

Lancaster Intelligencer.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOV. 3, 1882.

A Cloud of Lies.

The Stalwart managers of this campaign have fought a losing battle without principle and without conscience. They have uniformly acted in serene obliviousness of the fact that their evasions and misstatements were certain to be exposed; in fact, the conduct of Cooper, Quay and Cameron in this respect has at times been grotesque in its absurdity. One might have supposed that they looked upon the people as a lot of feeble-minded children and regarded the editors of the Independent and Democratic press as born fools.

The Harrisburg convention of May 10th was in itself a shameless swindle. It pretended to have come from the Republican party and fairly to represent it, when it was the creature and the creature of the bosses. It apparently broke away from the control of its master at the close, yet, as was afterwards discovered, the nomination of Marshall was largely the scheming work of confidential agents of Mr. Cameron, who openly and heartily approved of what had been done in his interest.

When the Independent Republican ticket was put in the field, the flood-gates of misrepresentation and abuse were opened upon it and its champions. Scores of damaging statements, if true, have gone forth to the country about Mr. Stewart, for instance, yet not one of them has had the desired effect, simply because all were quickly shown to be utterly false.

Mr. ATTREE's secretary of the navy, Boss Chandler, is having a hard time in trying to make the senatorial landing in New Hampshire. The Republicans of the Granite State only have a margin of about 3,000 to work on in the best of times, and in the present fight fully half that number are openly in rebellion against the party machine, with their strength daily increasing.

Mr. CAMERON'S secretary of the navy, Boss Chandler, is having a hard time in trying to make the senatorial landing in New Hampshire. The Republicans of the Granite State only have a margin of about 3,000 to work on in the best of times, and in the present fight fully half that number are openly in rebellion against the party machine, with their strength daily increasing.

Mr. CAMERON'S secretary of the navy, Boss Chandler, is having a hard time in trying to make the senatorial landing in New Hampshire. The Republicans of the Granite State only have a margin of about 3,000 to work on in the best of times, and in the present fight fully half that number are openly in rebellion against the party machine, with their strength daily increasing.

Mr. CAMERON'S secretary of the navy, Boss Chandler, is having a hard time in trying to make the senatorial landing in New Hampshire. The Republicans of the Granite State only have a margin of about 3,000 to work on in the best of times, and in the present fight fully half that number are openly in rebellion against the party machine, with their strength daily increasing.

Mr. CAMERON'S secretary of the navy, Boss Chandler, is having a hard time in trying to make the senatorial landing in New Hampshire. The Republicans of the Granite State only have a margin of about 3,000 to work on in the best of times, and in the present fight fully half that number are openly in rebellion against the party machine, with their strength daily increasing.

are sensible enough to know a hawk from a handsaw, will not be likely to help Mr. Bosler to go to the Senate.

GOV. BLACKBURN, of Kentucky, is the right sort of governor. He sees that the law is respected by mobs. A Kentucky mob was determined to take two men, charged with murder, out of the hands of the officers of the law while they were being taken to another county for trial. The governor sent the state troops to aid the law officers. The mob came out in a boat to attack them as they passed down the Ohio river in a steamer. The officers of the law were fired upon and they returned the fire, wounding and killing some of those who assailed them and others in the crowd or those who had assembled to witness the conflict, if not to aid in it.

Gov. Blackburn declared that he would execute the order made upon him by the judge for the delivery for trial of those prisoners if every man, woman and child in the country whence they were taken was killed in the attempt; and that is the kind of a governor for us. Not one like our own governor, Hoyt, who, estimable in many respects, demonstrated his lack of nerve and energy as the proper executive of our great State.

It has been pull dick, pull devil between the Republican factors over Hoyt's political remains, with the odds in favor of the Independents, who have practically come out ahead apparently, inasmuch as Mr. Cameron's personal newspaper organ at the state capitol has "jumped on" the governor with its accustomed ferocity, although it has since made a feeble attempt to "take it all back." Hoyt's alliance with the anti-Cameron party is only a question of time.

