STRANGE HAPPENINGS OF DAILY LIFE.

The Occurrences of a Day That Complete Calamities and Accidents.—How a Brutal Husband Finished a Feast of Abuse.

Tuesday night Alexander McClelland, who resides at Waterloo, five miles from Franklin, came home intoxicated. He commenced to abuse and brutally treat his wife, who was not able to be out of bed, having been confined but a few days before. She continued his assault. His wife and mother endeavored to escape from the house with her infant, four days old, when the fiend placed himself between her and the door and threatened the lives of both mother and child. As a last desperate resort the woman, who had again and again been subjected to his outrages and never raised her hand against him, now in defence of her innocent babe, seized a pistol and sent a ball crashing through his brain. The shot was fatal. He fell to the floor and died in less than two hours. McClelland has been notorious as a dangerous man some months ago he quarrelled with a son of Commissioner Craig and threw him across a railroad tie, and then jumped on him and broke his leg. In another fight some time since he bit off an ear of the man he was fighting. A complaint was made against him, and after a statement from Mrs. McClelland returned a verdict that McClelland came to his death by her hands. It is not probable that she will be arrested.

SHOOTING IN PHILADELPHIA.

The notorious John McManus Insults a Woman and Assaults Her Defender. Tuesday afternoon John McManus, a notorious Philadelphia rough, entered the saloon of Michael Burke and demanded a drink. Owing to the intoxicated condition of the man, Burke, who was at the bar, declined to give him any liquor. McManus then became very abusive in his language to the woman and Timothy Hurley, a sailor, boarding at No. 405 South Front street, who happened to be in the saloon, remonstrated with him, saying that a woman deserved better treatment. With an oath McManus whipped out his revolver and discharged seven shots at Hurley, three of which perforated his hat, and one entered his left leg near the ankle. The men were then ejected, and Officer Bonner, of the Second district who had been attracted by the reports made by the revolver attempted to take McManus into custody, when the latter made an effort to shoot him, but was disarmed and taken in custody. Hurley was removed to the Penitentiary hospital, where his examination showed him to be of a slight character. McManus, who resides at 617 Annapolis street, has for years been a terror in the Fourth ward because of his many murderous deeds. He was charged with the killing of Bernard Kiley in the Fifth ward Democratic convention about three years ago, but when the case came to trial it was found difficult to obtain evidence to convict him. In September of 1881 he was arrested for committing a murderous assault with a knife and revolver on John O'Neil, a boarding house keeper at Second street and Washington avenue, but nothing ever came of the case.

MOB VENGEANCE IN LOUISIANA.

Four Prisoners Wrested from their Keepers.—A Double Hanging. At Vienna, La., the jail was opened Tuesday night by a posse of men supposed to be from Jackson parish. They compelled the jailor to open the first door, and they broke their way to the prisoners they wanted. Four were carried from jail who had been brought there from Jackson parish for safe keeping. One of the night watchmen, a body of men immediately from the jail door. He was fired on three or four times without effect, and another it is thought was given a chance for his life, as he was believed innocent. The other two were found this morning about a mile and a half south of town and badly mutilated with bullets. They were negroes charged with robbery and attempted murder of an old white gentleman by the name of Ray, but their attempt on his life was a failure. He described them, and when they were brought before him identified them. The matter created quite an excitement and will probably be looked into officially.

A Revenue Officer's Perils.

Acting Commissioner of Internal Revenue Rogers at Washington has received a letter from Deputy Collector Williams, of Ridgeway, S. C., giving details of an assault made upon him by W. J. Johnson, Williams' son and C. B. Wren. Johnson fired three shots at him while he was on the train between Columbia and Blythe-wood, and swore they would kill him because he had prosecuted the first named for violation of law. He also states that on the night of the 19th, a body of masked men attacked his house near Blythe-wood, and gave him five days to leave the country.

Anniversary of Redemptorists.

