OFFICIAL HEADS FALL.
GEN. BREWSTER'S SHARP COMMENTS.
 The Ends of Justice Interfered With—Details of the Charges—Officials Quaking with Fear.
 Washington Dispatch to the Times.
 The president has directed the removal of Charles E. Helm, marshal of the District of Columbia; D. B. Ainger, postmaster, and Myron M. Parker, postmaster, for the city of Washington; M. D. Helm, foreman of the Congressional Record, and George E. Spencer, government director of the Union Pacific railroad company, upon charges made by the attorney general and Colonel Bliss with having interfered with the ends of justice in connection with the Star Route trials. These offices will be filled immediately, so that there may be no interruption to the public service. To prevent any possible embarrassment in the affairs of the marshal, the suspension of that officer will be withheld until his successor is appointed. In his report to the president Attorney General Brewster says that it is his opinion that the ends of justice have been interfered with by all the persons complained of by Mr. Bliss, the postmaster and Mr. Ker. "The marshal of the district," Mr. Brewster says, "is responsible for much of the opposing sentiment to the case of the government that was exhibited in court and out of court during the trial of the Star Route case. His negligent and incorrect conduct in conducting the case, and his obstinate refusal to admit the facts, were the most culpable of all, since it was by his official criminal malfeasance that the corrupt orders were made and the frauds successfully perpetrated. His paper has been engaged from the beginning of the prosecution down to the discharge of the jury in the most violent abuse of all who were supposed to be interested in bringing the defendants to justice. The judge was not even spared; the counsel was persistently assailed and the witnesses were treated as contemptible and terrorized by one continuous current of personal abuse and calumny. I am of opinion that this man should be forthwith removed, and I am astonished that those who have charge of the government printing office, with full knowledge of the facts, should have ventured to employ him. He is not a man to be trusted in the responsible position he holds.
 "From papers which have been referred to you it appears that George E. Spencer is a delinquent and absconding witness; that he can testify to material and important facts, and that he left this city and has ever since sequestered himself and avoided the process of the law. He holds an important public position, and is the last man who should hesitate to be present in court to testify in a case of this magnitude, and in which the interests of the government and the administration of public justice is concerned; and because of his consurable delinquency I unite with Mr. Bliss and the other counsel in the case in asking his immediate removal. George O. Miller, one of the police of the district, in a recent judicial inquiry, with the aid of a criminal confessed under oath that he had been engaged and retained in the service of the defendants in the Star Route case and had persistently assisted them during the current of the trial. Because of this conduct he was by him applied to the commissioners of this district to remove him. That removal has taken place."
 Details by Colonel Bliss.
 The report made by Mr. Bliss deals with the head of one of the departments in the marshal of the District of Columbia; the report says, "It is undoubtedly in sympathy with the defendants and does not desire the government to succeed. Without going into further details he, during the last trial, in a public interview, indicated in gross abuse of the United States and in declarations that the government had 'no case.'" D. B. Ainger, postmaster of Washington, was, with his assistant, Parker, deliberately impugned by two postoffice inspectors in a report as to the certification of bona fides in the Star Route cases. It was only a question of gross carelessness or bad faith, as there was no doubt that both of them did the acts alleged. Mr. Ainger is the proprietor of a newspaper in Michigan. His name appears on it as such proprietor. During the last trial he wrote to his paper, over his own signature, denouncing the officers who had instituted the prosecution and declaring that the government had no case. One Helm has been recently appointed by the new public printer the head of one of the departments in the government printing office. It was sworn to on the trial by the editor of the Critic that Helm was the person who controlled its columns, and on the trial there were produced and proved a series of articles, grossly abusive of the court, the government, counsel and the general management of the case, which was represented as a persecution without foundation.
 "Your attention was called some months ago to the case of George E. Spencer, a government director of the Pacific railroad. The police force of the District of Columbia was undoubtedly in the interest of the defendants and its detectives unblushingly did their work. One of them has admitted that under oath in court. Now I am quite aware that it is very difficult for you to act, as to some of the matters as to which I have called your attention. But as to some of them you can act and it seems to me the facts ought to be brought to your knowledge. You have much to occupy you just now and much to trouble you, and I would not willingly add unnecessarily to it just now, but the circumstances are such that delay seems impossible."

 A Lot of Anxious Officials—Whose Turn Will Come Next?
 The sudden and unexpected dismissal of several gentlemen from office by reason of

Oh, My Back!
 That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.
 The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, constipation, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.
 Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as Brown's Iron Bitters, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.
 Logansport, Ind., Dec. 1, 1880.
 For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoyed very much from non-retention of urine. I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used that "stomach does not bother me any. My appetite is simply immense. My kidney trouble is no more, and my general health is such, that I feel like a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight.
 O. B. SARGENT.
 Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend Brown's Iron Bitters. It has cured others suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

Wanamaker's.
 Silk novelties innumerable and indescribable. Everything that ladies or dressmakers have occasion for in matching, decorating, combining. What we are remarkable for, more than for anything else in silks, is variety; or, at least, we are reputed so. You hear it said by everybody: "If you want to match anything, or find a rare silk, even an unexpected one, go to Wanamaker's."
 The other peculiarity that everybody expects to find here is less pleasant to speak of; lower prices. We put it second, because there are people who don't credit us with lower prices. Still, we imagine that if one should assert the contrary, almost everybody in Philadelphia would believe it.
 Oftener we speak of other aspects of our trade; aspects less obvious or less recognized. It is well occasionally to give old news.
 Next-door street, south entrance to main building.
 Warm skirts for ladies, and leggings for ladies, girls and little girls. The warm skirts are satin, satin-and-cloth, satin-and-felt, satin-and-Italian-cloth, and Italian, all quilted; cloth, flannel and felt prettily trimmed, not quilted, warm enough with the leggings are all sorts; of very useful and fairly prettily sort, woven, at two-thirds value, 25 to 65 cents.
 West of south entrance to main building.
 Furs have to be thought of. We're busy enough as to making. If we advertise at all, we ought to say what will not oppress us with too much making. Perhaps this it is. A great many seal coats and fur-lined circulars are ready-made. More sizes are ready-made here than anybody expects; especially the unexpected sizes. Ready-made work we can make in July. Why shouldn't we make all the shapes and sizes ready-made?
 1203 Chestnut.
 Black satin rhademaes and satin de Lyons, 25 to 35 cents below our own recent prices, of all grades from $1 to $2; and we guess our prices haven't been very high; have they?
 Next-door street, south entrance to main building.
 Wool serge embroidered with silk dots that ought to sell for $1.50—no that isn't the way to put it; it ought to sell according to our theory, for just as little as we can afford; and that is 75 cents.
 Look out for such now. It's time for over-buying and all sorts of mistakes to show themselves. We try to keep ready to turn other folk's mistakes to account for ourselves and for you.