Mr. CAMERON'S secretary of the navy, Boss Chandler, is having a hard time in trying to make the senatorial landing in New Hampshire. The Republicans of the Granite State only have a margin of about 3,000 to work on in the best of times, and in the present fight fully half that number are openly in rebellion against the party machine, with their strength daily increasing.

Mr. CAMERON'S secretary of the navy, Boss Chandler, is having a hard time in trying to make the senatorial landing in New Hampshire. The Republicans of the Granite State only have a margin of about 3,000 to work on in the best of times, and in the present fight fully half that number are openly in rebellion against the party machine, with their strength daily increasing.

Mr. CAMERON'S secretary of the navy, Boss Chandler, is having a hard time in trying to make the senatorial landing in New Hampshire. The Republicans of the Granite State only have a margin of about 3,000 to work on in the best of times, and in the present fight fully half that number are openly in rebellion against the party machine, with their strength daily increasing.

Mr. CAMERON'S secretary of the navy, Boss Chandler, is having a hard time in trying to make the senatorial landing in New Hampshire. The Republicans of the Granite State only have a margin of about 3,000 to work on in the best of times, and in the present fight fully half that number are openly in rebellion against the party machine, with their strength daily increasing.

Mr. CAMERON'S secretary of the navy, Boss Chandler, is having a hard time in trying to make the senatorial landing in New Hampshire. The Republicans of the Granite State only have a margin of about 3,000 to work on in the best of times, and in the present fight fully half that number are openly in rebellion against the party machine, with their strength daily increasing.

Mr. CAMERON'S secretary of the navy, Boss Chandler, is having a hard time in trying to make the senatorial landing in New Hampshire. The Republicans of the Granite State only have a margin of about 3,000 to work on in the best of times, and in the present fight fully half that number are openly in rebellion against the party machine, with their strength daily increasing.

SELECTING A BABY.

THEATRE MANAGER IN A QUANDARY How the Youngest Member of a Dramatic Company Was Engaged—His Own Every Variety Inspected.

Henry Bergman, stage manager of the "Oak" company, walked briskly through the entrance to the Walnut street theatre stage in Philadelphia. Thirty mothers arose as he entered, and thirty sucking babies were thrust under his nose, and before he could escape a score of baby hands were putting at his head and shoulders a pair of tiny lists were thrust into his eyes.

"The trouble was that Mr. Bergman had advertised in a morning paper for a baby to go on the stage as a member of the 'Hearts of Oak' company. He had specified that the youngster should be 'not over 4 months old, good natured and accustomed to having his mother who was to be guaranteed a handsome salary and expenses to go along and take care of the infant.' 'My gracious!'"

A VOTE for Pattison is a vote upon which every good citizen can go to sleep on election night with a well satisfied conscience after casting it. It is a vote for a clean handed man, who owes his nomination to no bargains or deals, who has no bosses behind him, and is under no pledges, express or implied, to hamper him from doing his full duty to the public as chief magistrate of the state.

"Why don't you take Editor Smith's advice, 'unlucky' Cameron, and go for Beaver on his own merits?" said Mr. Eby to General Beaver. "I would rather not be governor than do that," responded Cameron's candidate. Do the freedom of Pennsylvania wish to place in the executive chair a man who thus proudly proclaims his subservience to James Donald Cameron?

ALL the kinks have been got out of the senatorial districts, and the Democrats are certain to hold their own. It is probable that they will make a net gain of several members. Thomas (Bucks), Rambo (Montgomery), McNeill (Allegheny) and Hughes (8th Philadelphia), Republican candidates, are almost certain to be defeated, while Stehman's chances are not very good.

LET every honest citizen, irrespective of party, remember that the opportunity now presented to strike down the corrupt combination which has so long misruled and plundered Pennsylvania is one that has not been presented to the people of this state before under such favorable circumstances. Pattison's vote ought to exceed anything ever given to a candidate for governor. Let us crush the machine to powder.

WAYNE MACVEAGH thinks Blaine enlarged Bosler, the Cameron candidate in the 23rd senatorial district, upon impulse and without proper reflection. He further states that Star Route testimony developed the fact that Bosler was Dorsey's partner, and that they were receiving from a single route—No. 40,104—at the rate of $24,000 per annum, without a pretense of doing anything whatever to earn it. Men are usually known by the company they keep, and time may prove that it would have been better for the famous Indiana-beet and mail-route contractor to have remained in his former obscurity rather than exhibit his shortcomings to a scrutinizing public.

