HOW THE CLERKS ARE EMPLOYED. Making 'opervisors and Deputy Marshals of Department Clerks to Serve on Election Day. A publication is made to the effect that hundreds of department clerks will be ap-pointed as supervisors and deputy marshals at the congressional elections in va-rious states on Tuesday next, 250 being put down as the number from the treasury lepartment alone who will receive such appointments. This publication doubtless fluence the result of the congressional losses elsewhere, and the Republican managers have been in the last few days very bold in claiming that they will make up in the South what they lose in the North. Mahone has promised to give them seven votes from Virginia. From North Carolina they say they are to have five, and in nearly every other Southern state their calculations are to gain one or two, or more. To help this out the understanding is that herdes of deputy marshals selected from this point are to be place I in the re-mote and sparsely-settled counties and in heavy colored settlements. North Caro-lina, where two Republicans are hoped for, is to be particularly looked after in this connection, but department clerks are not the kind of material which will be entirely availed of. Roughs, strikers and repeaters from Washington, and from Balti-more will be appointed for this service, whose mission will be to defeat the popular will. The Legislature to be elected in North Carolina will have the election of a United States senator in place of Mr. Ransom, and a part of the plot is to expture that body and secure a Republican senator, to make up a possible loss else-as far as possible, it will be advised that the county commissioners in North Carolina provide such separation of the congressional boxes and of those for the reception of ballots for state officers as will prevent any tampering, at least with the latter, by the imported roughs and bullies.

Some of the Republican committees of the Western states, in view of the fact that the clerks have been already assessed quite heavily, have made an arrangement by which they pay 30 per cent. of the rail-of the time it occusies. A lady clerk in the office of the commissioner of internal revenue recently sent $35 to the New York Republican state not to accept any contributions from any committee. The money was returned to her with a letter thanking her for "kind intention," but stating that they "prefer lady employe of the government." The lady wrote again to the committee, insisting on making the contribution. In addition to all the other assessments another cones to light. Mr. A. M. Clapp.

the chairman of the Republican central committee of the District of Columbia has sent a circular to a number of department clorks and others asking a contribu-tion towards aiding them to aid the Re-publican candidates for Congress in the Fifth and Sixth districts of Maryland and the Eighth Alexandriad district of Virginia. The circular sets forth that the name of the person to whom it has been sent has been handed to the committee as one likely to contribute towards Republican success. No particular sum is asked for, the amount being entirely at the selection of the contributor. This committee sent agents to various parts of the districts named to urge a strong Republican vote. Major James McNabb, of the postoffice department, represents the committee in the Fifth district. He will spend several days in each county, and then go to Baltimore to look after things there on election

A Victim of Bossism.

General Beaver is devoting the closirg week of the campaign in Pennsylvania to an energetic canvass of Philadelphia. He cannot lose that city and be elected, and he is making every exertion to show its Republicans by his personal bearing and speech that he is worthy of their support. This is not an easy task. The Republicans have voted against their own party many times in order to overthrow loca! bossism, Men's All Wool Pants from $2.00 up.

days and evenings have done anything to days and evenings have done anything to soften their feeling towards him. All his deliverances are weak, and some of them are foolish. He devotes himself mainly to the subject of the tariff and picturing the free trade perils of a Democratic victory. As the Independents are as much devoted to protection as he is, and as his election or defeat can have no effect upon the question either way, this is manifestly a waste of energy. The leading manufac-turers of the state are prominent in the that every garment we make to order is a gen-uine bargain. We have great specialties in Pants; also, in Suitings. Pants to order at $3.50, $1.60, $5.60, $5.00, $7.0), willing to take the risk of Beaver's defeat it is evident that the rest of the party has up to $10.00.

suits to order at $12.00, $15.00, $18.00, $20.00 up no reason to be alarmed. General Beaver Don out of a scrape.

But if he is weak in doing that, he becomes foolish when he attempts to demonstrate his independence as a candidate.

In this independence as a candidate.

In this is a substant of the control of the c This is obviously a subject which he ought not to touch at all unless he is prepared to make thorough work of it. Half-way ex-SAMUEL H. planations on that point of all others are not the kind wanted in Pennsylvania this year. Yet General Beaver not only makes that kind, but he supplements them with yirtual confessions of all that its answer.

to have been a "plain talk" that estab-lished his position as a "free and un-trammeled" candidate, he said: "Not a pledge has been made to any living man that the state administration will be used for any personal purpose." This was well enough so far as it went, but he showed its utter worthlessness as a guarantee of conduct on his part, should he be elected governor, by adding in the very next breadth: "It is just as dishonorable to pledge oneself for him." On this point the Leanness of the state of the appointments. This publication doubtless grows out of the fact that a deep laid plot dependent Republicans of Pennsylvania has been concocted in Washington to in- differ widely with General Beaver. They fluence the result of the congressional elections on Tuesday, and prevent if possible the return of a Democratic majority. All hope has been abandoned of staying the tide of public sentiment in the North and West, and the serion has made such a pledge a necessity ment in the North and West, and the serion has made such a pledge a necessity of the office as do not think it would be dishonorable to South is now locked to as the field from by his unscrupulous use of the office as which to gather recruits to offset the his personal property. He is not merely a single citizen of the commor-wealth; he is a boss who places his personal interests above the interests of the entire commonwealth. General Beaver shows foolishness by playing with so serious a matter as this has become to thousands of the Republicans of the state, but his public utterance agrees entirely with his private observations. He said, in conversation with M:. Eby, a flour manufacturer of Lascaster county, recently, when asked why he did "not unload Cameron and go for Beaver on his own merits," "I would rather not be governor than do that." General Bea ver has made a denial of this, but Mr. Eby, whose reputation for veracity is unimpeached in his part of the state, adheres to his version of the conversation. The sentiment certainly coincides with the statement of his speech that it would be "dishonorable" for him to pledge himself to serve the people rather than Cameron. As for the point that he has made no pledges to anybody, it amounts to nothing Mr. Cameron knows his man too well to feel the necessity of patting him under pledge for the new service he had marke l where. In order to counterast this plot out for him. General Beaver was under no pledge to serve Cameron in the Chicago convention, yet he did serve him there and did not scruple to break the pledge he was under to serve the Republicans of his district who sent him there. He is running for governor simply as Cameron's man, and a pledge one way or the other would be a more superfluity. Surely a man, whose zeal for his boss has enabled The Republican state committee of Pennsylvania are using every effort to get him to break a solemn pledge to his constituents, need not be put under bonds to serve that boss faithfully in the future.
