THE STRUCTURE NEARLY COMPLETED

Manager Scranton Says Rais Can Be Made for 840 a Ton With Profit-A Magnificent Steel Mill.

The depression in the steel industry has not retarded work on the Scranton steel mill, now approaching completion. It will be the second steel mill situated there, that of the Lackawanna iron and coal company being one of the first in the country. The moving spirit in this new enterprise is its president, Mr. W. W. Scranton, who was for many years general manager of the Lackawanna iron and coal company's works. The Scraeton steel mill will be one of the best equipped and most complete es-tablishments of its kind, and its perfect machinery is an epitome of all the im-provements thus far devised for the manufacture of steel rails in this country or in Europe. Before starting out to build the works, Mr. Scranton and his engineer, Mr Wehrum, spent many months in England, Germany, Belgium, and elsewhere visiting the principal Bessemer steel mills and availing themselves of the very latest and best devices. The new establishment is, therefore, modeled after the best of the best. It is situated on the outskirts of the city, on the left bank of the Lackawanna In connection with our Storm river, between the Del-ware, Lackawanna and Western railroad of New Jersey, and Coat, mentioned last week, we a branch of the Eric, and its headquarters have large commodious Ulsters, will be in New York city A correspondadapted to car conductors and eut of the N. Y. Times waited on the president of the company, Mr. W. W. Scranton, at his office and asked whether, in drivers, who, of all persons emview of the recent steel flarry, he proposed pressing the work on his mill to a speady completion. "We shall complete and ployed out of doors, need warm heavy wraps to protect them equip our works as speedily as possible,' he replied, "and we expect to have them in running order shortly. Owing to the great business pressure which has crowded the manufacturing establishments with orders, we have been delayed somewhat in our machinery, but this was inevitable. We shall soon be ready for work."

"You don't propose to start up when other mills are shutting down?" "If we have no greater excuse for idleness than they give we certainly shall. I understand that most of those that threaten to suspend attribute it to the fact that they cannot make steel for $40 a ton. That will not hinder us from going ahead." "Can steel rails be made at $40 ?"

"Yes. We can make them at that price and coal company, and such as may be situated in the neighborhood of anthracite culm piles. It is not generally understood throughout the country that there are be utilized for manufacturing purposes. The day will come when culm will begenerally appreciated. "Because I found it generally used by the English mills, which were driven into economy in the battle for existence. Before laying the plans for our mills I visited England and the Continent and studied their works. It is the system upon which the largest rail mill in the world is ope rated, namely that of Bolokow, Vaughan & Co., at Eston, England, where they make 5,000 tons of rails a week. The same system is also employed at Wilson, Campbell & Co,'s works near Sheffield at the steel works of Scotland, near Glasgow; at Moss Bay, on the west coast of England, and at the magnificent mill of the London and Northwestern railroad company in Crewe, besides several other establishments on the other side. In addition to making the rail at a single heat we roll a four length rail 150 feet long, afterward cutting it into the proper lengths, and saving 10 per cent. in 'crops' music publisher, has in press a Te Deum written and composed by Mrs. W. S. Hancock, wife of Major-Gen. Hancock, and dedicated to St. Cornelius' chapel on Governor's island. Mrs. Hancock has for several years been the organist of that church. She has composed a number of

of her works. although Mrs. Hancock denies any espe-cial fondness for Wagner's music, and l can truthfully say of it that it is a finished and noble work. It is written in C, and opens with a chorus, which is followed by a soprano solo, 'The glorious company of the apostles praise Thee,' and that by a tenor solo, 'The goodly tellowship of the prophets,' and by a contralto solo, 'The noble army of martyrs.' Between these solos the chorus comes in with strong and fine effect upon the words 'Praise Thee.' The succeeding numbers are a bass solo, 'The holy Church throughout all the world;' a trio, 'The Holy Ghost, the comforter;' a so-prano solo. 'Thou art the King of Glory;' a contralto solo. 'When Thou tookest upon Thee,' which is one of the most beautiful parts of the work; a grand chorus. 'Thou sittest at the right hand of God;' a duet for contralto and tenor. We believe that Thou shalt come;' a duet for soprano and bass. 'We therefore pray Thee, help Thy servants; an impressive bass solo. 'Make Thou to be numbered with Thy saints in glory everlasting;' a novel number of the four paris in unison, with harmonized organ accompaniment. 'Oh! Lord, save Thy people and bless Thine heritage;' an audante movement that develops into an allegro chorus. 'Day by day we magnify Thee : a contralto solo, lurghetto. 'Vouchsafe, Oh Lord, to keep up this day without sin;' a soprano solo. 'Oh, Lord, have mercy upon us,' and the whole ends with a rich chorus, 'Oh! Lord let Thy mercy be

Silk novelties innumerable and indescribable. Everything that ladies or dressmakers have occasion for in matching, decorating, combining. What we are remarkable for, more than for anything else in silks, is variety; or, at least, we are reputed so. You hear it said by everybody: "If you want to match anything, or find a rare silk, even an unexpectable one, go to Wanamaker's."

The other peculiarity that everybody expects to find here is less pleasant to speak of: lower prices. We put it second, because there are people who don't credit us with lower prices. Still, we imagine that if one should assert the contrary, almost everybody in Philadelphia would believe it. Oftener we speak of other aspects of our trade; aspects less obvious or less recognized. It is well occasionally to give old news.