BEAVER'S attempted denial of the remark attributed to him in reference to unloading Cameron "I would rather not be governor than do that," has not panned out very well. Mr. J. Z. Eby, in the informant, in a card just published, "unhesitatingly reaffirms that in all essential points (the New Era's report) was substantially correct." That these are Beaver's real sentiments no unprejudiced man with the smallest modicum of common sense will deny.

J. S. MORTON, the Democratic candidate for governor of Nebraska, foots his own campaign bills. Mr. BARRETT, the father of Lawrence Barrett, the actor, died at his home in Baltimore a few days ago. JOSIAH QUINCY, son of the celebrated lawyer, legislator and orator of that name, has died at Wallston, Quincy Mass., aged 80 years.

DR. LANDIS, who is still at large and on the run, has been arrested by D. D. after his name has started a "Scientific Church" at Steiny Hall, New York. After his arrest; reserved seats, 50 cents. This stroke of business is the best feature of the enterprise.

GENERAL SHERMAN, in a speech at Fort Leavenworth, recently, told how during the Atlanta campaign he had his maps printed on muslin, so as not to tear in the wind, but he added that they soon became scarce because they were so handy for land-knives. EX-GOVERNOR ANBER COBLIN, "the richest man in Maine," is now 80 years old, venerable in appearance, but remarkably hale and vigorous. His hair and whiskers are snowy white, but his eye is clear, his hand steady and step elastic. He has no clerk to keep his accounts nor secretary to write his letters, but does it all himself. He spends an hour in the every day at the bank of which he is president, and keeps a close watch upon every detail of its operations.

The Prize Beauty Suing to Divorce. Laura S. Keyser, who is known as the world's Louisa Montague, Forepaugh's $10,000 beauty, has entered suit for a divorce from Paul Keyser, of Baltimore, whom she married in Peoria, Illinois, on Christmas Day, 1877. The ceremony was performed by Judge Gals, of the Western town. The beauty lived with her husband at 251 South Ninth street, in Philadelphia until July 15, 1879, at which time, she alleges, he "wickedly and maliciously" deserted her. Though more than two years allowed him by the law to repent and return had passed, she has not since turned up.

A conflagration in Hull, Ontario destroyed E. B. Eddy's saw mills, factories engine works, saw, blind and door factories, mill and woodenware factories and part of his great stock of lumber. The loss is estimated at over $200,000; insurance $165,000, divided among eleven companies. Captain Albert, of the Union fire company fell from a window and was carried home seriously injured. Over two hundred families will be left without means of support.

THEATRE MANAGER IN A QUANDARY.

How the Youngest Member of a Dramatic Company Was Engaged—His Own Every Variety Inspected.

Henry Bergman, stage manager of the "Oak" company, walked briskly through the entrance to the Walnut street theatre stage in Philadelphia. Thirty mothers arose as he entered, and thirty sucking babies were thrust under his nose, and before he could escape a score of baby hands were putting at his head and shoulders a pair of tiny lists were thrust into his eyes.

A VOTE for Pattison is a vote upon which every good citizen can go to sleep on election night with a well satisfied conscience after casting it. It is a vote for a clean handed man, who owes his nomination to no bargains or deals, who has no bosses behind him, and is under no pledges, express or implied, to hamper him from doing his full duty to the public as chief magistrate of the state.

"Why don't you take Editor Smith's advice, 'unlucky' Cameron, and go for Beaver on his own merits?" said Mr. Eby to General Beaver. "I would rather not be governor than do that," responded Cameron's candidate. Do the freedom of Pennsylvania wish to place in the executive chair a man who thus proudly proclaims his subservience to James Donald Cameron?

ALL the kinks have been got out of the senatorial districts, and the Democrats are certain to hold their own. It is probable that they will make a net gain of several members. Thomas (Bucks), Rambo (Montgomery), McNeill (Allegheny) and Hughes (8th Philadelphia), Republican candidates, are almost certain to be defeated, while Stehman's chances are not very good.

