LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE

LIFE AND DEATH OF ABE TENANT.

Memoirs of Some Marvellous Men—Lower County.

On Sunday morning, after several months of painful suffering, Abram Tenant died in "the Ark" Quarryville. He was the oldest resident of the Lower End, and probably the oldest man in the county. His exact age is not certainly known by any one, but the late Daniel Leffer, who died some two years ago, told him to be some 20 years older than himself, which would make him over 98. Mr. Tenant himself would never tell his own age, but he has been of the same age for the last twenty years, according to his answer to the inquiries whom he always told that he was past 75. Old men well remember him when they were boys, and one man of over seventy says he saw him win a foot race in Strasburg sixty years ago, when he seemed to be a man of almost forty. Of his being well up to a hundred there can be little doubt.

Until within the last year he has been able to be about and to work some at his trade. He was as active as most men and as straight as an arrow. Years ago he was considered the fastest walker and runner in this section; he had a fearful dread for dogs and could get away from one at a three minute gait.

"Old Abe" was particularly the boys' friend. His shoemaker shop was his paradise. He preferred to be there than anywhere else. He could cover a ball, out a whip lash, or anything of that kind, in the opinion of the average boy, better than any other man and the beauty of it was he would put by any other job to do it.

But his "hook" was his story telling, which was of the "Uncle Remus" kind, the characters being taken from the animals and bird kind. With these stories he would entertain a shopful of boys many a day, and many a favor would these boys do for him. Those of them who were men will feel sad at his death. Not only had he the boys to entertain but, being of good conversational powers and having a good memory, he could give information on any subject and was an authority when anything of olden time was to be found out. He was a great man for practical jokes and was a party to many a one, of which he used to tell with glee.

When he lit his old clay pipe and commenced with "Goshob, boys," silence was his wont. Of his being well up to a hundred there can be little doubt. He was a great man for practical jokes and was a party to many a one, of which he used to tell with glee. When he lit his old clay pipe and commenced with "Goshob, boys," silence was his wont. He leaves a widow and two children, one of them, Hanson, is a well to do mechanic in Indiana. He is a son of the best wife he is now a very respectable man. His other son, Harry, is some 14 and is the wife of his last wife. He has been married twice. His first wife was the mother of Samuel and George Fagan, who having been dead for the last 25 years. To his last wife he was married some 16 years ago and she survives him. His death was expected for several weeks and his disease was cancer in the face, from which he had suffered terribly for some time, although it only made its appearance some months ago. May he rest in peace.

ANOTHER OLD STAGER.

Recollections of the Oldest Inhabitants. Uncle Sammy Irvin has just put his jug on the counter for two quarts of sugar house, and slipped up to the stove.

"Cold day, Uncle Sammy?" "Middin', but you young fellows don't know what cold is. When I was a boy I mind one winter that it was that cold that Breneman's mill-dam and race was frozen to the bottom and the mud in the bottom, froze four feet down, and it staid that way for three months. The crowd of boys on the race, they were on Bossler's hill, and it was the middle of the summer before the ground was thawed out. Tobacco spit froze in a man's mouth, and whisky was sold in chunks. 'Poa my soul, it's true. My father was sick and we had whisky standing on the window for him, and it froze so tight that we had to break the bottle to get at it. There was little snow that season, and we had mighty hard gittin' along. Boys, don't talk about bein' cold when I am around."

AMOS WAS HUTCHERING. Uncle Sam came along early in the morning. The hogs were hung up.

"We are making good time, ain't we Uncle Sam?" "May be you are in this country, but down in Jersey I have seen a hundred and forty-seven hogs hung up before sun up on one farm by four men. Don't talk to me about hogs, I was raised among them. In Jersey I have seen hogs as big as steers are here, and helped to kill some that weighed fifteen hundred pounds and only a year old."

The boys were skating on the pond. "Uncle Sammy, did you ever skate?" "Yes; me and Job, my brother, could beat anybody in the county skating. I mind one time we skated on the furnace dam agin John Kane and a nigger for a quart of rum. We started, and you my soul, the ice that we cut with our skates flew higher than that house, and the ice just went up and down the dam. We had hogs by the feet and skated four hundred yards in ten seconds. My father could beat us; when he was seventy years old he skated five hundred yards in ten and a half seconds!"

"Fishing ain't like it used to be," said Uncle Sammy, while sitting patiently for a nibble at Nell's fishery. "We used to come here, Job, Ase and me, and always ketch more fish than we knowed what to do with. One time Job and me in four hours ketcht as many cat fish as we could carry home on a rail. We walked home and when we got there we counted them and had eleven hundred and seven and they weighed over a pound apiece. We had to walk ten miles. No! siree, all the fish has now gone up the Porterskill river."

