The Paper Mill Fire.

Further investigation appears to show that the loss by the fire at the Printers' paper mill, at Binkley's bridge, is not so heavy as was at first feared. A good deal of the machinery can be repaired, and it is thought the mill can be rebuilt and put in good working order for $50,000.

No Further Removals in Immediate Con-templation by the President.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 .- It is stated auhoritatively that no furter removals in connection with the Star Route cases are contemplated by the president at present. This would seem to in-dicate that there is no foundation for the rumors that Public Printer Rounds and District Attorney Corkhill are to be dismissed. It is known, however, that several officers of a subordinate grade are to be dismissed. They are not incumbents of offices filled by presidential appoint-ment. It is believed the suspected efficials are in the postoffice department. COLLISION OF FREIGHT TRAINS.

Ohi the Mighty Voice. Momer says of Elyssees, one of the Greek heroes in the great Trojan war: "You had thought him a tool, so stilly be held his scep-tre and so downcast were his syes: but as soon as he began to speak—oh, the mighty voice, and the words thick as the failing snow." Looking at a bottle of Hunt's Remedy, one would never suspect its concealed power, greater than the eloquence of Ulysses. But when it begins its work with a patient who is affilted with any kidney or itver disease, "Oh! the nighty voice," and the wonderful healing effects produced in an incredibly short time. As there was but some "wise Ulys-es " in all the camp of the Greeks, there is hut one Hunt's Kemedy in all the list of kid-ney remedies; and there is none that works such mar-clous results.