LET every honest citizen, irrespective of party, remember that the opportunity now presented to strike down the corrupt combination which has so long misruled and plundered Pennsylvania is one that has not been presented to the people of this state before under such favorable circumstances. Pattison's vote ought to exceed anything ever given to a candidate for governor. Let us crush the machine to powder.

WAYNE MACVEAGH thinks Blaine enlarged Bosler, the Cameron candidate in the 23rd senatorial district, upon impulse and without proper reflection. He further states that Star Route testimony developed the fact that Bosler was Dorsey's partner, and that they were receiving from a single route—No. 40,104—at the rate of $24,000 per annum, without a pretense of doing anything whatever to earn it. Men are usually known by the company they keep, and time may prove that it would have been better for the famous Indiana-beet and mail-route contractor to have remained in his former obscurity rather than exhibit his shortcomings to a scrutinizing public.

BEAVER'S attempted denial of the remark attributed to him in reference to unloading Cameron "I would rather not be governor than do that," has not panned out very well. Mr. J. Z. Eby, in the informant, in a card just published, "unhesitatingly reaffirms that in all essential points (the New Era's report) was substantially correct." That these are Beaver's real sentiments no unprejudiced man with the smallest modicum of common sense will deny.

J. S. MORTON, the Democratic candidate for governor of Nebraska, foots his own campaign bills. Mr. BARRETT, the father of Lawrence Barrett, the actor, died at his home in Baltimore a few days ago. JOSIAH QUINCY, son of the celebrated lawyer, legislator and orator of that name, has died at Wallston, Quincy Mass., aged 80 years.

DR. LANDIS, who is still at large and on the run, has been arrested by D. D. after his name has started a "Scientific Church" at Steiny Hall, New York. After his arrest; reserved seats, 50 cents. This stroke of business is the best feature of the enterprise.

GENERAL SHERMAN, in a speech at Fort Leavenworth, recently, told how during the Atlanta campaign he had his maps printed on muslin, so as not to tear in the wind, but he added that they soon became scarce because they were so handy for land-knives. EX-GOVERNOR ANBER COBLIN, "the richest man in Maine," is now 80 years old, venerable in appearance, but remarkably hale and vigorous. His hair and whiskers are snowy white, but his eye is clear, his hand steady and step elastic. He has no clerk to keep his accounts nor secretary to write his letters, but does it all himself. He spends an hour in the every day at the bank of which he is president, and keeps a close watch upon every detail of its operations.

The Prize Beauty Suing to Divorce. Laura S. Keyser, who is known as the world's Louisa Montague, Forepaugh's $10,000 beauty, has entered suit for a divorce from Paul Keyser, of Baltimore, whom she married in Peoria, Illinois, on Christmas Day, 1877. The ceremony was performed by Judge Gals, of the Western town. The beauty lived with her husband at 251 South Ninth street, in Philadelphia until July 15, 1879, at which time, she alleges, he "wickedly and maliciously" deserted her. Though more than two years allowed him by the law to repent and return had passed, she has not since turned up.

A conflagration in Hull, Ontario destroyed E. B. Eddy's saw mills, factories engine works, saw, blind and door factories, mill and woodenware factories and part of his great stock of lumber. The loss is estimated at over $200,000; insurance $165,000, divided among eleven companies. Captain Albert, of the Union fire company fell from a window and was carried home seriously injured. Over two hundred families will be left without means of support.

SHOT THROUGH THE HEART.

A Young Man Ends His Life Because of Trouble About His Work.

