

AFTERNOON TELEGRAMS

THREE RESURRECTIONISTS ARRESTED. Caught in the Act of Carrying Dead Bodies from the Cemetery—One of Them a U. S. Mail Agent.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 5.—Frank McNamee, Dutch Pilot, and Levi Chew, the latter a colored man, were arrested last night while driving a wagon containing the dead bodies of the medical college. The bodies had been stolen from the Lebanon cemetery, in the lower part of the city. The prisoners are professional "Resurrectionists" and their operations have been carried on for a long time. Two more arrests were made early this morning, when a detective visited the cemetery grounds and arrested Robert Chew, superintendent and Andrew Mullen. All the prisoners will have a hearing this afternoon.

The prisoner Frank McNamee had a contract with the government for carrying the mail between this city and New York, Delaware county. Mullen drove the wagon with this mail and was about to start on his journey this morning when taken into custody. He pleaded immunity from arrest on this account, and was accordingly released upon his promise to attend the hearing this afternoon.

THE COYLE MURDER CASE. Argument on the Proposed Change of Venue Yesterday. Yesterday the prosecution called for a change of venue should not be granted in the Coyle murder case was called for argument, and the prisoner's counsel filed a number of affidavits showing that there was no prejudice against the prisoner in this county, a fair trial cannot be had, and that there exists in this county great prejudices against the prisoner that he cannot obtain a fair trial. The district attorney, in reply to the affidavits filed for a change of venue, said that he was unable to procure counter affidavits, having studiously endeavored to secure them. He admitted that there existed a prejudice against the prisoner, and it arose from the publication of two false newspaper articles in this county, and from the prevailing character of the Coyle murder case was one which the interests of justice would be best served by a change of venue. The district attorney further said that great expense would be incurred by preparation of the case for trial at the county seat, and that the venue should not be changed, and the case being a felonious homicide and the evidence of the former trial having been published within the county and the necessary charges being exacted without obtaining a jury from the regular panel, in his opinion there would be a change of venue, and by changing the venue no great expense would be saved the county, as the costs accruing from a change of venue shall be paid by the county, which the office was committed. The court will render its opinion in the matter on Wednesday next.

REFORM WILL COME. The Western Union People Wakened Up. The article which appeared in the INTELLIGENCER of Saturday evening last, pointing out the necessity of improved telegraphic facilities in Lancaster, has occasioned considerable comment and it is generally admitted that the strictures therein contained are amply justified by the accommodations, or the lack of them rather, that have for so long been the complaint of persons in Lancaster. One gentleman who was so pleased with the INTELLIGENCER's expression on the subject that he sent a copy of the paper to the New York office of the company, together with a letter enforcing all that was said therein, only more so.
