The Legislative Record

Wilkesbarre Union Leader. The Union Leader is with those who don't believe in doing away with the Legislatice Record. The Record has been a big steal and a big nuisance, but it has presented not a few compensating advantages, and there is no reason why, under such a reform administration as the people expected when they elected Governor Pattison and a Democratic House of Representatives, at should continue either a teal or a nursance.

It is all very well to say that the enter prise of the modern daily newspaper provides sufficiently comprehensive reports of the proceedings of the Legislature for the general reader. So it does. But we have found the files of the Legislative Record very useful on many occasions in looking up the records of bad members whom it was desirable not to return to Harrisburg and good ones who had said or done that which entitled them to the approval of their constituents and re election.

The Legislative Record should be continued. It should, however, be a full and correct record of everything that is said and done during the sessions of that body. It should contain all that is said and only what is said. Members should not be permitted to revise their speeches except in so far as it is necessary to correct actual errors in the reports of the stenog raphers. They should not have the privi lege of making it appear in the Record that they have said one thing, when they have said an entirely different thing.

The large city papers have the space to publish quite lengthy reports of Legislative doings, but even they cannot give all, and as those who select what is given are from those cities, it frequently happens that they select what is of interest only in those cities and utterly neglect what is of absorbing interest throughout the interior.

The contractor for the publication of the Record should be required, as the congressional printer is required, to publish at night the proceedings of the day and have them on the tables of the members at the opening of the session next morn-

The tax payers can afford the legitimate cost of the publication of the Record, and at that cost and published under the conditions above outlined, it will be a good return to them for the money in-

It can be made, we say, a good thing, and there is little sense in proposing to do away with it, simply because it has been made to cover a steal and recklessly cared for during a period when almost everything covered a steal and was recklessly cared for.

DELEVAN, Wis., Sep. 24, 1878. GENTS—I have taken not quite one bottle of the Hop Bitters. I was a feeble old man of 78 when I got it. To-day I am as active and icol as well as I did at 30. I see a great many that need such a medicine.

 Middle measures are often but middling measures." There are no "middlings" about Kidney-Wort; It is the most thoroughly refined "flower" of medicine. It knows no half-way measures, but radically uproots all diseases of the kidneys, liver and bowels. It overthrows piles, abolishes con-stipation and treats the system so gently and soothingly as to prove its true kinship to nature and all its praises. It is prepared in both liquid and dry form.

From the Baltimore American.

MYSTERIOUS Articles with High Sounding, Crack-Jav Names are Not a Success.

REFRESHING CHANGE

To Plain English. Every reader of newspapers has observed lime, and again, in the advertising columns, many singular and frequently unpronounce ble names of medicinal remedies. The Greek and Latin languages especially have been drawn upon to turnish names by which pat ent medicines could be introduced to the public. The interence is, in many cases at least, that the proprietors depend more upon the attraction of high sounding titles than upon the essential merits of the remedie

It is refreshing once in a while to finds nedicine advertised, whose simple intelligiole name in English at once conveys to the reader an understanding of the uses and purposes of the remedy.

A notable instance of this kind is found in the medicines of Dr. C. W. Benson, whose SKIN