Otto Heyland, aged twenty-one years, residing with his mother at 433 North Fourth street, Philadelphia, Thursday evening committed suicide by shooting himself through the heart. Heyland was an upholsterer by trade and was employed as a foreman in Hopkins establishment, Ninth and Cherry streets. His relations with the men over whom he had been placed were not of a pleasant character and besides his work at times caused him a great deal of annoyance. About a week ago he became melancholy, and to the inquiries of his relatives as to the cause of his depression answered that matters were being going right at the shop. He returned home at the usual hour on Wednesday evening and went direct to his room on the third floor where he remained for a few minutes and then ascended to the attic. Here he divested himself of most of his clothing and taking a revolver from a pocket, deliberately shot himself in the left breast. The only other occupant of the house at the time was the mother of the young man, who was so busily engaged in the cellar that she did not hear the report made by the revolver. About 7 o'clock a brother-in-law of the young man returned home and as Otto failed to come to supper a search was instituted for him. The door of the attic was burst open and the dead body of Heyland found on the floor with a twenty-eight calibre revolver by his side.

ESTIMATES OF THE VOTE IN BERKS. The Chairman of the Different Political Parties Make a Canvas. The chairman of the different political parties in Berks county have made a careful canvass of their districts, and the result of their labors is as follows: S. M. Meredith, president of the Democratic association, estimates that Pattison's majority in Berks will be 7,500; Pattison's Independent Republican vote will be 100,000; Labor vote 250, and Prohibition about 100. F. S. Livingood, chairman of the Republican county committee, estimates the Democratic majority in the Berks district at 7,500; 300 votes for Stewart; Labor vote, 175. The city will go Democratic for governor, but the legislative ticket is in doubt.

THANKSGIVING DAY. A Covenant of the Faith of the Wayfarer and the Sojourner. Governor Hoyt has issued the following proclamation: In common with the inhabitants of all the land, the people of this state have just cause of thankfulness to Almighty God for the manifold material, intellectual and spiritual fruits and increase of the year.

Major Philip Speed, a prominent merchant of Louisville, died in that city on Wednesday night, aged 63 years. During the last war he was a paymaster in the Union army, his brother-in-law, George, being Attorney General in President Lincoln's cabinet. After the war he was collector of internal revenue at Louisville. He married a niece of Keats, the English poet.

Josiah Quincy, son of the celebrated lawyer, legislator and orator of that name, has died at Wallston, Quincy Mass., aged 80 years. He was Mayor of Boston in 1846-48.

Dr. LANDIS, who is still at large and on the run, has been arrested by D. D. after his name has started a "Scientific Church" at Steiny Hall, New York. After his arrest; reserved seats, 50 cents. This stroke of business is the best feature of the enterprise.

GENERAL SHERMAN, in a speech at Fort Leavenworth, recently, told how during the Atlanta campaign he had his maps printed on muslin, so as not to tear in the wind, but he added that they soon became scarce because they were so handy for land-knives. EX-GOVERNOR ANBER COBLIN, "the richest man in Maine," is now 80 years old, venerable in appearance, but remarkably hale and vigorous. His hair and whiskers are snowy white, but his eye is clear, his hand steady and step elastic. He has no clerk to keep his accounts nor secretary to write his letters, but does it all himself. He spends an hour in the every day at the bank of which he is president, and keeps a close watch upon every detail of its operations.

The Prize Beauty Suing to Divorce. Laura S. Keyser, who is known as the world's Louisa Montague, Forepaugh's $10,000 beauty, has entered suit for a divorce from Paul Keyser, of Baltimore, whom she married in Peoria, Illinois, on Christmas Day, 1877. The ceremony was performed by Judge Gals, of the Western town. The beauty lived with her husband at 251 South Ninth street, in Philadelphia until July 15, 1879, at which time, she alleges, he "wickedly and maliciously" deserted her. Though more than two years allowed him by the law to repent and return had passed, she has not since turned up.

A conflagration in Hull, Ontario destroyed E. B. Eddy's saw mills, factories engine works, saw, blind and door factories, mill and woodenware factories and part of his great stock of lumber. The loss is estimated at over $200,000; insurance $165,000, divided among eleven companies. Captain Albert, of the Union fire company fell from a window and was carried home seriously injured. Over two hundred families will be left without means of support.

Dr. LANDIS, who is still at large and on the run, has been arrested by D. D. after his name has started a "Scientific Church" at Steiny Hall, New York. After his arrest; reserved seats, 50 cents. This stroke of business is the best feature of the enterprise.

