

Lancaster Intelligencer.

TUESDAY EVENING, DEC. 26, 1882.

Address of Domestic Wrongs.

Two gentlemen of social and political prominence in this state have had a difficulty, in which one shot and killed the other. The facts are not yet sufficiently developed to determine whether the killing was justifiable or otherwise in the law; nor are they sufficiently known to show which party was in the wrong in the judgment of their fellows.

The Philadelphia Record, which started out "agin Mr. Cassidy's appointment as attorney general, is now "fur'im". An inmate of the Philadelphia almshouse, wandering around town yesterday in search of a square meal, was fed on turkey and choked to death.

PRESIDENTIAL predictions for 1884 centre in the Republican circle about Gen. Sherman, Gen. Sheridan, Senator Harrison, Senator Hawley and Robert T. Lincoln, with a good deal to be said for Senators Allison and Windom.

A CONVENTION of the tobacco growers of Connecticut and adjoining states will meet in Hartford to-day. The tariff on Sumatra tobacco, and possibly the internal revenue tax on tobacco will be discussed.

Even Mosby repudiates him and writes from Honor Kong to a friend in Virginia: "I regard Mahone as the most vindictive, unscrupulous and meanest tyrant that ever figured in American politics." It is said that Colonel Mosby will return to America to take the stump against Mahone next year.

THE BOSLER WAGONER senatorial contest in Cumberland county has taken a strange turn in the application of Bosler's counsel to have some other judge than Herman sit in the case because he is Bosler's cousin. Such a motion might naturally have been expected from the other side, but Wagner's friends are satisfied because of Herman's reputation as a fair man.

It is a most shocking and mysterious tragedy that has stained the Christmas celebration in one of the smaller towns of Pennsylvania, the report of which will re-echo to every corner of the state. That the cashier of the state treasury should be shot down on a quiet Sunday morning, by a member-elect of the Legislature, in a community where both men were on terms of social intimacy and were alike highly respected, seems almost incredible.

PERSONAL. DONALD A. SMITH has been chosen a director of the Canada Pacific railroad, to the benefited family was still further affliction, while the guilty man may not be made to suffer after all. But it is not good advice in the interest of justice; the aggrieved parent ought not to be made the judge and executioner of his wrong.

There is no foundation for the suggestion that Grant ought to be put on the roll of retired officers of the army, because "it is not altogether a pleasant thought that the man who came out of his war conquests above all others for his military skill, for his services and renown, should be left in the afternoon and evening of his life unrecognized on the rolls of the army he did so much to immortalize."

WHILE the local Christmas celebration was quiet and uneventful, mellowed down somewhat by the religious aspects of the day before and pervaded generally by that regard for the home and family celebration, which is characteristic of the occasion, abroad it seems to have been a season of crime and calamity.

A BLOODY BUDGET.

CHRISTMAS CHIMES AND CALAMITIES. A blood-stained holiday, one marked with fatalities—accidents and suicides—Some Gory Pages of Current History.

Councilman Louis Meyers was stabbed and perhaps fatally wounded by William Kuntz, at a ball, in Scranton.—Thomas Lamb was shot and killed by James Chumbley, in a drunken quarrel, in Cincinnati. Chumbley gave himself up.—Two brothers, named Boone, grandsons of the famous Daniel Boone, of Kentucky, were shot and mortally wounded by William Vaughan, in a trifling quarrel at Ladonia, Texas.—At Le Salle, Illinois, a notorious rough named "Patsy" Dannelly entered a saloon, and fired three times into a crowd of men at the bar. One of the shots struck Michael McDermott, causing a fatal wound. Donnelly then stepped and fired at Policeman Patrick Scott, but missed his aim.

Two young men named Tillery and Prentiss left Bremont, Texas, intoxicated. Two miles from town they alighted from their horses to get a drink and became involved in an altercation. Tillery seized a shot of powder and fired at Prentiss, who instantly—Henry Daniels was fatally stabbed by Bert Elam in a drunken brawl at Dallas, Texas. The murderer escaped.—The body of Mrs. William Barrett was found lying in a field three miles from some near Saratoga, A. D. Barrett was found by her. It is suspected that she was murdered.—In Chicago there is a general complaint of snagging and robbery in the streets at night. The lumbermen's exchange, aroused by the fact that one of their members had been robbed of five hundred dollars, offered a reward of five hundred dollars for the perpetrator of the crime.—Samuel and William Hamilton, brothers, were attacked by a gang of colored men in Harrisburg, and dangerously stabbed.