"I have lived in Berks county state, Chester county state, Lancaster county state and Jersey state, and Jersey state's the best of 'em all. Fruit is so plenty there. Why, you can spread a sheet under the huckleberry bushes and shake off a tub-full in five minutes, and everything else was in just as plenty," said Uncle Sammy, as he came home with a pint of huckleberries in an eight-quart pail.

"How do you think the election is going, Uncle Sammy?" "I never put any faith in elections no more. You can't tell nothing about how there goin' to turn out. Years ago, my son-in-law, John Sawyer, was runnin' for constable and when they got the returns from Berks county, he was licked, and I never depend on the elections any more."

DRUMMER DOINGS. How the young folks are mating. Regular Fairfield Correspondence. Notwithstanding the election of Patterson, which is to bring us all the dark surroundings and half-meals of "hard times," as our croaking bloody shirted wisecracks of Republicans tell us, our girls and boys will get married. Perhaps they foresee (parading love's imputed blindness) the necessity of extraordinary exertions and painstaking to keep up the supply of raw material in our broad land, that the great Democratic inundation will depopulate, and the accustomed political phlegm fear. No matter what else may happen, we marry and are given in marriage—your correspondent always excepted.

Last Thursday, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. William Morrison, Miss Alice Morrison and Mr. Frank McPherson, with the assistance of Rev. John Galbreath, and in the presence of a large number of happy and congratulating friends, took on themselves the yoke, that the poet says, is "hidden in flowers."

On the same day, Miss Eva Smedley, daughter of Mr. Thomas Smedley, of Fal township, and Mr. Moses Pownall became one, in the good old Quaker, no-fee-for-the-preacher-style—happy groom. The ceremony was performed by the bride and groom-elect clearing in the presence of about a hundred guests. And according to regulation,

"The tables they groaned with the weight of the feast."

Mr. Isaac Shoemaker, our road supervisor, took Mrs. Edith Robinson into a life partnership as his wife last Thursday also. Thursday must be the lucky day. They were married in Lancaster. We wish the supervisor success in the big job he has undertaken.

Mr. John Bowers, only daughter of Mr. John Bowers, and Miss Mary Hastings, daughter of Mr. John Hastings, died and were buried last week, the former at the Mennonite church, Mechanics Grove, the latter at Chestnut Level. Both ladies were highly esteemed by their many friends who mourn for them and sympathize with the afflicted families.

The snow came prematurely for our farmers, finding them with a great deal of work yet undone—corn to husk, fodder to haul, &c.

SALES OF REAL ESTATE.

Recent transfers of Property in the Lower End. Israel Penrose has sold to Isaac Miller the Samuel Keene farm, two miles south of Quarryville, containing 143 acres, for $8500. Mr. Penrose bought it some five years ago from R. C. Edwards, executor of S. Keene, for $7625. Mr. Miller, who is now living on J. Barr's farm, at Rohrerstown, will move on his purchase this coming spring.

J. N. Newwanger has sold the B. Groff farm, containing 140 acres, one mile south of Quarryville, to Abram Brubaker, for $6100. Mr. Newwanger bought it two years ago from Benj. Groff's estate for $5650.

Abram Brubaker has sold to G. Oram Phillips twelve acres of land, with improvements, consisting of a good house and barn, &c., in Mechanics Grove, Drummer township, for $3,500. In the same neighborhood, S. G. Bair has sold a property to H. D. Sider, for $2,300; H. Kreider to M. V. Herr, on private terms, and J. K. Ferguson to M. V. Herr, for $1,000.

Isaac Miller has sold to John Hildebrand, the National hotel in Quarryville, on private terms, but in and about $10,000. The hotel has been rented to G. J. Hildebrand, who will run it in the future.

THE HONEYBROOK ON-ROAST.

A Big Time for the Three Counties. The on-roast and Democratic celebration at Honeybrook, Chester county, on last Thursday afternoon and evening drew together a very large concourse of people from the adjoining counties of Berks, Chester and Lancaster. During the day the ox was roasted whole, under the direction of Reading cooks, and the multitude was fed. A meeting was organized with Hon. Wm. Ellmaker, of New Holland, as president and stirring speeches were made by Isaac Ellmaker, John Smith, esq., of Reading. In the evening there was a brilliant illumination of the village, Bob Stephenson's store and Ab. Patterson's tavern being conspicuously beautiful. Five bands of music and many striking banners and devices enlivened the procession.