GENERAL SHERMAN, in a speech at Fort Leavenworth, recently, told how during the Atlanta campaign he had his maps printed on muslin, so as not to tear in the wind, but he added that they soon became scarce because they were so handy for land-knives. EX-GOVERNOR ANBER COBLIN, "the richest man in Maine," is now 80 years old, venerable in appearance, but remarkably hale and vigorous. His hair and whiskers are snowy white, but his eye is clear, his hand steady and step elastic. He has no clerk to keep his accounts nor secretary to write his letters, but does it all himself. He spends an hour in the every day at the bank of which he is president, and keeps a close watch upon every detail of its operations.

A conflagration in Hull, Ontario destroyed E. B. Eddy's saw mills, factories engine works, saw, blind and door factories, mill and woodenware factories and part of his great stock of lumber. The loss is estimated at over $200,000; insurance $165,000, divided among eleven companies. Captain Albert, of the Union fire company fell from a window and was carried home seriously injured. Over two hundred families will be left without means of support.

MACVEAGH ON BOSLER.

What Garfield's Attorney-General Knows About the Boss Senatorial Candidate of the Adams-Cumberland District.

Fresh interest in the possible candidacy of James W. Bosler in Mr. Cameron's interest, in the 33rd senatorial district, having been excited by the publication of a letter from ex-Secretary Blaine to Bosler this journal thought it would be well to see what ex-Attorney General MacVeagh knew about the famous Indian-beef and mail route contractor. Mr. MacVeagh was found in his office this morning, when the following interview took place. Our reporter said: "Mr. MacVeagh, have you seen Mr. Blaine's letter to candidate Bosler?" "Yes; I have seen it, and I was very sorry to see it. It was probably written upon impulse, and without proper reflection."

"Then you don't agree with Mr. Blaine in thinking a good man to send to the state Senate?" "Most decidedly I do not, and if Mr. Blaine had reflected upon the subject, I am sure he would not either. There is no reason why the good people of Cumberland should desire a man who has grown rich by government contracts to represent them in the Senate. The qualities which enable a man to amass a large fortune in selling a large quantity of the Indian Bureau, however laudable in themselves, are not the qualities particularly desirable in a law-maker at Harrisburg, and there can't be such a dearth of fit men in that district as to require its voters to elect the Boslers to high office."

Just what was Bosler's connection with the State House case? "It was quite sufficient, apart from everything else, to render his election undesirable. Long before the prosecutions were commenced Rerdell, who was recently convicted, testified before a committee of congress that the Bosler and the Boslers Brady had expedited, but he acted as a clerk for them, and the records showed that in a single route—No. 40,104—Dorsey and Bosler were receiving at the rate of $24,000 per annum, without a pretense of doing anything whatever to earn it. When asked if anybody had any interest in this route but Dorsey, Rerdell answered: 'He and his partner, Mr. Bosler.' He had previously stated that he was then acting as a clerk for a man named Dorsey & Co., and attending to the Star Route contracts. He was asked, 'who constitute the firm you represent?' He answered, 'S. W. Dorsey and J. W. Bosler.'"

Notable Deaths. Major Philip Speed, a prominent merchant of Louisville, died in that city on Wednesday night, aged 63 years. During the last war he was a paymaster in the Union army, his brother-in-law, George, being Attorney General in President Lincoln's cabinet. After the war he was collector of internal revenue at Louisville. He married a niece of Keats, the English poet.

Josiah Quincy, son of the celebrated lawyer, legislator and orator of that name, has died at Wallston, Quincy Mass., aged 80 years. He was Mayor of Boston in 1846-48.

Dr. LANDIS, who is still at large and on the run, has been arrested by D. D. after his name has started a "Scientific Church" at Steiny Hall, New York. After his arrest; reserved seats, 50 cents. This stroke of business is the best feature of the enterprise.

GENERAL SHERMAN, in a speech at Fort Leavenworth, recently, told how during the Atlanta campaign he had his maps printed on muslin, so as not to tear in the wind, but he added that they soon became scarce because they were so handy for land-knives. EX-GOVERNOR ANBER COBLIN, "the richest man in Maine," is now 80 years old, venerable in appearance, but remarkably hale and vigorous. His hair and whiskers are snowy white, but his eye is clear, his hand steady and step elastic. He has no clerk to keep his accounts nor secretary to write his letters, but does it all himself. He spends an hour in the every day at the bank of which he is president, and keeps a close watch upon every detail of its operations.

