 at Nice in the south of France, whither he had gone with his parents in the hope of regaining his health. This latest bereavement will deepen the pain with which a very large circle of friends heard of Mr. and Mrs. Johnston's former affliction in the death of their eldest son, James Buchanan Johnston, less than two years ago. Re:nembering Hallowe'en.

The monster demonstration which attended Mr. Pattison's reception last night kept the small boy so busily occupied that but little ringing of door bells, throwing corn at windows and tripping up unwary pedestrians was indulged in. In the private homes of many the usual Hallow e'en festivities took place, and the cheerful happy faces of the groups that gath ered around the hearth stone testified to down new Second street and in crossing the appreciation in which this festival has always been held by the young.

St. Michael's Society stall. St. Michael's society held a ball last evening at West End Hall, which was n all respects a most successful affair. The committee in charge fairly surpassed themselves in their provision for the entertainment of those present. Everything passed off pleasantly and all voted it a splendid

Later in the day, without the counsel being present and without notice, Justice Wylie took up the matter, and, after referring to the contents of the answer, said that he thought the rule should be discharged and so ordered. He then referred to the manner in which the grand jury could be approached and in-sisted that the regular course must be observed. There seemed to be a misapprehension existing in the minds of the public as to this course and he was satisfied that Mr. Dickson was one of that number.