Dr. F. B. Ayres, an elderly inmate of the infirmary house at Fort Hamilton, New York, committed suicide by cutting his throat with a razor. He had recently been cured of the opium habit, but a victim of hypochondria.—Edmund Rush, cut his throat and then hanged himself in the Eastern Hotel, the Brooklyn, New York. No cause is assigned for the deed. William H. Clark, of New Haven, Connecticut, committed suicide by shooting himself with a pistol on the steamship Knickerbocker, below New Orleans. Manuel Williams, a colored man, was shot and killed near Birmingham, New York. It is believed he was insane.—Henry Johnson and Hugh Mathias, both colored, quarrelled in Atlanta, yesterday morning, and the latter was shot dead by the former.

PERSONAL. DONALD A. SMITH has been chosen a director of the Canada Pacific railroad, to the benefited family was still further affliction, while the guilty man may not be made to suffer after all. But it is not good advice in the interest of justice; the aggrieved parent ought not to be made the judge and executioner of his wrong.

There is no foundation for the suggestion that Grant ought to be put on the roll of retired officers of the army, because "it is not altogether a pleasant thought that the man who came out of his war conquests above all others for his military skill, for his services and renown, should be left in the afternoon and evening of his life unrecognized on the rolls of the army he did so much to immortalize."

WHILE the local Christmas celebration was quiet and uneventful, mellowed down somewhat by the religious aspects of the day before and pervaded generally by that regard for the home and family celebration, which is characteristic of the occasion, abroad it seems to have been a season of crime and calamity.

PERSONAL. DONALD A. SMITH has been chosen a director of the Canada Pacific railroad, to the benefited family was still further affliction, while the guilty man may not be made to suffer after all. But it is not good advice in the interest of justice; the aggrieved parent ought not to be made the judge and executioner of his wrong.

WHILE the local Christmas celebration was quiet and uneventful, mellowed down somewhat by the religious aspects of the day before and pervaded generally by that regard for the home and family celebration, which is characteristic of the occasion, abroad it seems to have been a season of crime and calamity.

CHRISTMAS TIDE.

THE LOCAL CELEBRATION OF IT. Prayer and Fests in the Churches.—Feasting and Merry Making in the Streets.—Order and Straws on the Street.

The two days devoted specially to the religious and domestic celebration of Christmas have come and gone. As early as Saturday night the fun began in the city with a band of merry maskers parading the streets and the secular observance of Christmas eve took place that night. On Sunday the churches generally had services which bore reference to the season, and these were continued yesterday and today.

A west-bound express train on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad was run into near Millboro station, Va., soon after midnight on Sunday by a freight train which was running passenger time. Both engines and the passenger and combination cars were wrecked. Five men were killed. Charles E. Leach, engineer; John W. Alport, baggage master; L. L. Loring and J. E. O'Neill, firemen, and George E. Netherland, brakeman. Two men, one of them a passenger, were slightly injured.

A Clever Woman's Case. At Bedford, Ind., Monday, the wife of the jailer, Owens, gave permission to Mrs. Bell to talk in the corridor with her husband, imprisoned on a charge of murder. Mrs. Owens being temporarily called to the jail, Mrs. Bell, who had the keys of the prison, which she found in an adjoining room. Mrs. Owens returned and tried to prevent Bell's escape, but was held by the latter's wife until he had got away.

MARRIAGE FOUR WIVES. A young man named Hazel, residing in Jackson township, Perry county, went turkey hunting on Tuesday last. Not coming home when expected search was made until Saturday, when he was found dead about three miles from home. His gun was found near his head, and it was believed that he had been shot in the back, the ball passing through the heart.

CHRISTMAS TIDE.

THE LOCAL CELEBRATION OF IT. Prayer and Fests in the Churches.—Feasting and Merry Making in the Streets.—Order and Straws on the Street.

The two days devoted specially to the religious and domestic celebration of Christmas have come and gone. As early as Saturday night the fun began in the city with a band of merry maskers parading the streets and the secular observance of Christmas eve took place that night. On Sunday the churches generally had services which bore reference to the season, and these were continued yesterday and today.

A west-bound express train on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad was run into near Millboro station, Va., soon after midnight on Sunday by a freight train which was running passenger time. Both engines and the passenger and combination cars were wrecked. Five men were killed. Charles E. Leach, engineer; John W. Alport, baggage master; L. L. Loring and J. E. O'Neill, firemen, and George E. Netherland, brakeman. Two men, one of them a passenger, were slightly injured.

A Clever Woman's Case. At Bedford, Ind., Monday, the wife of the jailer, Owens, gave permission to Mrs. Bell to talk in the corridor with her husband, imprisoned on a charge of murder. Mrs. Owens being temporarily called to the jail, Mrs. Bell, who had the keys of the prison, which she found in an adjoining room. Mrs. Owens returned and tried to prevent Bell's escape, but was held by the latter's wife until he had got away.

MARRIAGE FOUR WIVES. A young man named Hazel, residing in Jackson township, Perry county, went turkey hunting on Tuesday last. Not coming home when expected search was made until Saturday, when he was found dead about three miles from home. His gun was found near his head, and it was believed that he had been shot in the back, the ball passing through the heart.