The Prize Beauty Suing to Divorce. Laura S. Keyser, who is known as the world's Louisa Montague, Forepaugh's $10,000 beauty, has entered suit for a divorce from Paul Keyser, of Baltimore, whom she married in Peoria, Illinois, on Christmas Day, 1877. The ceremony was performed by Judge Gals, of the Western town. The beauty lived with her husband at 251 South Ninth street, in Philadelphia until July 15, 1879, at which time, she alleges, he "wickedly and maliciously" deserted her. Though more than two years allowed him by the law to repent and return had passed, she has not since turned up.

A conflagration in Hull, Ontario destroyed E. B. Eddy's saw mills, factories engine works, saw, blind and door factories, mill and woodenware factories and part of his great stock of lumber. The loss is estimated at over $200,000; insurance $165,000, divided among eleven companies. Captain Albert, of the Union fire company fell from a window and was carried home seriously injured. Over two hundred families will be left without means of support.

Dr. LANDIS, who is still at large and on the run, has been arrested by D. D. after his name has started a "Scientific Church" at Steiny Hall, New York. After his arrest; reserved seats, 50 cents. This stroke of business is the best feature of the enterprise.

GENERAL SHERMAN, in a speech at Fort Leavenworth, recently, told how during the Atlanta campaign he had his maps printed on muslin, so as not to tear in the wind, but he added that they soon became scarce because they were so handy for land-knives. EX-GOVERNOR ANBER COBLIN, "the richest man in Maine," is now 80 years old, venerable in appearance, but remarkably hale and vigorous. His hair and whiskers are snowy white, but his eye is clear, his hand steady and step elastic. He has no clerk to keep his accounts nor secretary to write his letters, but does it all himself. He spends an hour in the every day at the bank of which he is president, and keeps a close watch upon every detail of its operations.

A conflagration in Hull, Ontario destroyed E. B. Eddy's saw mills, factories engine works, saw, blind and door factories, mill and woodenware factories and part of his great stock of lumber. The loss is estimated at over $200,000; insurance $165,000, divided among eleven companies. Captain Albert, of the Union fire company fell from a window and was carried home seriously injured. Over two hundred families will be left without means of support.

THE SCHOOL BOARD.

ORGANIZATION OF THE NEW BOARD. A Democratic President and Secretary Chosen and a Treasurer Elected.

The Lancaster school board met for organization last evening. Punctually at 7 o'clock Wm. A. Morton called the board to order, nominated Geo. W. Zecher as temporary chairman. The nomination was unanimously confirmed, and Charles F. Eberman was chosen temporary secretary. The returns of the election held February 21st were read, from which it appeared that George Darmstetter, J. M. Johnston, Wm. McCanney, S. W. Raub, C. Reimensnyder, Daniel Zecher, Daniel B. Baker, Marriott Brosius, A. K. Spurrier, Wm. O. Marshall, J. W. Byrne and Henry Gast, had been duly elected to serve for three years, commencing November 2d, 1882.

The roll of members was called and the following is given to their names: Messrs. D. B. Baker, H. R. Broseman, M. Brosius, J. Hay Brown, J. W. Byrne, Thos. B. Cochran, Geo. Darmstetter, Chas. F. Eberman, H. A. Evans, Henry Gast, F. W. Hays, J. H. Hartman, J. M. Johnston, Daniel B. Baker, Wm. O. Marshall, William McCanney, Peter McCanney, Wm. A. Morton, Adam Oldender, Simon W. Raub, Rev. G. Reimensnyder, H. Z. Rhoads, Luther Richards, A. Z. Ringwalt, Joseph Sampson, Charles Schaeffer, H. S. Snyder, E. G. Snyder, John B. Wafer, Christian Zecher, Geo. W. Zecher.