The triumph of the three days' service commemorative of the 150th anniversary of the founding of the Redemptorist Order of Priests, began last Sunday in St. Peter's Roman Catholic Church. Philadelphia, when a sermon appropriate to the event was delivered by Rev. Peter Frisibier. On Monday evening, a sermon was preached by Rev. Joseph Wirth, and last evening Rev. Peter Zimmer officiated. This morning at 9 o'clock solemn high mass was celebrated, and in the evening there will be a procession and benediction.

A New York Victory at Lacrosse.

At Boston a match game of lacrosse was played on the baseball grounds Tuesday between the New York and Union (Boston) clubs, each of which had won a match from the other during the season. A member of the Shamrock club, of Montreal, was in the New York team. After ten minutes' playing Tucker, the Shamrock player, won a goal for New York, the same player making the second goal, seventeen minutes. The game was then given up at the request of the Union.

Murdered by Burglars.

At Sharon, Ohio, about 1 o'clock Tuesday morning Henry Heisel, formerly a saloon keeper, at West Chester, was awakened by two men in his room whose object was to rob him. Upon Heisel making a defense he was killed with a club. Three bullet holes were also found in his head. His wife was also awakened, but she was soon disabled and the murderers got away with about fifty dollars. Mrs. Heisel did not recognize the parties. Great excitement prevailed in the vicinity. Up to this time no clue has been found to the guilty parties.

Suicide of a Nurse.

Charles Brown, aged 45 years, residing at Eighth and Alaska streets, Philadelphia, died during Monday night in the City Hospital from the effects of laudanum taken with suicidal intent. Brown was formerly employed as a nurse in the hospital, and his wife is now lying ill in that institution. Of late the man has been drinking to excess, and this is ascribed as the cause of his suicide.

Killed at a Crossing.

Charles Rodgers, aged fifty-six years, a married man with a grown up family of three children, was employed as watchman at the main Philadelphia and Reading crossing at Schuylkill Haven, was instantly killed Tuesday. He was signaling to a team and stepped on the track in front of a freight train. His body was dragged fifty feet, and every limb was cut from the trunk.

Killed by Highwaymen.

At Chicago early Tuesday morning John Scherman, a clerk in the employ of N. H. Jones & Co., commission merchant, was found in one of the upper floors of No. 133 LaSalle street, with his neck broken as he lay on the right temple. He had been dead some time and it is supposed that he was killed by street highwaymen.

Another Earthquake Out West.

An earthquake shock was felt at Laramie City, Wyo., at 6:30 o'clock on Tuesday evening, and on the Union Pacific railroad was felt as far as Evansville. The plaster fell off in buildings at Rowles, Point of Rocks and other points. Trains will be sent west with great care, as the bridges may have been thrown out of place.

Land League Prosecutions.

Timothy Cronin, one of the Land League secretaries, has been arrested at Cork under the crimes act for having arms in his possession. Cornelius Shea, who was convicted of being a moonlighter and making threats against tenant who paid their rents near Killybeg, has been sentenced to seven years' penal servitude.

Two Light Valley Freight Trains Collided with Terrible Force at Parryville.

Two Light Valley freight trains collided Tuesday forenoon, completely wrecking one engine and a large number of cars. Both tracks were blocked and trains delayed for over two hours.

Transactions on Monday's Bids Estimated at Thirty Million Barrels.

The price of crude petroleum when the New York petroleum exchange closed last Saturday afternoon was $1.19 a barrel. It opened Monday morning at $1.05. The excitement in the exchange during the first hour was without parallel in that body. The price rapidly advanced to $1.36. It soon reacted to $1.28, and large transactions were made in the afternoon between that figure and the closing price, $1.30. The secretary of the exchange estimated that the sales for the day in the exchange at Bradford and Oil City, Pa., would aggregate 30,000,000 barrels, the largest day's sales on record.

The bears assert that the falling off in production has been largely overestimated by the bulls.
