THURSDAY EVENING, JAN. 11, 1883.

The Milwaukee Fire.

The terrible loss of life at the burning of the Milwaukee hotel, will excite a great deal of comment, wise and otherwise, on the part of a public horrified at a scene of such a terrible death.

The demand is likely to be lively for the execution of the law relating to fire escapes from public buildings. That law, being a law of course to be enforced, though it is doubtful whether it is one altogether wise. It is a dead letter now, and laws which are dead letters, generally have something wrong about them.

The Pennsylvania statute requires buildings of three stories in height and over, except private dwellings that are not tenement houses, to be provided with fire escapes. But it is in comparative few buildings that such an appliance would be really useful.

Under the new rules of the Republican party in this state the time for its next state convention is already fixed on Wednesday, July 11. The new Democratic rules allow the state committee, which will meet next Monday in Harrisburg, to then fix the time of the state convention or to postpone its consideration.

It is given out that John C. Shumaker, of Pittsburgh, one of the secretaries of the Independent Republican state committee, has been appointed deputy secretary of the commonwealth by Governor Pattison. This is not likely. Mr. Steger will most probably appoint his own deputy and he will likely be a Jeffersonian Democrat who remembers what state ticket he voted in 1882.

The House at Harrisburg has resolved to inquire whether the Record cannot be abridged and made readable and fresh. The committee on this subject will file a report that the "Journal," which is printed at the close of every session records nearly all of the proceedings that is worth recording.

Our magnificent attorney general of the United States, who disburses his contingent fund as recklessly as an old-time chief clerk at Harrisburg, is exhibited by the report elsewhere printed as indulging his suspicious tastes at the public expense to a degree not tolerable in this era of strict official accountability.

The annual meeting of the State Editorial association will be held in Senate committee room, No. 6, capital building, Harrisburg, on Wednesday, January 17, (day after governor's inauguration), at 10 o'clock a. m.

Mr. PHILIP C. GARRET, chairman of the Committee of One Hundred of Philadelphia, was appointed one of the state board of charities last May by Gov. Hoyt and his name was sent to the Senate for confirmation yesterday.

THE INTELLIGENCER has not made vain opposition to the employment of useless hangers-on in the legislative departments at Harrisburg. The House and Senate, alike forced to meet this issue, have shown a disposition not only to meet the law permitting them, but to postpone the filling of their places until the new law can be put upon passage.

The failure of Mr. Garret's confirmation will not materially hurt him, as the place is one of honor and responsibility, not of profit. And should he never be confirmed some one of equal fitness can be found. But the bitter antagonism manifested to him by the Starbuck has great political significance.

which has already secured the postmaster, and finally placed the woman on the opposite roof. The crowd below again burst out with round after round of applause. Meanwhile the whole building had become enveloped in flames and the piercing shrieks of the inmates became fewer and fewer as each one chose his own mode of death.

One of the saddest facts in connection with this awful catastrophe is the fate of Mrs. and Miss John Gilbert. Mrs. Gilbert was connected with Minnie Palmer's "My Sweetheart" company, playing the part of the Gaudier, while under studying to fill the roll of Tong. Just before leaving Chicago for Milwaukee last Monday Mr. Gilbert was carried to a young lady to whom he had been deeply attached for some time past.

THE HOTEL HORROR.

THE MILWAUKEE MANTRAP BURNED.

An Early Morning Fire Attended by Great Loss of Life—Fenderbox Structure—Consumed in a Trier.

Associated with the fire which resulted in the destruction of the Newhall house in Milwaukee, Wednesday morning, it seems that shortly before 4 o'clock three alarms of fire were sounded in rapid succession. One was from box 439, corner of Vliet and Eighteenth streets; another was a telephone alarm, and then followed the ominous signal from box 15, this time signaling that the Newhall house was on fire.