Dr. Carpenter and Herr were absent paired, and Alderman Spurrier was absent paired. The motion on the board proceeded to nominate candidates for permanent president. Dr. John Levergood, Democrat, and D. O. Baker, Republican, were nominated. A ballot being taken resulted as follows: Messrs. Baker, Darmstetter, Haas, Johnston, McCanney, McCanney, Morton, Oldender, Raub, Reimensnyder, Rhoads, Ringwalt, Slaymaker, A. J. Snyder, E. G. Snyder, Christian Zecher and Geo. W. Zecher—17, voted for Dr. Levergood.

For permanent Secretary George W. Zecher, Democrat, and H. R. Broseman, Republican were nominated. For treasurer H. E. Slaymaker, Democrat, and Wm. O. Marshall, Republican, were nominated. A ballot being taken resulted in 18 votes for each candidate, Alderman Spurrier having arrived late, and cast his vote for Mr. Marshall. The vote was a strict party one except that the two candidates cast complimentary votes for each other. A second, third, fourth and fifth ballot were taken with like result.

Mr. Reimensnyder was useless to continue the balloting, as it was evident there could be no election of treasurer tonight. He moved to postpone the election until next meeting, and proceed with other important business that would come to order. Messrs. Evans, Brown and Hartman, argued that no business could be transacted until the board was organized, and that it is not organized until the election of a treasurer. Alderman Morrison's motion out of order. A sixth and seventh ballot were taken, resulting in a tie as before. Mr. Reimensnyder renewed his motion.

Mr. Morton moved to adjourn or take a recess until to-morrow evening, and then renew the balloting. After some further discussion, during which Mr. Brosius read an extract from the law, which provides that where a board of school directors are organized to organize the school, they shall have the power to adjourn until next Thursday evening at 7 o'clock, and as amended, the resolution was adopted.

Missionary Meeting. The delegation sent from the Reformed theological institution in this city to the 30th annual meeting of the Inter-Seminary Missionary Alliance held at Chicago last week, returned home today. Mr. D. B. Schneider of the Seminary read a paper last Friday morning before the convention on the subject "How to Increase Missionary Interests in Colleges." The paper was listened to with profound interest and elicited a lengthy and spirited discussion. There were present at the convention over four hundred, the theological students representing above fifty of the leading Protestant seminaries of the United States and Canada, and some fifteen or sixteen of the most prominent denominations. The meeting was most interesting throughout and much good is expected to result from it for the foreign and domestic missionary cause.

Chemical Class. Last night a club was organized under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., for the study of practical chemistry and chemical experiments, a constitution was adopted and the following officers elected: D. S. Curtz, president; Ira Arnold, vice president, and W. Lee W. Adler, secretary and treasurer. The organization which is called the Y. M. C. A. Chemical Class expects to do a great deal of work. The next meeting will be on Thursday, Nov. 16th inst., and thereafter on every alternate Thursday. The public are cordially invited to attend these meetings and become members thereof, as we feel sure in saying that their time will be profitably spent. No particular text book will be used, and interesting experiments will be performed by prominent practitioners.

Surprise Party. Tuesday, Oct. 31, being the birthday of Miss Lizzie Lile, of Bowersburg, it was determined to give her a genuine surprise party; so upon unlocking her door after a temporary absence she found her house in the possession of about half a hundred of her friends and neighbors, and three tables groaning under the weight of good things "uncleanly and uncleanly." So complete was the surprise that for a while she was speechless, and could only look thanks for the kindly feeling she knew each present had for her. The party enjoyed themselves hugely and left at a good hour. The success of the affair can be credited to the Misses Aument, Wiker and Kingler.

Sale of Real Estate. Henry Shubert, auctioneer and real estate agent, sold at public sale, November 2, at the Sorrell House hotel, for the estate of Sarah Stoner, deceased, a two story brick dwelling, 13 feet front, situated No. 4210 Poplar street, to Henry Powlson for $810.

Sale of Horse. John Robman, auctioneer, sold on Thursday at the Sayer house, New H. J. land, fifteen head of Canada horses, averaging $241.07 per head. One brought $300.

Mayor's Court. The mayor had but a single customer to grace his court this morning. He was arrested for drunken and disorderly conduct and was discharged on payment of costs.