GAMBETTA'S CAREER. AN ILIAD OF DRAMATIC INCIDENTS The Dictator of France-A Leader in War Times, Sharing in All the Political Struggles of the Republic. M. Gambetta's career was an Iliad of strange and dramatic incidents. Of humble origin, by his talents alone he rose to be one of the foremost men of France. Had he survived he would probably have been ejected president of the Republic. By a great and powerful party of his countrymen he was looked upon as a demi god, and as the only hope of the Third Repub-lic. Strong, passionate and progressive, he inspired admiration and hatred, and few men even had so large a share of cordial friends or so formidable a party of bitter enemies. The late M. Dufuare, one of his admirers but a keen observer withal, once said of him : "I know of no man to whom the destinics of a great country might be more safely confided. He will be a Richelieu without cruelty and a Col-bert without vanity." His foes on the contrary declared that he possessed neither the instruction, the temperament nor the intellectual qualities requisite for a statesman. But though they denied his states manship they never questioned his courage. The undoubted facts of his life prove him a man of rare adroitness and remarkable ability, and from these facts it is not difficult to form a just and accurate estimate of the place he will occupy in the history of his country. Leon Michel Gambetta was born at Cahors on the 2d of April, 1838. His family was of Italian extraction (coming originally from the neighborhood of Genea), and his parents kept a shop known as the "Genoese Bazaar," where odds and ends or everything were sold. The Gambetta family, imbucd with all the superstitious religious fervor for which the lower classes of French and Italians are celebrated, decided that their son should not be brought up to a commercial life, but educated for the priesthood. So young Leon Gambetta returned at a late hour that evening. His was sent to the parish school to learn his cold bath has not effected him, although letters and prepare to enter the seminary he was scantily clad. of Montauban.

Before, however, this important epoch in his life was reached the child met with an accident which was destined to entirely modify his character and temperament and to exert the greatest influence over the whole tener of his life. One day, when only eight years old, while locking at a cutler boring holes in the handle of a knife with a drill fastened to an old broken foil by a piece of catgut this rude machine gave way by reason of too great tension, and the broken foil struck the right eye of the child with great force, perforating the cornea. These are the real facts of the case ; and the tale told about young Gambetta putting out his right eye voluntarily with a penknife in order to be removed from the seminary which he abborred is

The first step to fortune of a pecuniary character was the founding of that power-ful and ably conducted journal the Republique Francaise by M. Gambetta assisted by a few intimates. It proved a great success financially and politically through the hard work of its projector, who in spite of weather and distance, was to be found night after night, always at his post. As founder of this journal, M. Gambetta was in the receipt of half its profits, and the income which he thus derived may be estimated at $10,000 a year. No Whisky! His personal appearance has been thus described : He is very erect, carries his head in a dignified and firm manner, has a large but well shaped mouth, beautiful hands, grayish hair and the left eye bright and full of fire. All his facial character istics betoken a man of the South. He is of medium height, has a large trunk, broad chest, and moves clumsily. He tends to obeseness, but strives energetically to check this tendency by exercise. He frequently walked from Paris to Versailles in company with a friend, and last summer he was hunting in the environs of Malmaison while the l'aris newspapers had him in London.

Praying in the Icy Schnylkill.

A sensation was created along the river front at Reading Monday morning by the discovery of a man kneeling down in the Schuylkill river earnestly engaged at prayer. The water was about two feet deep and was not frozen. It required considerable effort to bring him to shore and he proved to be Richard Richards, a respectable middle-aged carpenter, residing in the city. He has recently become deranged on the subject of religion and he says he was commanded to do as he did by the Lord. Subsequently he disappeared and was discovered kneeling on the railroad and fervently praying. He then ran towards the river again and fears were entertained for his safety until he

T. T. Spence, Millersville, Pa., says: "After three years experience with Brown's Iron Bitters I take pleasure in recommending it."

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is one of the very few tonic medicines that are not composed mostly of alcohol or whisky, thus becoming a fruitful source of intemperance by promoting a desire for rum.

MEDICAL.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS is guaran. teed to be a non-intoxicating stimulant, and it will, in nearly every case, take the place of all liquor, and at the same time absolutely kill the desire for whisky and other intoxicating beverages.

Rev. G. W. RICE, editor of the American Christian Review, says of Brown's Iron Bitters :

Cin., O., Nov. 16, 1881. Gents :- The toolish wasting of vital force in business, pleasure, and victous incluigence of our people, makes your preparation a necessity; and if applied, will save hundreds who resort to saloons for temporary recuperation.

BROWN'S IRON BITTERS has been thoroughly tested for dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, weakness, debility, overwork, rheumatism, neuralgia, consumption, liver complaints, kidney troubles, &c., and it never fails to render speedy and permanent relief.

that ladies or dressmakers have occasion for in matching, decorating, combining. What we are remarkable for, more than for anything else in silks, is variety; or, at least, we are reputed so. You hear it said by everybody: "If you want to match anything, or find a rare silk, even an unexpectable one. go to Wanamaker's."

The other peculiarity that everybody expects to find here is less pleasant to speak of; lower prices. We put it second, because there are people who don't credit us with lower prices. Still, we imagine that if one should assert the contrary, almost everybody in Philadelphia would believe it.

Oftener we speak of other aspects of our trade; aspects less obvious or less recognized. It is well occasionally to give old news.

Warm skirts for ladies, and leggings for ladies, girls and little girls. The warm skirts are satin, satin-and-cloth, satin-andfelt, satin-and-Italian-cloth, and Italian, all quilted; cloth, flannel and felt prettily trimmed, not quilted, warm enough without. The leggings are all sorts; one very useful and fairly pretty sort, woven, at two-thirds value, 25 to 65 cents.