Returning to the speakers' stand a meeting was organized with the following officers: President—Dr. D. J. McCaa. Vice Presidents—Isaac Ellmaker, George Smith, George W. Simpson, Stephen Long, Dr. Samuel Keeler, Geo. W. Irwin, James B. Ralston, Robert Stephenson, Samuel Lemmon, James Wilkinson, Peter White, John Ranck, John Piarso, Ed. Clemenson, John Cavanaugh, Martin Waidler, Martin L. DeHaven, William Vandever.

Secretaries—John H. DeHaven, H. L. Ludwick, Dr. Wm. B. Irwin. Addresses were made by State Chairman W. U. Hessel, and Wayne Layman, of Philadelphia. The demonstration came to an end about 10 p. m. in perfect good order and special trains took the visitors toward Downingtown and New Holland.

Deep enjoyment in matters of pleasure is hard to be borne, in matters affecting health it becomes cruel. Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup never disappoints, and is a sure cure for colds, coughs, cold, irritation of throat and lungs, &c.

"Unbidden guests are often welcomed when they are gone." Disease is an unbidden guest which kills the most invulnerable "show the door." Here is a case in point: "Mother has recovered," wrote an illing girl to her father, "and she is completely better, so that she can do as much work now as she could before we moved West. Since she got well every one about here is taking it."

MEDICAL.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS.

Oh, My Back!

That's a common expression and has a world of meaning. How much suffering is summed up in it.

The singular thing about it is, that pain in the back is occasioned by so many things. May be caused by kidney disease, liver complaint, constipation, cold, rheumatism, dyspepsia, overwork, nervous debility, &c.

Whatever the cause, don't neglect it. Something is wrong and needs prompt attention. No medicine has yet been discovered that will so quickly and surely cure such diseases as BROWN'S IRON BITTERS, and it does this by commencing at the foundation, and making the blood pure and rich.

Logansport, Ind., Dec. 1, 1880. For a long time I have been a sufferer from stomach and kidney disease. My appetite was very poor and the very small amount I did eat disagreed with me. I was annoyed very much from non-retention of urine. I tried many remedies with no success, until I used Brown's Iron Bitters. Since I used that my stomach does not bother me any. My appetite is simply immense. My kidney trouble is no more, and my general health is such, that I feel like a new man. After the use of Brown's Iron Bitters for one month, I have gained twenty pounds in weight. O. B. SARGENT.

Leading physicians and clergymen use and recommend Brown's Iron Bitters. It has cured those suffering as you are, and it will cure you.

DRY GOODS.

Wanamaker's

Silk novelties innumerable and indescribable. Everything that ladies or dressmakers have occasion for in matching, decorating, combining. What we are remarkable for, more than for anything else in silks, is variety; or, at least, we are reputed so. You hear it said by everybody: "If you want to match anything, or find a rare silk, even an unexpected one, go to Wanamaker's."

The other peculiarity that everybody expects to find here is less pleasant to speak of; lower prices. We put it second, because there are people who don't credit us with lower prices. Still, we imagine that if one should assert the contrary, almost everybody in Philadelphia would believe it.

Often we speak of other aspects of our trade; aspects less obvious or less recognized. It is well occasionally to give old news.

Next-door circle, south entrance to main building.

Warm skirts for ladies, and leggings for ladies, girls and little girls. The warm skirts are satin, satin-and-cloth, satin-and-felt, satin-and-Italian-cloth, and Italian, all quilted; cloth, flannel and felt prettily trimmed, not quilted, warm enough without. The leggings are all sorts; one very useful and fairly pretty sort, woven, at two-thirds value, 25 to 65 cents.

Furs have to be thought of. We're busy enough as to making. If we advertise at all, we ought to say what will not oppress us with too much making. Perhaps this is. A great many seal coats and fur-lined circulars are ready-made. More sizes are ready-made here than anybody expects; especially the unexpected sizes. Ready-made work we can make in July. Why shouldn't we make all the shapes and sizes ready-made?

Black satin rhademaes and satin de Lyons, 25 to 35 cents below our own recent prices, of all grades from $1 to $2; and we guess our prices haven't been very high; have they?

Next-door circle, south entrance to main building.

Wool serge embroidered with silk dots that ought to sell for $1.50—no that isn't the way to put it; it ought to sell according to our theory, for just as little as we can afford; and that is 75 cents.

Look out for such now. It's time for over-buying and all sorts of mistakes to show themselves. We try to keep ready to turn other folk's mistakes to account for ourselves and for you.