CHRISTMAS TIDE.

THE LOCAL CELEBRATION OF IT. Prayer and Fests in the Churches.—Feasting and Merry Making in the Streets.—Order and Straws on the Street.

The two days devoted specially to the religious and domestic celebration of Christmas have come and gone. As early as Saturday night the fun began in the city with a band of merry maskers parading the streets and the secular observance of Christmas eve took place that night. On Sunday the churches generally had services which bore reference to the season, and these were continued yesterday and today.

A west-bound express train on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad was run into near Millboro station, Va., soon after midnight on Sunday by a freight train which was running passenger time. Both engines and the passenger and combination cars were wrecked. Five men were killed. Charles E. Leach, engineer; John W. Alport, baggage master; L. L. Loring and J. E. O'Neill, firemen, and George E. Netherland, brakeman. Two men, one of them a passenger, were slightly injured.

A Clever Woman's Case. At Bedford, Ind., Monday, the wife of the jailer, Owens, gave permission to Mrs. Bell to talk in the corridor with her husband, imprisoned on a charge of murder. Mrs. Owens being temporarily called to the jail, Mrs. Bell, who had the keys of the prison, which she found in an adjoining room. Mrs. Owens returned and tried to prevent Bell's escape, but was held by the latter's wife until he had got away.

MARRIAGE FOUR WIVES. A young man named Hazel, residing in Jackson township, Perry county, went turkey hunting on Tuesday last. Not coming home when expected search was made until Saturday, when he was found dead about three miles from home. His gun was found near his head, and it was believed that he had been shot in the back, the ball passing through the heart.

CHRISTMAS TIDE.

THE LOCAL CELEBRATION OF IT. Prayer and Fests in the Churches.—Feasting and Merry Making in the Streets.—Order and Straws on the Street.

The two days devoted specially to the religious and domestic celebration of Christmas have come and gone. As early as Saturday night the fun began in the city with a band of merry maskers parading the streets and the secular observance of Christmas eve took place that night. On Sunday the churches generally had services which bore reference to the season, and these were continued yesterday and today.

A west-bound express train on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad was run into near Millboro station, Va., soon after midnight on Sunday by a freight train which was running passenger time. Both engines and the passenger and combination cars were wrecked. Five men were killed. Charles E. Leach, engineer; John W. Alport, baggage master; L. L. Loring and J. E. O'Neill, firemen, and George E. Netherland, brakeman. Two men, one of them a passenger, were slightly injured.

A Clever Woman's Case. At Bedford, Ind., Monday, the wife of the jailer, Owens, gave permission to Mrs. Bell to talk in the corridor with her husband, imprisoned on a charge of murder. Mrs. Owens being temporarily called to the jail, Mrs. Bell, who had the keys of the prison, which she found in an adjoining room. Mrs. Owens returned and tried to prevent Bell's escape, but was held by the latter's wife until he had got away.

MARRIAGE FOUR WIVES. A young man named Hazel, residing in Jackson township, Perry county, went turkey hunting on Tuesday last. Not coming home when expected search was made until Saturday, when he was found dead about three miles from home. His gun was found near his head, and it was believed that he had been shot in the back, the ball passing through the heart.

CHRISTMAS TIDE.

THE LOCAL CELEBRATION OF IT. Prayer and Fests in the Churches.—Feasting and Merry Making in the Streets.—Order and Straws on the Street.

The two days devoted specially to the religious and domestic celebration of Christmas have come and gone. As early as Saturday night the fun began in the city with a band of merry maskers parading the streets and the secular observance of Christmas eve took place that night. On Sunday the churches generally had services which bore reference to the season, and these were continued yesterday and today.

A west-bound express train on the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad was run into near Millboro station, Va., soon after midnight on Sunday by a freight train which was running passenger time. Both engines and the passenger and combination cars were wrecked. Five men were killed. Charles E. Leach, engineer; John W. Alport, baggage master; L. L. Loring and J. E. O'Neill, firemen, and George E. Netherland, brakeman. Two men, one of them a passenger, were slightly injured.

A Clever Woman's Case. At Bedford, Ind., Monday, the wife of the jailer, Owens, gave permission to Mrs. Bell to talk in the corridor with her husband, imprisoned on a charge of murder. Mrs. Owens being temporarily called to the jail, Mrs. Bell, who had the keys of the prison, which she found in an adjoining room. Mrs. Owens returned and tried to prevent Bell's escape, but was held by the latter's wife until he had got away.

MARRIAGE FOUR WIVES. A young man named Hazel, residing in Jackson township, Perry county, went turkey hunting on Tuesday last. Not coming home when expected search was made until Saturday, when he was found dead about three miles from home. His gun was found near his head, and it was believed that he had been shot in the back, the ball passing through the heart.